H. R. Williams Injured When Truck Upsets

Large Woodlawn Dairy Truck Tips Over on Fernbrook Road, Pinning Driver Underneath

H. R. Williams of Fernbrook received severe injuries to the back and legs, necessitating his removal to Wilkes-Barre General Hospital Wednesday morning when the truck he was driving overturned at Fernbrook and pinned him beneath it.

Mr. Williams was driving a large Woodlawn Dairy truck loaded with bottled milk and was driving from Dallas down the long slope into Fernbrook. Ahead of him was a Chevrolet sedan being driven in the same direction. Apparently Mr. Williams expected the driver of the Chevrolet to turn left off the main road to the Hayfield Farms road. The driver of the Chevrolet, however, seeing the truck close behind him, feared to make the turn and kept on the main road.

The front wheels of the two cars locked, forcing the Chevrolet off the road. The truck tipped over, pinning Mr. Williams underneath. Help was immediately summoned and the wrecker from Oliver's Garage was rushed to the scene of the accident. By this time a large crowd had gathered and with the assistance of the wrecker tipped the truck back in place. Milk and broken milk bottles were scattered over the concrete road bed for a distance of fifty feet.

Dr. G. K. Swartz and Dr. Herman Schooley attended Mr. Williams. He was taken to the hospital immediately in Ralph Brickel's ambulance. The seriousness of his injuries have not yet been determined. Mr. Williams is the brother of Mrs. Ralph Rood of Dallas, and is well known throughout this section and Wyoming Valley.

WORDEN PLACE AT HARVEY'S LAKE PLANS A NEW BOROUGH

tion of a borough and secession from the township were discussed. No definite decision was arrived at, but sponsors of the movement plan to call another meeting within several days to consider the matter further.

The chief grievance of the lake front residents centres around the allegation that most of the road improvements authorized by Lake township officials benefit other sections of the community than the lake district which pays practically 90 per cent of the total assessed valuation of the township.

New Athletic Field Being Put In Shape

Sports Lovers Cooperating To Make New Baseball Park a Success—All Local Teams To Play There

A score or more of men and boys interested in baseball and other athletic activities have been busy this week grading and filling in the new baseball park on Machell avenue. A road scraper was used to level off the diamond and the outfield and infield have been rolled.

The field fills a long-felt need in this community and the spirit with which members of all local baseball teams are cooperating to make it a success deserves the commendation of all local sports lovers.

The Dallas team of the Rural League is now playing all of its home games there. And a second newly organized team is playing there on Sundays.

Last week the new Dallas team was defeated there by the Wilkes-Barre Republics by the score of 8 to 3 after Peyton Lee had made twelve strikeouts in the first four innings and a total of fifteen strike-outs in the entire game. Only a small crowd was present to witness the game. This week the team will play the fast Maltby A. C.

Free Booklet On Motor Laws

Keystone Club Announces It Will Honor All Requests, Regardless of Membership

Facts Motorists Should Know, a pamphlet designed to give in non-technical language all the information motorists need for proper observance of the driving rules in Pennsylvania for 1929 and 1930; is ready for distribution by Keystone Automobile Club, Philadelphia.

In announcing that all requests for the pamphlet will be honored, regardless of club membership, Harrison C. Kildare, counsel in charge of the legal department, said the object of the booklet is to assist in accident prevention.

"We find," said Mr. Killare, "that a large percentage of accidents is due to unfamiliarity with driving rules. Many motorists are inclined to assume that because they are competent so far as mechanical operation is concerned they need know little about the laws that govern traffic. Consequently there are numerous intersection crashes that are entirely avoidable."

"The law governing right and left turns is highly important, and every car owner owes it to himself to become thoroughly familiar with the proper methods of making the turns. The pamphlet contains diagrams showing both the correct and the incorrect methods, and also gives every rule of the road to be followed under all conditions."

James Barnum Buried From Idetown Home

Well Known Musician and Choir Leader Passes Away at Homeopathic Hospital On Monday

James Barnum, member of one of Wyoming Valley's pioneer families, died Monday afternoon at the Homeopathic Hospital in Wilkes-Barre. Mr. Barnum's father was an associate judge of Luzerne County, and the family lived in Wilkes-Barre when the city was only a fair-sized town with a covered bridge and a one-room school.

Mr. Barnum spent his entire life in the study and teaching of music. He played in the first bands and orchestras the city boasted and in some of the large churches.

The Barnum family owned extensive properties around Harvey's Lake. After taking up their residence there, Mr. Barnum organized many orchestras and choirs in the rural communities nearby.

About twenty-five years ago Mr. Barnum built himself a beautiful home at Idetown, near the Caleb Ide property. There he lived, teaching and practicing until of late years when failing health made it impossible for him to care for himself. Recently he has spent the winters at the home of a newpew in Ohio, coming back in the summer. He was a familiar figure in the homes of his many friends in the vicinity and was always welcomed and cared for with every kindness and consideration.

Mr. Barnum was a man of large stature; he possessed a boyish sense of humor, a kind smile, a crown of flowing white hair the long, sensitive, restless hands of an artist.

In his younger days he played several instruments but poor health made it necessary to give up all practice except the piano. He worked faithfully at his music as long as his strength held and retained until the end the "singing touch" which made his playing truly beautiful.

The funeral was held at the Idetown church on Thursday afternoon. Interment was in the Forty Fort Cemetery. At his request the men of the choir acted as pall bearers and the women as flower carriers.

The church council will meet Tuesday evening at the church.

West Wyoming Strengthens Hold On First Place—Dallas and Beaufort Tie For Second While East Dallas and Roaring Brook Claim Cellar Position

Dallas took its second trimming of the season from the West Wyoming club last Saturday by a 4 to 0 score. Culver was on the mound for the locals and pitched a masterful game of ball, allowing but six scattered hits and making eight batters fan the breeze. But several costly errors on the part of his teammates account for the defeat. Hitting has been another handicap to the Dallas boys, as there are but two on the club hitting in the .300 class and several times were the bases occupied Saturday only to be stranded there from the inability of some one to put over a hit. Last season the boys had little trouble getting started to hit and came through with a good average for the season. If the boys can hit their last season stride it would be a big help to Culver, who has to pitch airtight ball to keep a small score.

Beaufort-Roaring Brook

Beaufort won over Roaring Brook by a 7 to 4 score but they received a good break from Oscar Whitesell, who had but one pitcher for duty and he went good until the sixth frame when Beaufort came through with a batting rally to win the game and go into a tie for second place with the Dallas club.

Hunlocks-East Dallas

After losing the last six starts the Hunlock boys got together and played in their early season form to down the East Dallas nine by a 5 to 2 score. The game was well played and set the lower-enders back to sixth place in the league standing.
