RETURN FROM MOTOR TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Makinson of Forty Fort, S. D. Durland of Wyoming, Mrs. J. S. Kunkle, Miss Margaret Kunkle, Mrs. Olin Kunkle and Mrs. F. P. Kunkle enjoyed a delightful motor trip to Thousand Islands on Friday last, the return trip being made on Saturday and Sunday by way of the Adirondack Mountains, Tupper Lake, Lake George, Saratoga Springs, Schenectady, Oneonta and Binghamton. About one hundred miles of the trip was through State forest land and the Whitney Park game preserve, also all forest lands. The trip was a most enjoyable one with good roads and fine weather all the way with the exception of two heavy thunder showers on Friday. New York State, like Pennsylvania, is very much in need of rain.

King, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne King, Mr. and Mrs. George Wesley, Ruth King, Mary Driscoll, Florence Weintz, Clara Deets, Marlon Weintz, Dorothy Karschner, Hilda Winter, Virginia Kinsg, Stephen Moss, Charles Williams, Fred Winter, William Miller, Tom Nagle, Harry Fox, Donald Sebolt.

Mr. and Mrs. George Weintz called on friends at Sweet Valley Sunday evening.

Mrs. Edna Karschner is spending the week with friends in Pittston.

UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT

Bridge parties are good entertainment, athletic contests are exciting pastime and music and dancing have long provided amusement for groups who gathered together for social intercourse and inspiration, but Mrs. Aljah Baird of Idetown introduced an entirely new and certainly a most fascinating entertainmet at her home last week when she invited a number of her friends to witness the opening of the flowers of a very rare plant in this section, the night blooming cereus. Months, of course, had gone into the preparation of the guests' entertainment, and they were all thoroughly interested in the plant which furnished the center of attraction.

It is an outdoor plant, having a flower very large and white. In the center is an arrangement which closely resembles a manger and over it is suspended a large star. This particular plant had fifteen buds waiting to open when the night grew late enough. At 9:30 eleven of the buds slowly unfolded. They have a very sweet perfume in addition to the beauty and significance of the flower.
