TRICKERY CONTINUES

Pastmaster at the art of political trickery, henchmen of the Judge Fine-Arthur Nicholson political gang this week attempted to break into the strong Sixth district organization of G. Harold Wagner by calling up Wagner workers and telling them a compromise had been reached between Wagner and Fine-Nicholson and that it was no longer necessary to work for Wagner. Arms of the compromise were, they said, that Wagner was to withdraw in favor of Bonin. In return the Fine-Nicholson gang would withdraw Aston in favor of Morga. Nothing could have been further from the truth or lower in the depths of dirty politics to which the Fine-Nicholson outfit is wont to stoop.

The strength of Wagner is undisputed throughout Luzerne County. So favorable has been the trend to Wagner in the past few weeks that Bonin supporters are seriously put and making effort through whatever means at hand to weaken his organization. Headquarters of Fine-Nicholson have made determined efforts to break into the Sixth district but have been unsuccessful. All Fine-Nicholson workers in the district have been called into headquarters on numerous occasions and have been asked to do everything possible to weaken Wagner's lead, but on every occasion they have reported the district solid for Wagner.

The support of Union Labor and of the Water Consumers have given Wagner much added strength. Another example of political trickery and deception are the now famous posters being distributed by Fine-Nicholson and the advertising of one Ray Davis, who claims to be seeking the Prothonotaryship. The posters are headed with the name of Judge Valentine and then follows the names of men on the Fine-Nicholson ticket. "Blow is the captio: "Men Who Inspire Confidence." It will take more than the name of Judge Valentine, who is everybody's choice of a member of no faction, to put the Fine-Nicholson ticket across. But trickery is a part of the Fine-Nicholson organization. An assistant district attorney and a judge who would stoop so low as to attempt to keep dummy candidates on the ballot, could not help but inspire trickery and deception in the hirelings of their organization.

GUIDEPOSTS TO Health and Happiness

By Bernarr Macfadden

THE PROPER WAY TO "SUN-TAN"

Most fads are foolish, vain and short lived. This summer, however, we have with us a fad that I hope has come to stay. I refer to "sun-tan"—but not the drug store variety.

There are on the market creams and lotions which guarantee to give the wearer a beautiful coat of tan without coming in contact with the sun. There are beauty parlors who specialize in the sun-tan treatment by means of artificial light. In the rush of modern life I suppose these substitutes are inevitable; not everyone has the leisure time to bask on the beach. And yet—a genuine sun bath, if taken only once a week, is by far the most healthful and satisfactory method of acquiring that bronzed look.

It goes without saying that the sun-tan creams and lotions are utterly useless, as far as any beneficial properties are concerned. The sun lamp, on the other hand, really has health value and is indispensable in the treatment of certain disorders. But even that is only a substitute for the sun.

Get your sun-tan first hand! Besides beautifying your appearance and keeping you up with the latest fashion, it will also improve your general physical condition and give you the sparkle and vigor that makes even the homely person attractive.

But sun-tan also has its attending dangers. I have heard of several over-enthusiastic young people this summer who have become dagnereously ill through excessive sunburn. There is not much difference between a severe sunburn and a severe steam burn. People have died from both.

Lying for hours at a time in the sun is as bad as no sun at all. Moreover, it is not the way to acquire an even, pretty coat of tan, for with excessive sunburn the skin peels and the tender, flaming underskin is exposed to the sun causes this skin to blister and peel again. This can go on indefinitely.

For beauty and health results take your sun baths gradually. Begin with only fifteen minutes exposure. Next time add fifteen minutes. Increase the time according to the texture and pigment of your skin. Thin skin naturally burns more quickly. Auburn or sandy haired people sometimes find it impossible ever to acquire a coat of tan. They merely burn.

Contributors' Column

Dallas, Pa., Sept. 11, 1929.

Editor Dallas Post:

Since I am not a candidate for office I have no axe to grind in offering information to your readers, but as some one has said, the people have a right to know and I would, therefore, be pleased to take advantage of your courtesy again.

Since my previous letter circumstances have occurred which make the borough school situation appear more favorable than at the time I wrote. I will not use up your space to enumerate several items in which we have been able to effect a reduction in our expenditures, or other items in which our receipts will no doubt increase above the amounts previously estimated.

In general, I can say that our income since July 1 has been more than expected and if most of the 1929 taxes come in by October 1, as usual, I see no reason why we cannot wipe out all our temporary indebtedness by October 2.

Concerning our expenses for teachers' salaries and tuition, which is still the cause of much comment, I submit the following statement which is self-explanatory, comparing the present school year with last year.

	1928-29	1929-30
Full time teachers.....	8	10
Part time teachers.....	1	0
Teachers' payroll.....	$9,130	$12,460
State appropriation.....	4,700	6,190
Net salaries.....	4,430	6,270
Wilkes-Barre tuition.....	1,254	400
Total net salaries and tuition.....	5,734	6,670
H. S. tuition received.....	0	900
Net expense.....	5,734	5,770
Enrollment at Dallas, second week.....	245	282
Enrollment at Wilkes-

Barre, second week...	13	3
Total enrollment, second week.....	258	285
Per capita.....	22	20

The increase in enrollment is almost entirely in the high school group, grades on to six, inclusive now having only seven pupils more than last year at the same time.

The expense for heat and light will, no doubt, be somewhat increase. Some books and equipment which will last for several years will also increase the outlay for this one year.

Recently some question has arisen regarding alleged crowded conditions in some of the lower grade rooms where the enrollment ranges from 38 to 46 pupils. Actual measurement shows that these rooms, according to State standards, will accommodate 53 to 80 pupils, so that there is no crowding.

From the standpoint of efficiency, much can be said in favor of a smaller enrollment per room, but our own condition is much better than in some of the adjoining districts this year and in the recent past as a check will show. If the other directors will agree, I see nothing to prevent hiring an additional grade teacher and bringing the classes to less than forty next year. This will cost about $340 per year after the appropriate is deducted. It will be impossible to do this the present term as no room is available for the additional teacher without disrupting the whole organization and making a worse situation elsewhere in the system.

I thank you for the courtesy of using your columns.

Yours very truly,

D. A. WATERS.

Odd Things About Bed

Bed is a bundle of paradoxes; we go to it with reluctance, yet we quit it with regret; we make up our minds every night to leave it early, but we make up our bodies every morning to keep it late.—Colton.
