Dallas Borough Student Council Announces School Social Program For the Fall and Winter Session

First Event Staged Last Night When Athletic Association Benefit Dance Was Held in the High School Auditorium

The Student Council of Dallas borough high school met and made a tentative program of student activities for a period of three months. This program gives each grade an equal chance to give entertainments or parties or what you will. The program follows:

- When, What and Who
- September 27—Dance. Girls' and Boys' Athletic Association.
 - October 18—Play. Dramatic Club.
 - October 25—Wiener roast. Seventh and eighth grades.
 - October 30—Hallow'e'en party. Ninth, tenth and eleventh grades.
 - November 1—Party. Seventh grade.
 - November 15—Play—Tenth.
 - November 27—Dance. Girls' and Boys' Athletic Association.
 - December 20—Christmas party. Eighth grade.
 - December 23—Christmas party. Ninth grade.

New clubs and old in Dallas borough have also held election. Some have been hotly contested, but what could you expect in such a political atmosphere? However, it's all over now and we are all still good friends. Victorious candidates are as follows:

Senior High Dramatic Club—Jeanne Disque, president; Deborah Jeter, vice president; Ruth Hull, secretary-treasurer.

Ninth Year Nature Club—Harry Rook, president; Eleanor Machell, vice president; Anna Evans, secretary; Frances Major, treasurer.

Eighth Year Water Fowl Club—Samuel Brace, president; Jean Gebhardt, vice president; Eva Culp, secretary.

Seventh Year Nature Club—Burton Roberts, president; William Baker, vice president; Helen Himmeler, secretary-treasurer.

Girls' Athletic Association—Ruth Hull, president; Cloe Evans, vice president; Helen Zuleger, secretary; Jeanne Disque, treasurer.

Boys' Athletic Association—William Brickel, president; Kenneth Disque, vice president; Foster Sutton, secretary; Jack Mead, treasurer.

Choir Leaders—Ruth Hull, leader; Jeanne Disque, Cloe Evan, Eleanor Machell, assistants.

NAME NEEDED

In the issue of the Post for October 5 this page will have its own name. Students from the high schools are invited to enter suggestions before that time. The name which seems most significant to impartial judges chosen by the Post, will be used permanently and the name of the person whose suggestion is accepted will be announced at that time.

BEAUMONT TO HAVE FINE NEW BUILDING

On election day, September 17, the pupils of Monroe township schools paraded through Main street, Beaumont, to the polls. The urgent reasons for parading through the vicinity was that the school children were eager for a first class high school. In trying to persuade the voters the scholars sang melodious songs, such as "America," "Help It On" and "Rah! Rah!" They also gave yells.

The students succeeded in securing the bond issue of $10,000 for the new building of the expected first class high school. Many wishes of gratitude have been expressed by the students toward the voters, who wish to prepare their children for a purposeful life.

We hope that in the near future you will appreciate and realize how this new school has built up a progressive spirit in this vicinity.

SOCIAL

Lydia Smith, a graduate last year of Lehman high school, is enrolled this year at Bloomsburg State Teachers' College.

The Rev. Stang visited our high school in Trucksville on Wednesday morning and gave an interesting discussion on events that happened one hundred years ago this decade. Mr. Stang, when asked, admitted that he did not remember these events personally, but that he had read vivid accounts of them. Hence his familiarity with them.

The schools of the Upper West Side will no doubt be delighted to hear that the baseball team of Kingston township high school is again in training. Warren Taylor, the coach, says that he expects as much, if not more, from them as he obtained last year. At least one of the schools of the valley will remember our team from last year.

The Beaumont freshman reception was held on September 12. It was attended by about fifty students and friends. After the freshmen were soundly initiated by the upper classmen they were made to feel better by the refreshments served to them.

The senior high school class of Trucksville surprised their classmate, Robert ana, with a party in honor of his birthday. The class presented him with a fountain pen.

UNIFORMS!

They're the order of the day—from Laketon to Dallas, from Lehman to Beaumont, the whole school world is donning new uniforms. Football is a great game; you play to win, but win or lose, it fosters a spirit of team-ship, a spirit of cooperation—eleven fellows must sink individuality and work as one. So, greater Dallas schools must don "new uniforms" this fall, uniform of cooperation. Each school working its best as an individual must lose itself in winning for this Upper West Side, recognition in the Valley, where it should have had representation long ago. Football, track, scholarship or what not, the boys and girls of this section have ability and brains. "United we stand, divided we fall." Cooperation means recognition. Cooperation it shall be.

Graduates of Lake High Make Good in Colleges

Large Number From Class of 1929 Enter Institution of Higher Learning

The graduating class of Lake township high school of 1929 is making a very fine showing in different institutions of learning, considering the few that graduated with the class.

Josephine Grey, a member of the class, is pursuing a higher education in the Practical Bible Training School at Johnson City, N. Y.

Celestine Kocher, a member of the class, is taking an advanced business course at Coughlin high school.

Harry Allen, Jr., has entered Pennsylvania State College, where he will take a pre-medical course.

The members of the class of 1928 who pursued a higher education are: Myrtila Rood, will complete a course in primary grade work this term at Bloomsburg.

Genevieve Wolfe is also completing a course at Bloomsburg this term, her's being intermediate grade work.

Viola Kocher is continuing her course in training at the Homeopathic hospital.

Lillian Kocher is attending Wilkes-Barre Business College, where she will complete her course this term.

Esther Honeywell is attending Wilkes-Barre Business College and will complete her course this term.

Lillian York has entered Wyoming Seminary this term, where she is taking a business course.

Richard Kocher has entered Wilkes-Barre Business College, where he is taking a secretarial course.

Of the class of 1927, who pursued an advanced education, are the following:

Dorothy Anderson, who will complete her course in training at the General hospital next September.

Tris Kitchen, will complete the training course at General hospital next September.

Ethel Edwards, a graduate of this high school in 1927 and a graduate of Lock Haven Teachers' College of 1929, is teaching at Loyallville this term.

Three of the graduates of the class of 1926 are making headway also.

Adda Edwards, a graduate of this school and a graduate of Lock Haven Teachers' College of 1929, is teaching this term in our grade schools.

Clifford Booth is continuing his scientific course at Bucknell University.

Edgar Stem is continuing his course in electrical engineering at Lehigh University.

As a whole, the graduating classes of Lake townshipp high school are making a very fine showing in our colleges and institutions and we as a school wish them the best of good fortune and success.

Teacher Writes On Progressive Education Ideal

Enumerate Characteristics That Show How New Trend Can Be Accomplished

The progressive educational movement is fast becoming a part of all schools. We cannot say of any experimental schools in America or Europe. So here is the ideal way. But we can see trends and feel safe in moving in the direction of those trends in our own schools.

Following is an enumeration of characteristics that show the progressive trend, that can easily be adopted by all schools to a great advantage to pupils and teachers alike.

1. The school fits the children, not the children the school.
2. The major consideration is health—of body, mind and spirit.
3. Trust replaces fear as the basis of discipline.
4. The proper freedom of a well-conducted home prevails.
5. Pupil interest, not outside aversion, is the motive for effort.
6. Young people are encouraged to think and judge, not merely to learn.
7. Enthusiastic, varied, group activity replaces passive learning.
8. The teacher is a friendly guide, not a mere taskmaster.
9. Scientific, sympathetic study of individual differences is made.
10. The expression of the desire to make things.
11. The world comes into school and school goes into the world.
12. Mechanics and routine are secondary to natural procedure.
13. There is the fullest cooperation between school and home.

LEAGUE OF FRIENDSHIP

Sisters and brothers of the lake, valley and mountain, we of this school offer you our hand in friendship and rivalry. Greater Dallas schools are united by the very object that separates us from the valley, namely, the mountain. Perhaps we are not united in every sense of the word, but we should be, as you will agree.

We have always had rivalry of a sort between us, but I am sorry to admit that it has not been as friendly as it might have been. Quarrels have been frequent, and were not always patched up. But we have all tried to play fair, so that no permanent damage has resulted from these "spats."

We wish, however, that a League of Friendship could be formed here among us. It would cut out so much red tape as far as rivalry is concerned.

If such a league should never come to pass in any definite form, we desire that it should be on of those unwritten traditions which all schools possess. Even though these schools of the Upper West Side are never united under one head and one name, let them be united under one spirit of friendship for each other.—Ella Lee Shoemaker.

Dallas Borough High School Students Form New Clubs and Elect Officers For the Term

WHERE?

Where can a man buy a cap for his knee,
Or a boy for a lock for his hair?
Can his eyes be called an academy
Because there are pupils there
In the crown of his head what gems are set?
Who crosses the bridge of his nose?
Can he use while shingling the roof of his mouth
The nails on the ends of his toes.
—Exchange.

BOROUGH STUDENTS ARE PLEASSED WITH FACULTY

We feel glad of the opportunity to publicly express our appreciation for the splendid school we have this year. We hear nothing but favorable comments. Our principal, George T. Bowen is new, the polish not being worn off yet. Well, we'll just say we're almost sure we'll like him. Confidentially, we would not like him to know it, but we must wait until after the first examination papers are returned to us before we can be sure. Miss Bearick and Miss Taylor are new also. Our first impressions are favorable and complimentary. Miss Hazlett and Mr. Doll, teachers of last year, complete the faculty.

FOUR NOXEN HIGH SCHOOL CLASSES HOLD ELECTIONS

During the opening week of school the classes of the Noxen high school reorganized with the following results: Senior Class—Dorothy Cragle, president; Anna Lane, vice president; Angeline Jones, secretary; Ruth Casterline, treasurer.

Junior Class—Emily Casterline, president; Jessie Thomas, vice president; Helen Dimmick, secretary and treasurer.

NOXEN ENROLLMENT LARGE

The schools of Noxen township opened September 3 with 295 pupils in attendance. The high school consists of 54 pupils and boasts a freshman class numbering twenty. An extra curricular program is under way in which pupils will have an opportunity for diversion and recreation. A girls' glee club, dramatic club and baseball team will be the outstanding activities for the year. Officers of these organizations will be announced later.

Arrangements are being made whereby business and professional men will speak to the pupils in assembly at stated intervals. This plan is primarily inaugurated in connection with a course in vocational guidance, which helps the pupil to decide more definitely on an occupation after leaving school.

The schools are very grateful to the board of education for the improvements to the school ground.

HERE'S COOPERATION

Ten citizens of Dallas borough and the teachers of the high school agreed to financially back the football team until such time as it can pay for its equipment, and the other necessary expense incurred in building a good team.

THE FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

The Beaumont high school, having Mr. Austin for a coach, is hoping to have a successful football team this year. A game is scheduled for Friday, September 27.

The fourth year being added to our school is going to help increase our sports and sportsmen.

Boys' and Girls' Athletic Association and Student Council Among the New Organizations Formed This Year

The Junior-Senior high school classes of Dallas borough met September 11 and elected the following officers, of which the president and secretary of each class and also of the Boys' and Girls' Athletic Association make up the student council, whose duty it is to discuss the social activities for the year and problems concerning the general welfare of the student body:

Eleventh Grade—Kenneth Disque, president; William Brickel, vice president; Jeanne Disque, secretary; Myrtle Lamereaux, treasurer.

Tenth Grade—Richard Coolbaugh, president; Kenneth Kocher, vice president; Kathryn Penka, secretary; Margaret Oliver, treasurer.

Ninth Grade—Blanche Howell, president; Anna Mae Sullivan, vice president; Frances Major, secretary; Evelyn Shook, treasurer.

Eighth Grade—Dorothy Moore, president; Clarence LaBar, secretary; Glenn Schmoll, treasurer.

Seventh Grade—Burton Roberts, president; William Baker, vice president; Helen Himmeler, secretary-treasurer.

MEETING OF PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

The initial meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Noxen was held on the evening of September 18. Mrs. Karl Auvil, president of the association, was in the chair. Superintendent John E. Morgan delivered a very inspiring address on the motives of secondary education. Following the business session the new teachers were introduced which helps in bringing a common understanding between parent, teacher and pupil. The Noxen schools are very fortunate and are proud of having the assistance of this organization.

Give Your Child a Chance

It isn't right to let a child toil under the handicap of defective eyesight. Poor eyes make backward children. They not only affect their work, but their nerves as well and health as well.

Wisely, our educators do not consider glasses on children a "crime," knowing that the duller child may be one of the brightest with the help of properly fitted eyeglasses. For a limited time we will allow a 10 per cent discount to all persons who present this advertisement.

LIFE IS A VOYAGE

By DARREL CRISPELL
Junior Class, Beaumont High School

Just as a voyage, life must have a beginning and a destination. The beginning is generally pleasant, such as making new friends. At this time everyone seems to like you.

Then, as you progress farther, people begin to care less for you and, as on the voyage, going proceeds to get rough.

It depends upon the person as to the knowledge accumulated, for in this great voyage called life we may obtain a great deal of knowledge, most of it gained in school.

If we apply ourselves diligently while in school we will acquire knowledge which will speed us onward to our destination. But if we do not study while in school we are losing something that we can never regain, just as if we are sleeping when our boat passes some important place on our voyage.

At some places there is much to be seen on our voyage and we linger there that we may absorb more wisdom just as we stay one year in each grade during our school life.

Some may find it easier to stay and not work, whereupon they must stay longer than the allotted time and as in school, they continue with the same work next year.

Finally, after much hard work, the preparation for the voyage is completed and we graduate from school, each pursuing the type of life we feel we are fitted for.

But, by some misfortune, some will become dishonest. They shall never reach their goal. Others may proceed, prosper and make their aim the helping of others. Then, when their work is done, they shall reach their destination.
