-Alderson-

We had our first real touch winter here on Thursday. Snow fell several times during the day and a cold north wind made everybody button up his coat before going out. Our weather prophets are foretelling the usual spell of Indian summer to follow, but we're "from Missouri."

Rev. and Mrs. L. H. Brown and children of Hopbottom called on Grandpa and Emma Odenkirchen last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and son, George, Jr., spent Sunday visiting relatives at White Haven.

Hallowe'en, with all its trimmings, is here again. There are masquerades and parties and socials going on all over and, of course, there will be plenty of ghosts, witches, hobgoblins, etc., to celebrate effectively. We suppose also that there will be many anxious maidens walking down the cellar steps backwards and gazing into the mystic mirrors at the same time in search of the features of their true loves. You know that's the way to find 'em on Hallowe'en! Honest, Injun! We like to listen to some of our older friends who are now reminded of the pranks they used to play on Hallowe'en. According to them, Hallowe'en isn't what it used to be. Perhaps it's best and although wagons, gates, etc., are less often found in peculiar places there are still plenty of good times to be had on Hallowe'en.

Harry Allen, Jr., who is a freshman at Pen State spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Allen.

Present appearances point to a profitable season for the trappers this year. The skunk family has invaded this vicinity in large numbers. Every night several of them are reported as being seen and we have had a little personal (but not too personal) contact with the mourselves. Major, Rauch, Garinger and the remainder of our mighty trappers are so keyed up that they can hardly wait for the season to open. Sometimes it seems pitiful whe nthey stand with itching fingers and tears in their eyes watching Billy or Jack or some other member of the skunk family amble peacefully by.

Mrs. J. E. Altemus has returned home after spending some time visiting friends in the valley.

The Ladies' Aid was entertained at the home of Mrs. W. S. York Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Ferrel of South Eaton spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Armitage. Mr. and Mrs. Ferrel are soon leaving for Florida, where they will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Eggleston spent Sunday and Monday visiting friends at Eaglesmere.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stull left this week to visit relatives in Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kitchen and daughter Mildred visited Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Oats at Towanda over the week-end. The Alderson Epworth League will hold a masquerade social in the I. O. O. F. hall, Thursday evening, October 31. They are promising us something new and different this year so be sure to be on hand for a good time.

Mrs. Howard Higgins entertained her Sunday school class in the church basement last Saturday evening.

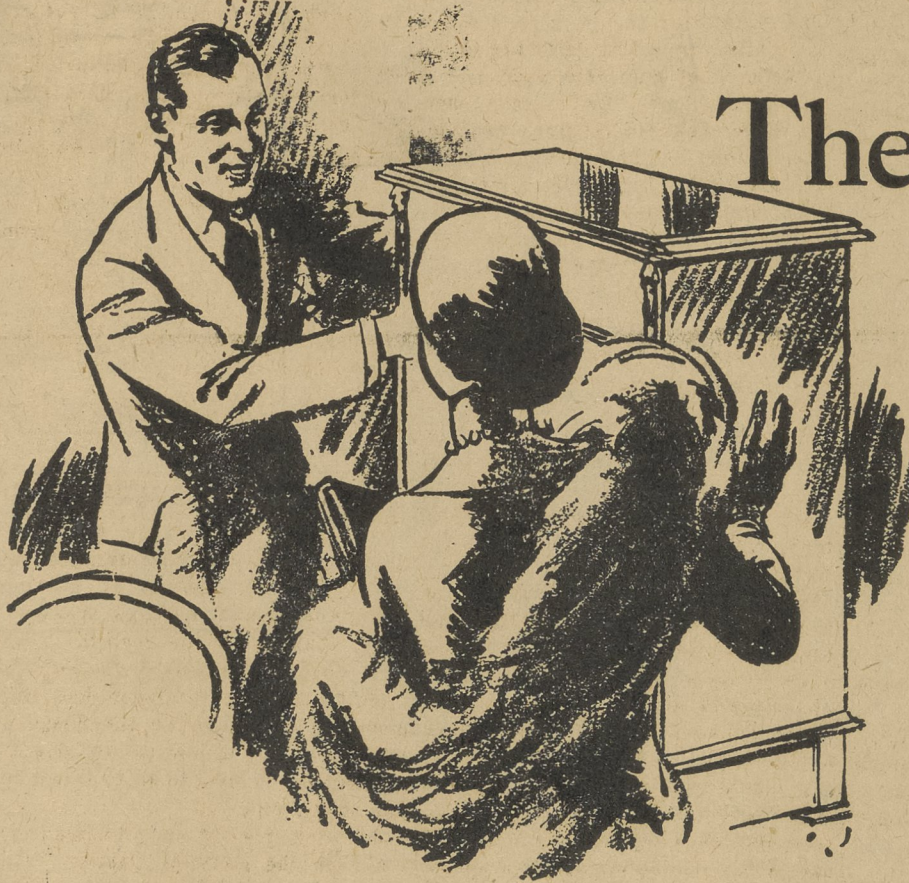

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Altemus spent Sunday calling on friends in Scranton.

There will be a Hallowe'en entertainment and social in the Laketon gymnasium Friday evening, October 25. There are going to be ghosts and everything, so be sure to be there.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor and daughter, Mrs. Gaines of Nuangola and Mrs. Albert Hoskins of Sugar Notch spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Altemus.

* Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Eggleston spent Sunday visiting relatives at Scranton.
