FRIENDLY

By MILDRED KOCHER and TORRENCE MAYER

A scout is friendly. He must be a friend to all. It is his duty to be friend to the inferior as well as with those people of higher standing, and to be kind to the old as well as the young. A scout must not make any discrimination of friends which he values more than others. In time of danger he must lend a helping hand to all and always be a willing helper.

As a certain song goes but in a literal translation of it, "He will be friend to all—the foe, the friendless; he will be giving and forget the gift; he will be humble for he knows his weakness; he would look up and laugh, and love, and lift." He is willing to do most anything to make the life of another easier and more pleasant. A scout realizes that the humble need friends as well as anyone and true to his code he is friend to all the humble and friendless. He must be courageous and never shirk his duty and he will love his enemy and help him as well as his friend.

In being a friend to one and all he tries to make each one see the necessity of a Christian life and he tries to teach them the clean and moral way of living.

NINTH GRADE ENTERTAINS

A masquerade party was given Thursday evening, October 24, by the freshman class of Dallas borough high school for the tenth and eleventh grades. First on the program was a grand march in which all masqueraders took part. Prizes were given to Cloe Evans for having the prettiest costume and Robert Rogers for having the funniest. Other prizes were awarded for various games of the evening:

Wesley Himmler—Automobile race. Theta Mead and Kelly Brown, wheelbarrow race. Kenneth Disque—Musical chair. John Mead and Oliver Mason—Jockey race.

Leonard Harvey, first prize and Glenn Moree second prize for high diving contest.

The following teachers were present: Miss Patterson, Miss Hazlett, Miss Miller, Miss Sutton, Miss Anderson, Miss Hill and Mr. Bowen.

Refreshments were served and an enjoyable time was had by all.

ELEANOR MACHELL,

Freshman Reporter.

BIOLOGY CLASS GOES ON HIKE

The tenth grade biology class and Mr. Bowen went on a hike to secure bird nets for study. The class had very good success, their collection consisting of nets of humming birds, woodpeckers, robins, orioles, ground sparrow and catbirds. The class was very lucky to have the privilege of studying the habits of a cow bird, a member of the class having found a robin's net with a cow-bird's egg in it. Mr. Bowen explained that the cow bird never built its own nest but laid its eggs in another bird's nest. The class showed much interest in the study of birds' nests. They will later mount the nest which were found.

ALICE BAER,

Tenth Grade Reporter.

VISITS GREENHOUSE

The eighth grade Water Fowl Club visited the greenhouse of Mr. Stuckle's on Wednesday, October 23. Mr. Stuckle told about the way the flowers grew. The club saw the snap dragon, gladioli, sweet peas and the geranium. A corn was cut apart and studied and the club learned where the sprout came out.

BEATRICE KOCHER,

Freshman Reporter, Lake Township High School.

HIGH SCHOOL JOKES

Teacher—If your father came home with $40 and gave your mother $20 what would she have?
Freshie—Heart failure.

Teacher—What kept you out of school yesterday—acute indigestion?
Girl—No—a cute engineer.

Coach—Say, there, you big boob, where did you learn to play football?
Scrub—Why, 'er—from reading your book, sir.

English Prof.—What was the occasion for the quotations: "Why don't you speak for yourself, John?"
Sophomore—John Aiden was trying to fix up a blind date for his room-mate, Mile Standish.

Boarding House Lady—Do you want a room?

Student—No, I want to disguise myself as a banana and sleep in a fruit dish.

Many a tree word is spoken through false teeth.

The Heights of Indifference

The guy who sees a black speck in his pudding and doesn't care whether it's a fly or a raisin.

A prof. wrote "please wash" on the blackboard and the janitor took his bath before Saturday.

Why do you call your dog "Revue?"
He's all legs.

CLOE EVANS,

Class Reporter.

Kingston Twp. School Notes

The high school students were grieved to find that the report cards could not be given out, owing to the fact that Tillie Roushey accidentally locked the desk and had no key to open it, as Mr. Howell, who has the only key, was in Shavertown. We were again happy when the cards were given out on Tuesday.

The biology class is mourning the death of their pet chameleon. He declined on the window-sill last night and froze to death.

Owing to the fact that November 11th is Armistice Day, there will be no school in Kingston township.

The Trucksville grades will hold an operetta the afternoon and evening of November 22, 1929.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET

The pupils of vocational agriculture in Luzerne county, with Mr. Rockwell and a few other prominent men who are interested in the farmer boys and their work, held a Father and Son banquet in the Y. M. C. A. building at Wilkes-Barre on October 31.

Every boy who attended had an exhibition in Irem Temple during institute week. Some exhibited corn, others apples and potatoes. Prizes were awarded to those who exhibited the best produce.

The first thing on the Father and Son program was the judging contest, after which the boys went to the front steps of the Temple where pictures were taken. They then marched to dinner in the Y. M. C. A.

An interesting talk was given by Mr. Cole of Harrisburg on "The Future Farmers of America."

At 1 o'clock the boys were entertained at the Capitol Theatre by Manager Herman after which they returned to the Temple and the winners of the exhibition were announced.

The boys of Lake township high school won the following prizes and honorable mention:

Stephen Howitch—Second prize on cabbage.

Grover Anderson—Second prize for making the most money on his project.

Harold Hoover—Third prize in the corn judging contest.

Honorable mention—Thomas Traver, William Delkanic, Earl Payne, Joseph Zosh, George Smith.

Now He Earns It

Charles Garland, who gave away a million dollar inheritance because he said he had not earned it, is rapidly growing wealthy with the success of his farm near Allentown Pa. He cultivates 153 rich acres with the aid of ten faithful followers of a cult he has founded.

LYCEUM NUMBER

The second number of the Lyceum course presented by the Gilbert Male Quartet was given in the gym Tuesday evening. This was greatly enjoyed by a pleased audience. It was one of the best programs ever presented on our stage.

The third number of the Red-lyceum course will be presented in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock on the evening of November 9. This number is "The Killarney Colleens." Tess Sheehan and Mae Saltmarsh, an expert trombone soloist. Irish songs, humor, rhythm and sparkling wit are happily intermingled in this program. The changes of costume are unusual. Don't miss it.

A WEEK-END TRIP

Mr. Aurand, Emerson Brown, Bryce Major, Mike Skopic, Gerald Frantz, Robert Stroud and Kenneth Rice of Lehman high school spent a pleasant week-end at Lewistown and its surrounding villages.

On Friday evening they visited the steel mills at Lewistown and by permission of the superintendent were able to go through all of the buildings on the grounds. On Saturday they attended the football game between Penn State and Lafayette at Penn State after a brief stop at Seven Mountains. After the game they went through the buildings on the campus.

On Sunday, while returning home, they stopped at Penn's Cave and went through the interior of the cave and saw the wonderful work that nature has done for us. They returned home safe and sound Sunday evening after having an enjoyable journey.

It is rumored that Mike Skopic did not enjoy his usual sound sleep during the two nights spent at the Y. M. C. A.

Spic and Span

DARREL CRISPELL

Lake Township High School

The junior and senior classes of "Silas Laphan" as a classic.

Hunting season appears to be having the attendance record at Laketon. Several high school boys were absent the first school day following institute week.

Institute week seemed to be visiting week to several students and teachers of Laketon.

Eula Maketa visited friends in Philadelphia, Mildred Kocher visited relatives in Binghamton and Norma Raskin visited friends in New York City.

Miss Williams enjoyed a trip to Washington, while Mr. McHose spent the week-end in the New England States.

The boys of Laketon were successful in winning several prizes at the agricultural display at the annual teachers' institute. The boys owe their success to their agriculture instructor, Mr. Rockwell.

Charles Hannibal and David Mayer exhibited and took part in all activities.

After the winners were announced the boys went to Irem Temple, where they received their awards before 1700 teachers, who were in session at the county institute.

HAROLD HOOVER.

Trucksville M. E.

9:30 a. m.—Sunday school.

10:00 — Morning service, subject, Adding Presence.

Evening service subject, Jesus in Samaria.

Noxen High School Notes

The senior and junior classes of the Noxen high school held their annual Halloween party in the school auditorium on Tuesday evening, October 29. It was given in the form of a box social. The interest of the old people as well as the young was shown by the good turnout.

The evening was made very lively by music over the radio, which A. I. Meeker installed for the occasion.

Ten pupils, selected from the senior, junior and sophomore classes presented a one-act play entitled "The Haunted Gate." Included in the cast were: Emily Casterline, Helen Dimmick, Grace Rotter, Myrtle Kresge, Lillian Jones, Vivian Allen, Thelma Miller, Francis Thompson, John Yelitz and Paul Palmer.
