FORTIETH YEAR

Rotary Club Dinner Guests At Hazard Works

Lawrence Beven, Vice President and General Manager, Plays Host at Dinner and Inspection Tour

Dallas Rotary Club members were the guests of Lawrence Beven, vice president and general manager of the Hazard Wire Rope Works at a dinner and inspection tour of the plant at Wilkes-Barre on Thursday.

Mr. Beven, better known as Larry to his Rotarian associates, is a resident of Dallas, vice president of the Dallas Parent-Teacher Association and has been associated with the Hazard Company for many years. Today he is one of the leading men in the wire rope industry of the country.

With the Rotary Club as guests at the dinner were: Rev. Frick and Rev. Bloom. Others at the dinner were officials of the Hazard and included A. C. Overpeck, secretary and assistant treasurer; George C. Gregson, works manager; Eli Weyhenmeyer, superintendent; G. E. Parnell, master mechanic; Henry J. Krupp, general foreman; Jacob Walter, general foreman; Walter Weyhenmeyer, foreman; A. A. Bloomburg, accountant and auditor; Hugh G. Murray, sales agent, and A. H. VanNortwick, sales clerk. Both Mr. Murray and Mr. VanNortwick are residents of Dallas. Guests from Wilkes-Barre Rotary Club were: Charles F. Terry, president, and Arthur Bolender, secretary.

A chicken dinner was served in the director's room by Percy A. Brown & Co. and was followed by brief addresses by some of the officials and guests. Favors were leather note books and Eversharp pencils. Following the formal program the guests broke up into groups of four each with a guide who explained the various departments of the plants as the groups visited them.

The Hazard is the third largest wire rope works in the United States and is one of the oldest. It was established in 1817 by Erskine Hazard, who designed the first suspension bridge in America, built at the falls of the Schuylkill river, near Philadelphia. Today the Hazard sends its products to all parts of the world. The great bulk of their business, however, is done with coal companies, the rope being used for steam shovels and other types of machinery and for highway guard ropes.

The guests were shown the various processes through which the crude wire received from steel mills is taken. The wire is reduced in size from the size of a lead pencil to the size of a pencil lead. At each process the strands are tempered and galvanized before they are woven into rope form. When received the strands have a strength of fifty tons per square inch. After reduction of 80 per cent and tempering the strands have a strength of 90 tons per square inch. Without tempering and galvanizing the strands would go only six months without rusting, after being tempered and galvanized the rope will withstand rust for six or seven years. The Hazard produces about 80 per cent of its own electric power. Its power plant is a model of perfection and cleanliness. The plant employs about 600 men and its payroll is one of the largest in Wyoming Valley.

DEER SWIM LAKE

Residents of Harvey's Lake and Alderson were given a real treat this week when on two succeeding mornings they watched several deer swim across the point of water between the store of Ralph Davis and the location of the old Alderson saw mill. Although it was early in the morning, the deer seemed to be undisturbed when residents gathered to watch them take their swim.

PURCHASE NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Rutz, now residing in the Isaac's property on Norton avenue, have purchased the new house of Frank Mather's on "Glendale Manor," known to Dallas residents as the late "Robinson Farm." Mr. Mather is building a new garage for Mr. and Mrs. Rutz, who will occupy their new home on December 1.

George Malkemes Is Laid At Rest

Late Shavertown Justice Buried At Hanover Green Cemetery Wednesday Afternoon

Paying a last tribute to an efficient public official and public-spirited citizen, friends and relatives of the late George Malkemes, Justice of the Peace of Shavertown, gathered at St. Paul's Church, Shavertown, on Wednesday to attend the funeral services of one of their number who was so tragically cut down in an automobile accident last Saturday night.

Brief services were held at the home on Chestnut street and then the large congregation proceeded to St. Paul's Church where Rev. G. Elston Ruff, assisted by Rev. Harry Henry, paid fitting tribute to the deceased.

The church was crowded to capacity and a profusion of beautiful floral tributes further exemplified the high esteem in which the deceased was held throughout the community. Mr. Malkemes was killed on Saturday night when struck by an automobile at Hillside.

During the services the church choir sang and Mrs. John Batey and Mrs. L. T. Schwartz rendered "Face to Face." Mrs. K. G. Laycock, assistant organist of the church, played.

Palbearers were Edward Avery, Elwood Elston, Peter Jacobs, Henry Adolph, John Lowe and Charles Dressel. Flowers were carried by L. T. Schwartz, Fred Kromelbein, George Hunt, Earl H. Monk, C. W. Hoffman, James Hartman and Harry Beck. Burial was in the family plot in Hanover Green cemetery, where services were in charge of Fidelity Lodge of Masons, No. 655, of Wilkes-Barre.

Charles Dressel and John Lowe represented Elapic Lodge, Philadelphia Master Masons. State Highway Patrolman Hanson escorted the cortege from the church to the cemetery.

Mr. Malkemes had been a resident here for the past five years, where he engaged in the carpenter business. Recently he was appointed Justice of the Peace of Shavertown, an office which he filled with ability and justice. Saturday night while talking with a game warden who was inspecting automobiles on the State highway in the vicinity of Hillside for illegal game, Mr. Malkemes was struck down by a passing automobile. He was immediately placed in another automobile and hurried to a Wilkes-Barre hospital, but died before reaching that institution. He is survived by a wife and four small children.

Noxen Boy Wins Air Race Trophy At Philadelphia

W. Fassett Crosby Gets Second Place In Student Flyers' Derby At Patco Field

W. Fassett Crosby, of Noxen, recently won second place in the Patco Mystery Air Derby, winning the silver cup donated by Captain J. Wesley Smith, who is manager of the Patco Airport at Norristown.

In order that the entrants had no chance to plot the course, the official course of the event was announced only a few minutes previous to the start, thus making it more a race of piloting ability than of speed. The course included flying to the William Penn Airport at Philadelphia, making a right hand circle around the wireless towers, then to Moorestown, N. J., where a landing was made.

After a fifteen minute stop the pilots again took the air, returning by way of the William Penn Airport to the Patco field from which a direct flight was made to the Norristown Airport.

The race was restricted to privately owned planes of the Monocoupe and Monoprop type and to former students at the Patco Airport. The eight participants left the field at ten minute intervals. Larry S. Moore of Bryn Mawr was declared the first victor of the fifty-one mile contest, making the strange course in thirty-four minutes and thirty seconds. Crosby's time was thirty-five minutes.

Thanksgiving Day Proclamation

With joy and gratitude in our hearts, we look forward once more to the coming of Thanksgiving Day. Its observance does not stale with custom or grow old with the flight of the years. It is rather a day of refreshing, in which all people may rejoice and be glad in the happy memories which it recalls, in renewed fellowship with kindred and friends, in the revived spirit of loyalty to country and flag, and in devout thankfulness to Him whom proceeds every good and every perfect gift. With these thoughts stirring within us, let us put away everything unworthy of the day devoted to the remembrance and acknowledgement of the blessings which have been poured out upon us by the hand of Providence in the year now drawing to its close. It has been a time of plenty, nature has yielded her increase; of progress, science and art have contributed as never before to the service and convenience of mankind; of prosperity, industry has been productive and wealth has increased abundantly; of economic good will, employer and employee have worked together with general good understanding; of health and contentment, no great disasters or plagues or contagions have afflicted the land; of domestic tranquility, no insurrections or lawless uprisings have wasted the life and property of our citizens; of international peace, the recent exchange of views between the British Premier and the President has promoted a better feeling among the English-speaking people of the world, and will shortly lead to a conference between the great naval powers, looking to a reduction of embattled war fleets and the ultimate disarmament of the high seas as the greatest possible advance in the effort to make of this a warless world; and to crown all this wealth of material things, of spiritual and enlightened progress, the schools and places of higher learning are filled to overflowing with the youth of the land all the agencies for the spread of religious truth have been active and faithful in the performance of their consecrated duties.

We will not be forgetful of those who are in need. The liberal hand will be extended to all who are in want and distress. Our hearts will be opened in sympathy for those who are under affliction to minister unto them in the full measure of their necessities.

It is, therefore, fitting for all our citizens to assemble in their homes and rejoice in the comforts and communion of their firesides, and at the appointed time to attend upon divine worship in acknowledgment of the goodness and bounty of the Heavenly Father who has blessed us so abundantly in the passing year.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, John S. Fisher, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, following the Proclamation of the President of the United States, do hereby designate and set aside to be observed by all the people of this Commonwealth in the enjoyment of the home circle, in deeds of kindness and charity, and in prayer and praise at their accustomed places of worship, making acknowledgment to Almighty God for His bounteous provision and invoking His guidance for our Nation and State in the ways of peace and truth and righteousness.

THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF NOVEMBER
NINETEEN HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINE, AS THANKSGIVING DAY

GIVEN under my hand and the Great Seal of the Commonwealth, at the City of Harrisburg, this eleventh day of November, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and twenty-nine, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and fifty-fourth.

By the Governor:

JOHN S. FISHER.

(SEAL)

ROBERT R. LEWIS,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Mail Early Is Plea of Local Postal Workers

Special Lists Issued For Dates of Mailing Christmas Packages to Foreign Countries

"Mail your Christmas packages early," is the word sent out this week from the Dallas postoffice and from all government offices throughout the country. Special notices were placed in the postoffice boxes of all Dallas residents calling attention to the great demand placed upon the postoffice force by the heavy mails at Christmas time.

The following list is a partial one taken from a more complete list of foreign countries and certain United States possessions giving the approximate latest date of dispatch of mail from Dallas to arrive at its destination before Christmas. It is suggested that the mailing of articles be made if possible, in advance of the dates indicated. Information concerning countries not listed may be had from the local postoffice:

Canal Zone, December 14; China, November 26; Cuba, December 21; Czechoslovakia, December 14; England, December 14; Germany, December 14; France, December 14; Germany, December 14; Ireland, December 14; Italy, December 10; Panama, December 14; Philippine Islands, November 25; Russia, December 7; Scotland, December 14; South Africa, November 27; Spain, December 14; Sweden, December 14; Switzerland, December 14.

The Post is still giving away one of those famous Lindsay Bread Knives with every new subscription for one year. The knife is patented and cuts hot or cold bread equally well. It is made to sell for $1.00, but the Post is giving one away free with every $1.00 subscription. Be sure to send us a new subscription and we'll send you the knife right away. Already we have given dozens away.

Mrs. Malkemes To Be Appointed Justice of Peace

Will Fill Office Made Vacant By Death of Husband—Probably First Woman to Hold Such Office in State

For the first time in Luzerne County and probably in the history of the Commonwealth, a woman will no doubt be appointed Justice of the Peace.

Senator Sordani, who will make the recommendation to Governor Fisher for the appointment to fill the vacancy in the office of Justice of the Peace of Kingston township, vacated by the death of George Malkemes of Shavertown, stated late last night that it is his intention to offer the appointment to Mrs. Malkemes, the wife of the deceased.

While it is probable that no woman has held this office before in Pennsylvania, she is legally entitled to, and in this particular case it would be very fitting and proper for Mrs. Malkemes to accept the appointment. Mrs. Malkemes is well fitted for the position and in view of the fact that her late husband had built up a considerable civil practice, it is thought that she could continue on in this work.

When interviewed, Senator Sordani stated that he was sending papers to Mrs. Malkemes so that she could formally make application for the position. If Mrs. Malkemes will accept the position, the Senator will forward her name to Governor Fisher immediately. Senator Sordani requested the approval of Republican Chairman C. Harold Wagner, who, when interviewed, expressed great pleasure in adding his recommendation to Mrs. Malkemes' application.

With more than twenty applications for the position it is thought that no one will press his case if Mrs. Malkemes decides to take the appointment.

Large Audience Hears Scientist

A. C. Devens Host at Dinner and Discussion On Dairy Subjects at Kunkle

The Tioga-Empire Feed Company of Waverly, N. Y., and their local feed dealer, A. C. Devens, gave a dinner for their many patrons in this locality on Wednesday evening at the Kunkle Grange hall. The dinner was served by the Kunkle Ladies' Aid Society. A very interesting illustrated lecture on scientific feeding and feeds was given by Prof. J. F. Lantz of Waverly, N. Y.

The dinner program was a fine example of the scientific spirit which modern stock raisers are showing in the raising of their herds. Mr. Devens also shows his progressiveness as a merchant and citizen in bringing a man of the type of Prof. Lantz to the community. The following attended:

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Herdman, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rydd, Miss Blanche Mosier, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Adam, James Adam, Prof. J. F. Lantz, Waverly, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miers, Felice Miers, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Devens, Mr. and Mrs. George Landon, Mrs. William Brace, Mrs. Olin Kunkle, Eleanor Kunkle, Philip Kunkle, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ashburner, Robert Ashburner, Mrs. Clarence Roote, James and Clarence Roote, Oliver Ellsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goodrich, Charles, Allen and Caroline Brace, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Michael, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Michael, Mrs. John Isaacs, Estella Elston, Mrs. Margaret Kunkle, Mrs. Amos Kitchin, Miss Gertrude Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kunkle, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Garinger, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Henney, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shoemaker, G. M. Travor, Peter Westfield, George C. Orcutt, William Harris, Thomas Landon, James Miers, Miss Emily Shoemaker, Miss Viola

Milk Producers Have No Need To Fear State Code

D. A. McCarthy, in Charge of State Division of Milk Control, Explains the New Code.

A large amount of misunderstanding regarding the new Pennsylvania State Milk Code has developed among local milk producers, owing to the fact that when Dame Rumor is present, common subjects become magnified and from the mouth-to-mouth means of communication, many milk producers have become highly alarmed over the new State code.

Recently at the request of several milk producers in the Salem township area, J. D. Hutchison, county agent, got in touch with Mr. D. A. McCarthy, in charge of the Division of Milk Control, in order to secure the fundamental facts relating to the milk code. Mr. McCarthy stated that many of these milk rumors were unfounded and that there should be no cause for alarm.

The new Pennsylvania Milk Code known as Act 428 became effective June 1st, 1929, but will not be enforced until September 1st, 1930. The new act is known as a permit system. Under this system milk distributors are compelled to make inspections of the producers farm from time to time, keeping a record of these inspections in their office for information.

Relative to the producers end, no radical changes will be required under this new act except that all milk producers shipping to a distributor shall have by September 1st, 1930, a milk house which may adjoin a barn but not in direct communication with the building proper. This milk house should provide some means of cooling the milk quickly, either through aeration or a cooling tank.

The law also provides that the producer shall maintain a barn that is in a reasonable sanitary condition. Also the farmers should provide a tight vault or septic tank for sewage disposal so as to eliminate possible contamination of milk through flies. The farm water supply should also be adequate and wholesome.

Any person who desires further information relative to this act should get in touch with Mr. D. A. McCarthy, whose address is 100 East Pettebone street, Forty Fort, Pa.

ENLARGES STORE

Earl Monk, in keeping with his "up and 'em" spirit, has just arranged to equip a special radio room in his Shavertown store. He has also secured the services of an expert radio mechanic who will service the Bremer-Tully and Earl radios which Mr. Monk sells. The new radio man will also service all other types of radios as well.
