

Liquor Causes the Arrest of Three Drivers

Thanksgiving Day Check-Up By Police Brings Fines to Drunken Drivers and Other Violators of Motor Code

Three motorists were arrested for driving under the influence of liquor and a score of others were fined in a check-up made on Thanksgiving Day on the new Sordoni highway by local police and State Highway patrolmen.

The men arrested for driving under the influence of liquor were George Lamereaux, Lehman; a Mr. Crump, Mt. Greenwood, and John Wilkinson, Huntsville. Crump was fined $34.50 and costs. The other two escaped with lighter fines of $10 and costs each.

In one instance one of the drivers was making good progress up the roadway and showed no outward effects of liquor. When he reached the road intersection in upper Trucksville he became worried at the sight of police officers checking up on cars. He stalled the motor and when the patrolmen signalled for him to be on his way, the driver found great difficulty in getting his gears to mesh and at the same time keep the car on the road.

In the accident at the Luzerne borough line a Buick car going south on the wrong side of the road crashed into an Overland sedan. The Buick veered across the road and down over the bank into Toby's Creek. It took a crew of four men and a wrecker, assisted by motorists, four hours to get the machines back on the roadbed.

Harry Cassidy Laid At Rest

Popular Owner of Honeysuckle Inn, Victim of Heart Attack, Buried From Winter Home in Wilkes-Barre

The funeral of the late Harry A. Cassidy, owner of Honeysuckle Inn and one time secretary of the old Dallas Fair Association, was held from the family home on Franklin street, Wilkes-Barre, at 2:30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. Services at the home were in charge of Rev. Leon K. Willman, pastor of First M. E. Church, Interment was in Hollenback Cemetery.

Mr. Cassidy had long been known in this section, where he was active in community, political and business affairs. For many years he conducted Honeysuckle Inn and made it one of the outstanding establishments of its kind to be found anywhere. His management of the inn won widespread fame for its cuisine and for the genial nature of its owner.

It was while at the inn on Monday that Mr. Cassidy was stricken with a fatal heart attack. He had been planning widespread improvements for his property in Lehman township, among them the construction of a private lake for fishing and skating.

Mr. Cassidy was a native of Tunkhannock and established his residence at Wilkes-Barre while a young man. He was a pioneer in the street cleaning business in that city, establishing his own street cleaning company there about twenty-five years ago. Harry A. Cassidy was widely known through his business and fraternal connection and his judgment was frequently sought by political leaders. He was active during numerous Republican campaigns.

Mr. Cassidy was 49 years of age. Beside his wife he is survived by one brother, Walter, of Tunkhannock, for many years a business man and active citizen of Lake Carey.

Kingston Twp. To Have Paid Police Protection Soon

Court Order Expected in Very Near Future Granting Supervisors the Right to Hire Paid Policemen

Kingston township, comprising Truckville, Shavertown and Carverton, will no doubt have paid police protection in the very near future. A large group of citizens of Kingston township presented a petition to the court of Quarter Sessions of Luzerne county about two months ago, requesting the court to grant the citizens of Kingston township, through their supervisors, the right to hire paid police. This petition was joined in by the supervisors and the entire school board.

According to rumor, the court will most likely hand down this order within the next ten days, placing a policeman on duty in Kingston township at a probable salary of $125 per month.

The need of an officer on duty at all times has been most forcibly demonstrated during the past few years. Several serious accidents, caused by drunken drivers, deaths of children walking the highways, careless drivers, rowdiness and many other reasons are advanced for this cause.

Kingston township is over twice as large as Dallas in area and population and has two very heavily traveled highways and several secondary highways with no benefits of paid police. While it has a constable and deputy constable, one cannot expect these men to work without any compensation, except the costs received on arrests.

Whoever is appointed, all costs accrued in criminal cases will be turned over to the supervisors so that the expenditure of $125 per month will not come out of the township entirely, as the costs in these cases should reach a goodly sum each month.

URGES EARLY MAILING

The passing of Thanksgiving reminds us that Christmas is near at hand. All departments of the postal service have announced plans to handle the big rush of Christmas mail.

Postmaster Ruth Waters states that the local postoffice will again make direct pouches of parcels to all points provided they are mailed in advance of the big rush. This insures the parcels reaching their destination much earlier and in better condition than those mailed at the last minute. Parcels may be marked "Not to be opened until Christmas." All foreign parcels not already on the way should be dispatched promptly.

Persons sending a large number of cards are requested to buy their stamps in quantities early in December and have their cards addressed and stamped early. The Postoffice Department has again authorized the receipt of cards any time in December for local delivery to be stamped and delivered on any specified date provided the desired date is made clear at the time of mailing.

There will be no rural delivery service and the postoffice will be closed all day Christmas.

GIRL SCOUTS TO HAVE TEA

Girl Scout Troop 7 met Wednesday afternoon at the regular time. Plans were discussed and settled for a Christmas tea to be held probably in the high school auditorium on December 14. The first class girls received their first aid lessons and the "tenderfoot" girls worked hard to pass their tests.

Arrangements were made for the troop to attend the minstrel given by the Lehman Girl Scouts on Friday evening, November 29. At 5:15 court of honor was held and taps was given.

LUTHER LEAGUE MEETS

The Luther League of St. Paul's Lutheran Church held a monthly meeting in the church basement Monday evening. General business was discussed.

Games were played and luncheon was served.

An investiture of a new troop of Girl Scouts was held in the Lutheran Church, Shavertown, when a group of girls who have successfully completed the requirements to join this organization were invested with the three fold emblem of the organization by Miss Marion Gruver, field captain of the Girl Scout Council.

This interesting group of girls were prepared for their entrance into the Girl Scouts by Miss Catherine Phillips, who very ably instructed them in the ideals of the organization and assisted them in receiving the instruction necessary for the tenderfoot test. The girls who were officially received into the Girl Scouts at their meeting were: Louise Malkemes, June Batey, Genevieve Metzger, Louise and Ruth Jane Leacock, Misses Catherine Phil-Dierolf, Margaret, May and Betty Lips, Dorothy Eck were invested as officers of the troop. Edith Harfman, Dorothy Preston and Enil Clemow will be members of the troop, having been transferred from other troops. W. Guernsey at 2 o'clock. All members and their friends are urged to attend.

GETS SHIPMENT OF MULES

William Bulford will unload a carload of Indiana mules at the Lehigh Valley station on Monday. During the last month Mr. Bulford has sold more than one hundred mules to mine operators. This increase in business is perhaps good evidence that the mine operators are expecting a greatly increased production of coal during the winter months.

Humane Society Arrests Farmer; Charges Cruelty

Fred Weber Refuses to Care For Recently Purchased Horses When He Returns Them to William Krause

Horses! Horses! Who owns the horses? This seems to be the question in Dallas just now. Sometime ago William Krause sold a team of horses to Fred Weber of Chestnut for the sum of $275. The horses belonged to Mr. Krause's mother and it was as her agent that he sold the horses and received the money for them.

After working the horses for week or so Mr. Weber decided that they didn't quite suit his purpose and resolved to take them back to Mr. Krause. Mr. Krause refused to take them back, whereupon Weber sometime later returned the horses to the Krause barn and left them there without food. Krause refused to feed them. So did Weber. The Wyoming Valley Humane Society was called to the scene and provided food for the animals and is still sending a man to Dallas every day to care for them. The Humane Society had Weber arrested on a charge of cruelty to animals. Krause had him arrested on a charge of breaking and entering. At a hearing before a Luzerne magistrate, Weber, through his attorney, appealed the case and another hearing will be given in few days. And the question still remains—Who owns the horses?

Dallas High School Victors Over Collegians In Thanksgiving Game

With Snow-Covered Playing Field and a Heavy Wind, Borough High School Team Defeats Collegians in Close Score

WILLIAMS' FEET HEAVY

On Thursday morning, with the temperature about twenty degrees above zero, the wind blowing fitfully over two hundred spectators gathered on the local football field to see the Dallas borough high school defeat the Dallas Collegians by the score of 7 to 2.

Quite friendly rivalry was manifested, not only between the players, but the spectators as well, and Referee Besecker and Head Linesman Hal Wagner had their hands full in trying to satisfy everybody with their impartial rulings.

The Collegians scored first with a touchback which came when Lee tackled Young behind the goal lines.

A few minutes later, Young made a thirty-yard run for a touchdown for the high school. No scoring was made after the first half.

HIGH LIGHTS OF THE GAME

The high school had its regular line up with the exception of Coach Young. But we think the high school would have done better with its regular team, and although Young made some heavy gains for the borough, he did not seem to fit in as the playing was not as smooth as on former occasions.

Eddie Coolbaugh played with the Collegians and did not get many opportunities to demonstrate his ability against his brother Erwin. Possibly it's a good thing, as Erwin stopped Eddie the only time he went against him.

R. L. Gebhardt was an interested spectator and could not take sides as his son John played with the high school and Dick with the Collegians.

Lorrie Lee played a hard game but couldn't seem to get started.

Bobbie Eipper, the high school giant, did some good tackling.

Kennie Oliver made a couple of good tackles as Lorrie Lee knows.

Bud Williams was almost the star of the game. Too bad, Bud. If you had lifted your feet a little more you would have made the touchdown.

This kid Billie Brickel is sure in the game to win every minute.

Phil Anderson was on the line but should have been a back. Phil showed plenty of pep, which was a little unusual.

Earl Young, the coach, should have left the borough lineup intact so it would have been a straight game between the high school and ex-high.

Nobody seemed to like the referee, Jim Besecker, or the head linesman, Hal Wagner, so intense was the rivalry. However, considering the day and the condition of the field, it was a good interesting game. Everybody enjoyed themselves, no fights or arguments and a good time was had by everybody.

Pants Lee was very much excited during the game, as he thought that the high school was playing Brother Lorrie too hard. Pants got in the game later but seemed to be out of condition. You must remember, Pants, your getting to be an old married man.

This fellow Fortner, manager of the water company, played one of the best games.

Prof. Bowen of the high school was very much interested. He sure did thank the referee after the game. If Prof. displays as much interest in basket ball as he has in football he sure will be popular.

New Bridge To Be Built Across Bowman's Creek

Work Will Begin in Spring on New Structure to Take Place of Old Covered Bridge Near Noxen

One of the oldest landmarks in this section will fall before the advance of progress this spring when the State Highway department begins work on the new bridge across Bowman's Creek near Noxen and not far from where the covered bridge now stands. The old covered bridge is one of the few remaining structures of its type to be found in Pennsylvania.

State Highway Department engineers and the commissioners of Wyoming county were on the ground last Friday making a final survey of the new road location and the spot where the new bridge will be located. Bids for construction will be received by the State Highway Department in January and work will begin early in the spring. Bids will be received for a concrete structure and for steel structure. It is expected, however, that the bridge will be built of concrete since it is cheaper to build with concrete than steel.

There will be considerable road construction and relocation since the new bridge will be located 300 feet down the creek from the present covered bridge. Relocation of the road will start in front of the Kresge farm and extend to the property of Lewis Orcutt. When completed the road will be perfectly straight and many of the old curves in the road from Lutes Corners to the bridge will be eliminated.

The construction of the new bridge is but one of the many State Highway projects which will be started in Wyoming county this spring. Although final surveys have not been made, it is expected by Wyoming County Commissioners that work will start in the spring on a concrete road from the river bridge at Tunkhannock to a point on the Byron Harding farm, about four miles from Tunkhannock on the Dallas-Bowman's Creek road.

SEE MANY DEER

While hunting bear in the vicinity of Mountain Springs on Thanksgiving Day, Elwood Elston and a party of local hunters saw three buck and two doe deer. Other members of the party were: Clark Brobst, Charles Dly were: Clark Brobst, Charles Brobst and Carl Brobst.

job to see that everybody paid. Chl Avery was also there but stayed inside his car most of the time. You know the chief is getting old and can't stand the cold weather as good as he used to. The chief just celebrated his birthday last Monday. Too bad, Chief.

Kenneth Disque is going to be a good football player. He as good a football player as he is a dancer. Keep it up, Kenneth.

These fellows, Templin and Machell, are sure six-footers. Fair at football but sure ought to be good at basket ball.

Billie Webster, who played with the Collegians, should be a good player and Thanksgiving day we are sorry to say he made some very poor tackles. Maybe it was because he kept his hands in his pockets all the time. We did not see any of his long list of feminine rooters at the game, however.

Cease Wilson, the Beau Brummel of Dallas, did not get into the game, but was on the side lines ready to take the boys to the doctor's in case they suffered any injuries. However, nobody was hurt and Cease devoted his time to the young ladies present.

All in all, a good time was had by all.
