

-Beaumont-

Mr. and Mrs. Dana Frear have left for an extended visit in the West. Having many relatives and friends in the central and western states, their stay may be for some time.

Earl Johnson and family are going to occupy the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dana Frear during their absence. Lots of business for Earl, as he has also been awarded the contract for mason work on the new home of Clarence Boston at Noxen.

Charles Johnson recently served a select fish dinner to a number of lady friends. If the fish served came up to the dimensions of those that Mr. Johnson tells he catches, everyone should be bountifully supplied.

Hold the line! Mr. and Mrs. Challis have had a telephone installed.

With telephones and electric lines and the new school building project, Beaumont will soon be on the map.

Next guess—we will have to have an airport.

Mrs. Myrtle Martin is as busy as the proverbial bee, gathering not honey but the taxes. Mrs. Martin's term expires this year, hence the rush for settling up. Mrs. Martin has been very considerate to every one in the two terms of her service.

The Baptist young people held prayer meeting at the home of Thomas Smith. Tommy, be good. The future life is very dark and warm for bad boys.

Walter Bartlett is painting the home of Lambert Traver.

Lambert Traver has mowed his yard. Pretty late for haying. Better stick to coal hauling.

Our old friend, Constable Henry Kunkle, has reopened his saw mill at Bowman's Creek Corners. Bring on more logs.

James Stroll, mailman, has, after some effort, at last removed his wood supply from along the highway to Noxen. More elbow grease, Jim, in the sawing.

Mrs. Charles Strickling is ill at her home on Bowman's Creek.

The Bowman's Creek Grange is giving the hall a surprise—new siding and a coat of paint. John London is doing the work.

The water supply at the Beaumont school is contaminated in some way, according to the janitor, Herman Derby. It would be well for the health authorities when they look at teeth and tonsils, to also look at this antique pump and maybe abate the nuisance. If the condition of the water is as stated no wonder the teeth and tonsils are decayed.

Last week John Miner was called to his long home. Mr. Miner, who had been making his home with Harlow Shotwell, was found dead in bed. Mr. Miner was a Civil War veteran and the last but one from around this part of the country. The remaining veteran, Lozo Dexter, is also in poor health. Mr. Miner's funeral was conducted with military honors befitting one who gave years to his country in time of danger.

Mrs. Cecil Vopulous had a quilting bee.

Mrs. Tiny Derby, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bartlett and Mrs. James Stroll were in attendance.

Paul Richards is installing running water in his home from the Odd Fellows' spring, as good a water as there is in the State.

Edward MacDougal, merchant, has thrown up the sponge and banished the "Clover Farm Stores" equipment from his premises. Good boy, Ed. A man's own name over his door is the best advertisement in the long run.

LIST SPECIAL EVENTS FOR STATE FARM SHOW

Poultry activities at the State Farm Products Show in Harrisburg, January 2 to 24, 1930, will include three new features, John Vandervort, poultry extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, in charge of the poultry department of the big state exposition, announces.

Events include the eastern sectional Silver Wyandotte meet in which about one hundred birds will be entered; a turkey show representative of the industry in the State, and a 4-H capon club exhibit of at least twenty birds.

There were 1,133 entries in the poultry classes of the 1929 show and the January exhibits are expected to exceed this mark.

Wilkes-a-Barre were visitors at the home of Heber Belles Sunday.

Get your guns! There has been a large buck eating corn with the chickens in the barn yard of Jason Harding. The animal did not appear frightened and allowed Claude Harding to approach within several yards before it took a leisurely departure. Don't come again until after the first of the month. Bang!

Raymond Blizzard saw a large bear under an apple tree on the old Scouten farm and was so interested watching the animal that he plumb forgot to get his gun from his nearby home. I guess Ray don't want any bear skin coat this winter.

EVERY once in a while you hear a man say off-hand: "All tires are about alike."

This is worse than a careless statement; in total effect it is the costliest error in tire-buying.

The plain truth is — and it cannot be made too emphatic — all tires are NOT alike!

The leading manufacturers of motor cars know it — so they use more Goodyear Tires for original equipment than any other kind.

The cost-wary owners of the great truck fleets of industry know it — so in simple economy they use more Goodyear Tires than any other kind.

The purchasing experts of the urban, interurban and transcontinental bus lines know it — so for safe and profitable operation they use more Goodyear Tires than any other kind.

The rank and file of informed motor car owners throughout the world know it — so "more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind."

NO, EMPHATICALLY NO, all tires are NOT alike. Don't be talked into thinking they are. Remember the facts about Goodyear.

Get a Goodyear Tire and you get the best, and since it costs you little if anything more than any other, you get the greatest tire value money can buy.
