SPANIER SHOPPE OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

The Spanier Shoppe, Luzerne's exclusive shop for women, will this week present its seventh anniversary sale of women's wearing apparel. Since the opening of the Luzerne store last September this shoppe has made hundreds of friends among the woman folk of this suburban region.

The guiding genius of the store is Mr. I. Weiner, who for many years was associated with the Walker Shoe Co. of Buffalo, N. Y., and who is an expert in the selection of women's footwear. Mr. Weiner knows footwear thoroughly and is an expert judge of leathers, lasts and construction of women's shoes. It was largely through his efforts that the Spanier Shoppe was appointed exclusive sales agent for two nationally advertised and famous lines of women's smart footwear, namely, Natural Bridge Arch and Styler Arch footwear.

Mr. Weiner's nephew, I. Spanier, who is manager of the Olyphant store, has charge of the buying of women's frocks, coats and hosiery. He spends a major portion of his time in New York City, where he is rated as one of the best buyers of these lines in the country. The idea back of the establishment of the Spanier Shoppe was that Luzerne could support a high class, exclusive woman's store. The success of the Spanier Shoppe confirms the conviction of its owners. The Post extends its congratulations to Mr. Weiner and Mr. Spanier on this, the seventh anniversary of the establishment of the Spanier stores.

The record of A. J. Sordoni speaks for itself. In his present campaign he is running independently and is not linked with either of the major State political groups in the Republican party.

Cussedness?

Several contemporary authors have admitted that they dislike to write. We have suspected that some of them do it out of pure cussedness.—Florence (Ala.) Herald.

The Pith of Genius

So much of our time is preparation, so much is routine, and so much respect, that the pith of each man's genius contracts itself to a very few hours.—Emerson.

Soot From Soft Coal

Every ton of soft coal contains nearly 150 pounds of soot which is distributed throughout the immediate area when the coal is burned.

Authors' Creations

Book characters are our brothers, because often they are more ourselves than we can ever be. Being bone and sinew of real men, they are real men themselves and partake of the inexpressible character of that relation. In times of action, material or mental, few would want to be characters in books, but at other times few there are who would not be willing to change places.—Boston Herald.

During his term of office Senator A. J. Sordoni has worked for Luzerne County as a whole. Cities have not been favored at the expense of rural communities; neither have the urban communities been neglected. The Lehman-Pike's Creek road, Shick-shinny-Benton, Kingston Narrows, Harvey's Lake road, Kingston township road, Plymouth-Kingston road, the road eliminating the dangerous Edge Hill at West Nanticoke and the elimination of dangerous underpasses and railroad crossings on the Ashley boulevard and the new and shortened Hazleton highway were all Sordoni projects.—adv.

Trucksville Defeats Lehman

In a rather well-played game at Lehman last Friday the strong Trucksville team defeated Lehman 11 to 7. The game was marred by several hard showers and the infield was rendered very slippery. Several infield errors were made, largely due to the condition of the field. The outfield played a very excellent game. Several wild throws were extremely costly to Lehman and such errors spoiled an early three-run lead.

Lehman out-hit Trucksville by a small margin but Trucksville's hits were mostly of the extra base variety. The Trucksville team played as a unit throughout, showing the advantages of excellent coaching.

For Lehman, Gaelski excelled in the outfield, making three fine running catches. Davis also made a fine catch. The Rusiloski boys are also making athletic tradition. Pitcher Frank Rusiloski handed twelve strike outs in the seven-inning game. He also hit a fine two-bagger and his little brother, Benny, coming to bat immediately afterward and, not wishing to be outdone, whacked out a resounding triple.

Dallas Game

On Monday evening Lehman and Dallas met in an extra league game of baseball. Again Lehman took an early lead only to lose it later and be nosed out by a decisive 16 to 9 score. Both teams displayed plenty of hitting power, Dallas making the most bases from their hits.

Pitcher Bryce Major made his debut for Lehman and pitched excellent ball for three innings. He was accorded excellent support during this period also. Then an injury to his side-kicker, Lanceford Sutton, caused him to lose his control and he retired in favor of Rusiloski. Pitcher Oliver of Dallas also was retired in the sixth, due to wildness.

Lanceford Sutton received a very bad cut below his right eye when one of Coolbaugh's fast shoots to third hit him. He had to leave the game and the morale of the team suffered accordingly.

Commencement

The Seniors are looking forward to commencement, to be given Thursday, May 29th. They are already at work on the class night parts, which are to be given on Tuesday, May 27. IS SPRING CLEANING NECESSARY?

(An Original Story)

By Beatrice Kocher, Lake Township High School

Carelessness in attention to one's home surroundings is likely to produce careless habits in some other phase of life. But if we live among beautiful things we are unconsciously influenced to live up to our surroundings. Moreover, other people enjoying an attractive lawn or a well kept house. The owner or keeper of such a place not only gives pleasure to himself and others, but may be encouraging them to make their own home surroundings more attractive. The appearance of a front lawn or back yard is mainly what the family makes it.

The home should be cleaned frequently; most people clean in the spring. During the winter dust and harmful germs may collect in the home and in order to get rid of them cleaning is necessary.

One of the most important elements that makes a city beautiful is cleanliness. Lawns littered with paper or strewn with all kinds of dirt indicate that you are either shamefully lazy or distressingly ignorant. This also applies to the streets, homes and the appearance of your clothing. It is discouraging to try to keep a lawn looking attractive if the street in front is filthy.

Beauty ought to be a definite goal, for the home and the community. It may come from the use of good taste in building and decoration, or from preserving natural scenery. Trees, street lights, street cleaning and smoke prevention help to make a town attractive. Billboards and dumps have their places, but many of them are out of place. It is a government's duty—whether local, state or national—to prevent selfish greed from destroying natural beauty or depriving others of the privilege of living in attractive surroundings.

Lehman Personals

Prof. O. H. Aurand and E. T. Farley, spent last week-end in New York. The occasion of the visit was a testimonial dinner to Dr. George D. Strayer, of Columbia University. A number of local teachers have taken work in Dr. Strayer's department.

Senior Emerson Brown and Alumnus Alan Major spent the week-end visiting Alumnus James Hildebrand at Lehman University. In addition to attending the sub-freshman festivities they drove to Asbury Park, toured and dined in general.

The Junior drama, "A Dutch Detective," was a laughing success. It is the first step of the class on their way to Washington.

The New Hooverizing

HEALTH has become more than ever a big item nationally, since President Hoover set the example of an early-morning workout. Members of the "medicine-ball cabinet" approve the idea of vigorous exercise before tackling the business of the day, and even King George's six o'clock radio address found these distinguished team-mates gathered around the loud speaker in one of the basement china rooms, dressed in their medicine ball outfits—heavy shirts, rough trousers and tennis shoes.

Simple Foods at White House
Simple foods are appearing on the White House dining table, in accordance with the health program. And the effect of this Presidential attitude will probably be simpler foods throughout the nation, in homes where women are not to be outdone by athletic husbands, who—if they don't actually take up medicine ball—will at least give consideration to the daily dozen. The transformation in winter desserts is typical of the modern tendency. They are no longer the heavy, rich pastries of yore. Instead, berries and fruits have come to the fore—to be made splendid, on occasion, with a topping of whipped cream.

Blueberry Charlotte is a modern and healthful last course: Remove the crusts from eight or ten slices of bread, and butter the slices well. Heat the contents of a No. 2 can of blueberries with one-fourth cup of butter until the mixture comes to the boiling stage. Butter a deep dish; arrange alternate layers of bread and hot berries, pressing down well. Let stand several hours in a cold place; turn out in a mold. Slice and serve with cream—season with nutmeg, or with whipped cream. This serves eight persons.*
