School Board Still At Odds

The regular monthly meeting of the Luzerne school board was held in the Bennett school with President William Kostenhauder presiding. The following directors were present: Albert Jones, William R. Thomas, Jr., J. W. Kirschner, Clinton Roberts and Zack Keller. Director John Stoneham has not attended the last few meetings and is thinking very seriously of resigning due to the present conditions on the board.

Contracts were awarded to the Luzerne Window Cleaning Co., for cleaning the windows in both buildings for $135.00 and to William Sage for cleaning both buildings for $450.00. All work must be completed in time for the opening of school on September 2nd.

Charles Pope was elected as trustee officer for the ensuing year. Harvey Pifer and Reese Morgan were elected as janitors and the following janitoresses were re-elected: Mrs. Checkon, Mrs. Seward, Mrs. Carr, Mrs. Gorham and Mrs. Bennan.

The poverty committee, Chairman W. R. Thomas, reported the purchase of laboratory furniture and equipment valued at $1800.00 from the Kingston school district for $300.00 and that the said equipment would be installed this week.

Everything was running very smoothly to this point when director Jones moved and director Roberts seconded that Stewart T. Williams be placed in complete charge of the high school and to assume entire responsibility for same. The board has already named A. E. Booth as supervising principal which places the high school under his jurisdiction. Directors Thomas and Kirschner could not see the advisability of two heads in our school. This brought on a severe discussion as to who had and who should assume responsibility. It appears that the State Department took exception to our English Department and Professor Booth is being criticized.

RAPID CHANGE

IN OUR COUNTRY

Towns means a parallel shift on the farm. It takes two acres of land to produce dairy products equivalent in food value to one acre in wheat.

We are shifting rapidly to the cities. Census returns up to the latter part of April indicate that the farm population has fallen off even more than was anticipated, and that with hardly an exception the cities have grown hugely. Atlanta has increased its population 35 per cent in ten years while Austin, Texas, 48 per cent; Lakeland, Florida, 130 per cent; Ventura, California, 186 per cent; Decatur, Illinois, 121 per cent; Phoenix, Arizona, 60 per cent; Lynchburg, Virginia, 34 per cent, and so on. In between the farm and the city, however, are the small towns which also seem to be sharing in the increased concentration of population, so far as incomplete returns show.

A few years ago to own a coal mine was to have a fortune. Today it is hard to sell coal except from favorably located mines, so rapid has been the extension of natural gas pipe-lines to centers of population and the substitution of oil fuel for ships and railroads.

Ten years ago the radio was unknown; today half a million people are engaged in making, selling, servicing radios and broadcasting. There are perhaps as many more engaged in the various occupations incidental to flying.

How the extension of electric light and power lines has brought hundreds of thousands of workers into new occupations in that field alone, and by enabling factories to operate close to the source of their raw materials, is converting hundreds of rural villages into industrial centers, is a familiar story. That expansion has not stopped; it may almost be said to have hardly begun. And every new step which it takes means another shift of people from place to place, of men and women from one sort of job to another sort of a job.

There will never be a complete end to unemployment until such changes as these and the changes which are still to come have ceased. That time is not in sight and there is nothing to indicate that we shall ever reach it. So long as there are new things to do, more young people will try to do them than the new industries have permanent places for. There will always be a fringe of the less competent out of work. But unemployment does not always mean distress. With all of our fluidity of occupational relationships, we the American people as a whole, have a larger cash reserve, in savings banks and life insurance surpluses available as loans on policies, as well as commercial checking accounts, than any other people in the world.

An interesting fact which has just been disclosed is that the heavy withdrawals from savings banks and on life insurance policies at the time of the Wall Street slump last fall were not entirely, as had been supposed, to relieve the distress of those who had lost their money in the stock market. It turns out that these withdrawals were largely by thrifty people who realized that the time to invest in sound securities was when prices were at the bottom, and the stockholders' lists of the great basic corporations reflect this in the immense increase of the number of individual stockholders since last November.

Most of us think we want security. Really most of us being Americans and therefore deriving our heritage from ancestors afflicted with the wandering foot, want adventure. We can grumble loudly enough when any of the constant changes in our industrial and economic scheme affects us adversely, but at heart most of us feel that we would rather live excitingly in America than safely somewhere else.

ized for it, while we believe he is entirely innocent. The matter was finally dropped when directors Jones and Roberts withdrew their motion.

Phillip Morgan of Kingston, was elected as teacher of science at a salary of $1200.00. Mr. Morgan is a graduate of Kingston high school and Hiram College, Ohio. He comes well recommended and should be a credit to our schools.

The resignation of Miss Helen Gildea was read and accepted. Miss Gildea taught English and history in the high school and was held in high esteem by both students and teachers. The meeting adjourned, after calling a special meeting to be held Thursday evening, August 14th at 8 o'clock.

Richard McAndrew, athletic director at Dickinson law college, is spending the balance of the summer with his sister, Mrs. Thomas Burns of Miller street. Mr. McAndrew has just returned from a boy's camp in New Hampshire, where he has been acting as a director for the past several weeks.

FARM CALENDAR
Timely Reminders From
The Pennsylvania State College
School of Agriculture

Give Bees New Queen
Every colony of bees should be requeened each year to rid of the failing queen and to provide a queen capable of building up a strong colony of bees for winter and spring.

Mulch the Rose Bed
An application of peat moss, grass clippings, or buckwheat hulls, to a depth of one inch should be given the rose bed for a mulch during the summer months.

Train and Fit Cattle
Dairy cattle selected for exhibit should be well fed, fitted, and taught to lead. Condition and behavior count tremendously in the judge's estimation.

Pack Fruit Well
Fruit that is packed well will go through to market in better condition and will sell more quickly for a higher price.

Exhibit Farm Products
Fair time is coming. Alert farmers will advertise their business by exhibiting some of their best products.

Feed Wheat to Livestock
Cheap wheat is an economical feed for dairy cattle, swine, and poultry, say state college specialists. Best results are obtained by grinding or cracking the wheat and feeding it in combination with other grains. Wheat is a palatable and nutritious feed.

DALLAS COUNCIL ACCEPTS PETITION

sons had only been in circulation twenty-four hours.

Several citizens interested personally also joined in the request for water plugs.

Borough Solicitor Turner informed the meeting on his interpretation of the law in regard to franchises, etc. He also spoke as an individual in favor of the movement, suggesting that the secretary of the Council request the water company furnish the council with a price on water rental on each plug and thought that twelve plugs would be sufficient to start in covering the closely built up section of the borough.

Council passed a resolution accepting the petition and directed its secretary request the water company to furnish definite information as to the time it could install fire plugs and furnish an adequate water supply for the community.

Richard McAndrew, athletic director at Dickinson law college, is spending the balance of the summer with his sister, Mrs. Thomas Burns of Miller street. Mr. McAndrew has just returned from a boy's camp in New Hampshire, where he has been acting as a director for the past several weeks.

RURAL COMMUNITIES SPONSOR WRIGHT DAY

your batting line-up and I am of the opinion that in reference to past games it would unfold a story of why hits are not made when needed, and the cause for so many Dallas players being left on bases. Kindly accept this in the same spirit in which it is offered. Yours for a winning team. A. Fan."

Thanks, both the management and the manager, appreciate suggestions and this will be published. The manager is a subscriber to the Post, and will take heed to your valuable offerings.

Perry is considered one of the best outfielders in the Wyoming League. He is one who can field his position and hit well which goes to make a first class ball player.

Roche pitched a fine brand of ball as usual and was not removed from the game on account of his performances, but to give Riley an opportunity against the best team in the league.

Hacking did not appear for reasons unknown to the management or manager for he agreed to appear last week. His non-appearance nearly cost Dallas the game for were it not for Warble who had some experience in catching, Dallas would not have been able to place a team in the field. We are informed that a new catcher is now signed up.

The Independent League lost to Plymouth. Our Chocolate Kid did not appear in the line-up at the beginning but when he was called upon he made himself known, being credited with two times at bat and two hits. We were under the opinion that Addison was to hold down first sack and believe that manager Owens made a mistake in breaking up a perfect infield.

The Wyoming League passed all through that stage in trying to get a winning line-up and he should not try the same stunt.

Barrett, who played first base for Power House last week, has been contested by Ashley and the game forfeited. However, Dallas management assumes a different attitude in the matter. Barrett did not make good in the Blue Ridge, so returned home and secured a position with the Power House due to his experience as a ball player. If we were to contest the game, it might place him in a position to lose his job and we do not believe that any ball team, manager or owners should take that attitude.

Dallas dropped its second game to Power Plant by a score of 6 to 2 in a well-played game on Sunday. Riley made his debut with the local club, relieving Roche in the 6th inning, and if his work on the mound is as fire-proof for nine innings as he displayed for three innings, he will have no trouble in holding down a berth in the local line-up.
