Masquerade Dance

The local firemen have completed their plans for the masquerade dance that will be held at Hillside pavilion on Thursday evening, October 30. They have secured the services of Bill Rowlands and his orchestra that will play for the dancing. The proceeds will be used to pay off the current expenses of the fire company and they will appreciate your support. The firemen wish to announce at this time, that persons who are planning to attend do not have to mask if they do not wish to.

Court of Honor

ponding secretary of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Birmingham district convention held at Ashley this week.

SEEN AND HEARD
by Will Wimble

You might live through it, but we are afraid. Here we are again insulting your intelligence by trying to inform you of who's who and what's what along our travels. Well here goes:

The first thing on the program will be a one act play entitled "Herm's Lumbago".

Herm: "Chick, I've got a bad case of lumbago."
Chick: "You've got a bad case of lumbago, Herm?"

Herm: "Yes, sir, Chick, that's what I got."

Chick: "What are you doing about that lumbago, Herm?"

Herm: "Nothing."

Chick: "Nothing?"

Herm: "That's it Chick."

Chick: "But a fellow ought to do something with it Herm."

Herm: "What would you do if you had a bad case of lumbago, Chick?"

Chick: "If I had a bad case of lumbago, Herm; I would sell it. I know a lot of fellows who'll drink most anything." Ha, Ha, Ha!

Did You Know That:

The Kingston township high school is the only high school in the rural district that is not represented with a football team this Fall? The township is much larger than Dallas township and they have a first class team and a very fine coach. And at the present it looks as though the high school will not be represented on the basketball court this winter. Tough!

While we are on the subject of football, would it not be a banner attraction for the back mountain section if a game between the Dallas borough and the Dallas township high schools could meet on the football field?

We were stopped one evening last week by a prominent business man of Shavertown in regard to the unsanitary conditions that exist at the local school house, and the way some of the teachers conduct themselves during school hours, we informed him that we did not care to handle the matter through this column, but that if he would attend the next school board meeting and take it up with the school board, we think that he could get some action. He promised us that he would be there. We shall see.

Another party gave us a calling down for the way the American flag is being cared for at the local school house. We also informed him to attend the next board meeting. We shall also see.

That some mischievous boys who thought that they were having a good time last Saturday when they went over to the residence of George Norton on Huntsville road and dug up five young maple trees that George took time to plant on Labor Day. But George says that if he catches the guilty party it will be just too sad. And do you know that there is a fine of twenty-five dollars for each tree that is dug up like these were—if the guilty party is found?

One of the leading women of the town was overheard making this remark one evening: "I tell our Elizabeth that she ought to have some purpose in life an' she says she has. She says that it's her purpose to try and remain slender."

Ed Preston remembers very well of having seen Earl Carroll's Vanities when he was down to New York recently, but hanged if he can remember seeing the Chrysler building?

The weather as a topic of conversation had a keen competitor in prohibition until that severe rain storm hit this section last Friday.

Tom Higgins says his restaurant coffee gave out this morning, but he'd been expecting it. The stuff had been weak a long time.

"What this country really needs—There you go again!"
I guess I'll go the hill up and go to bed. Good night.
