WAS AT GETTYSBURG

Eli Parrish handed us the following clipping from a western newspaper which gives an interesting sidelight on an incident which happened during the battle of Gettysburg during the Civil War:

Was At Gettysburg

Mrs. Mary Hindman, 83, of Springsville, Iowa, milked the family cow on the bloody field of Gettysburg with bullets whistling all around her.

Mrs. Hindman claims to be the only person now living who resided on that famous field during the battle. Her father, a loyal Union supporter, lived on the southern edge of the battle field, where he had an eighty-acre farm.

By July, 1863, the opposing forces had converged on Gettysburg. Confederate troops overran the farm, but the family was not molested.

A distinguished appearing man called for a drink of water. It was Gen. Lee. "He thanked me," she said, "and, oh! he was a fine gentleman." Mrs. Hindman was Mary Wiseman then, a lass of 16. She ran nearly a half mile through the gunfire, with bullets whistling around her, to milk the cow. Later the family was forced to the attic by the firing and could not get to their well.

Her mother died from typhoid fever as a result of drinking impure water they were forced to use. Orphaned, Mary went to Iowa to live with an aunt.

AUTOS MUST BEAR INSPECTION TAGS AFTER OCTOBER 31

During the last few days noticeable increase has occurred in the number of motor vehicles inspected in Pennsylvania, as required by the recent order of Governor John S. Fisher, authorities said today. The period ends at midnight October 31. After that date, and for thirty days, operators of uninspected cars subject themselves to a fine of $10 and costs.

"It is noticeable that brakes are in unusually bad condition this year," said Captain Price today. "Our details, stationed on hill sections of highways, are amazed at the worthlessness of brakes on the average uninspected car."

"Two qualities of an automobile or truck subtract from the danger of accident. The quick thinking driver who seizes an opportunity to avoid danger by leaping out of its way—who, in other words, steps down on it, and gets away, has taken advantage of one of these qualities. The driver whose brakes are so good that when he pushes down on 'em' his car stops has taken advantage of the other. The operator whose motor is sluggish and whose brakes are bad gives hostages to misfortune, and if he figures in an accident the chances are that it is his own fault. Some one is always at fault in an accident—usually the person with bad brakes and a lazy motor."

Other Dallas News

Manager H. L. Fortner of Dallas and Shavertown Water company is in receipt of a letter from his uncle, Wallace Taylor, who lives in Hot Springs, Ark.

In it Mr. Taylor tells of the extreme heat and drought experienced in that State this summer. The letter is dated the last of September and up until that time there had been no rain in the Hot Springs district since May 18. On some days the temperature rose to 110 degrees. It was so hot and dry during the latter days of August that the leaves wilted and withered off the trees as they do in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Monk are moving their family into their house in Dallas. Mr. Monk's store room and apartments in Shavertown will be occupied by Franklin Malkemes.

R. S. Stevens of Albany, N. Y., hardware buyer for Montgomery-Ward & Co., was the guest of his mother over the week-end. Commenting on business conditions throughout the territory he covers, Mr. Stevens said that business is no better elsewhere than here, with the possible exception of the New England States, where there seems to be a marked trend toward the better in certain lines.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Himmler entertained Mr. and Mrs. Simmons and daughters of Wyoming on Sunday.

L. A. McHenry of Dallas and Richard Stapleton of Kingston motored to Philadelphia on Saturday. They stopped off at Easton to attend the Penn State-Lafayette football game. In Philadelphia Mr. McHenry by coincidence met his uncle, Dr. D. D. McHenry of Oklahoma City who was attending a medical convention in the Quaker city.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Cairl, Cemetery street, was the scene of an enjoyable Hallowe'en party Wednesday evening in honor of her granddaughter, Dorothy Schmassman. The rooms were beautifully decorated with trimmings appropriate for the occasion. Games were played and prizes were awarded as follows: prettiest costume, Eleanor Murphy; comic, Jean Brace. At the height of the festivities a ghost appeared on the scene and entertained the children with weird tales. Dainty refreshments were served to the following: Misses Louise Wilcox, Marguerite Ide, Mary Templin, Jean Brace, Betty Him, Florence Daviss, Eleanor Murphy, Alice Turner, Jane LeGrand, June Williams, Jean Moore, Harriet Dixon, Veronica Wallo, Dorothy Schmassman of Dallas; Emwera: Mrs. Hattie Vanrunk of Shick-

TIMELY REMINDERS

From the Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

Choose Good Sire

Provide now for a better milk producing inheritance in your future herd. Use a good sire from a line of breeding better than that now represented in the herd.

Prepare Plants for Winter

All nursery-grown and native plants, trees, shrubs, and evergreens should be watered thoroughly before heavy frost. Rhododendrons, laurel, and other evergreen shrubs tolerant to acid soil should be mulched with oak leaves or pine needles.

Hear Radio Talks

Timely talks on farm and garden topics are given at noon Monday, Wednesday and Friday from WPS-C, the Pennsylvania State College radio station. The station operates on a frequency of 1230 kilocycles.

Leaves Are Useful

Leaves make a good fertilizer when spaded into the garden soil. They also make a good mulch and protection to rose bushes and shrubs from danger by frost.

Train Colt Early

The education of the colt should not be postponed until it is desired to break him as a three-year old. The colt should be broken to the use of the halter early and prevented from becoming willful and headstrong.

Provide Protection

Tender evergreens can be protected with straw, evergreen boughs, corn fodder, or burlap. Free circulation of air should be allowed.

Grow Profitable Crops

In planning next year's work, try a system which will include several of the crops most profitable in the region over a period of years.

Store Root Crops

You can store vegetable root crops in a barrel outdoors if it is well covered with layers of soil and straw or leaves. The barrel head makes a good door.

PLANES WILL AID FEEDING GAME IN REMOTE SECTIONS

Airplanes again will be used in the winter distribution of food for wild game and birds under present plans of the Game Commission.

Initial experiments made last winter in the scattering of food of all kind in otherwise inaccessible places convinced Commission officials that the airplane is the best means of feeding game.

Wild animals, unlike humans, are unable to draw upon sections not hit by the summer's drought for winter supplies of food. With the exception of squirrels which migrate readily in search of food, most wild animals depend entirely upon the supply adjacent to the place in which they were born. If no such supply is available starvation results.

In addition to the use of airplanes when they are available the Commission also will rely upon the co-operation of the many agencies which in former years assisted in the feeding of wild animals. Organizations of sportsmen, Boy Scouts and mail carriers always assist the game protectors in the winter distribution of food. The Commission distributes a bulletin advising those interested the best ways in which to feed wild animals during the winter months.

FORBIDS SALE OF BOOTLEG ICE CREAM

Dr. James W. Kellogg, director, bureau of foods and chemistry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, has issued the following statement regarding a practice which he terms "bootlegging ice cream."

"The practice of 'bootlegging' ice cream, which has come to the attention of the department recently, consists of an unscrupulous manufacturer taking advantage of another manufacturer's contract for the sale of a well-known recognized brand of cream by submitting the former's own brand to be sold under the advertising devices and contracts of the other manufacturer.

"In some cases these manufacturers entering into such a competition buy so-called ice cream mixes from wholesalers and without much equipment can arrange to complete the product by addition of flavors, fruit, etc., at a much less cost than the person can afford to manufacture and advertise when operating a well-equipped ice cream factory.

"Such a substitution of ice cream is in direct violation of the Ice Cream Law, Section 3, which makes it unlawful for any person to sell any ice cream from any container which is falsely labeled or branded or to misrepresent in any way the place of manufacture of ice cream or the name of the manufacturer.

"While the practice has not gained a very strong foothold in Pennsylvania, ice cream dealers are warned against the sale of substitution of so-called 'bootleg' ice cream for the product which they may be selling under contract with other ice cream manufacturers.

"A check-up is being made by agents of the bureau regarding correctness of advertising and selling ice cream throughout the Commonwealth and any persons found engaging in dispensing 'bootleg' ice cream will be held responsible under the provisions of the Ice Cream Law."

THIS RULE HOLDS

On every side THE DALLAS POST is assailed weekly with a barrage of items in the gist of the regular news telling of suppers, bazaars, plays, card parties, dances and similar affairs where an admission is charged. Obviously these items come under the head of paid advertising inasmuch as an admission is charged or an offering taken. Once in a while these items are of general reader interest but usually they are not, and are of interest only to a restricted group.

Where these affairs come in competition with similar activities conducted by regular advertisers, the running of "free readers" is decidedly unfair to the man who pays for advertising to promote his enterprise.

It would require very little work on the part of the editor and plenty on the part of the composing room of THE POST to fill the paper each week with publicity and propaganda in all shapes and forms. During the past week fifty-six letters were taken from THE POST'S mail containing wirecuts under the guise of news. These wirecuts ranged from publicity stories for automobile and tire manufacturers to propaganda for the salt and sugar refineries and national association of spinach growers. This stuff goes in the waste basket each week, because it is uninteresting, costs money to be set up, and crowds out good local news. THE POST is not edited for any one reader, class, creed, color, manufacturer or merchant. It is edited to interest the general reader, promote community welfare and betterment and to promote a profitable advertising medium for its advertisers.

News is news, advertising is advertising, and free publicity is advertising. Therefore after this issue all notices of entertainments, card parties, suppers and other affairs where an admission is charged or offering taken will be run in an announcement column at regular advertising rates at 2 cents a word or minimum charge of 25c. Church announcements, resolutions of condolence and cards of thanks will be run free as will announcements of affairs where job printing has been purchased from THE POST printshop.
