Death Takes

John Haxton Stock Judge

Native of Scotland Was One of Pennsylvania's Outstanding Experts on Cattle Raising and Breeding.

Paying tribute to a man who had been living in this community eighteen years, and who through his sterling worth as a citizen and cattle expert had made hundreds of friends throughout this region and the State, scores of neighbors, friends and business associates from the back mountain region, as well as friends and relatives from distant points, attended the funeral of John Haxton late manager of Conyngham Hayfield Farms, Wednesday afternoon at Shavertown M. E. church.

Mr. Haxton had been in robust health until about five weeks prior to his death of complications last Sunday noon in Wilkes-Barre General Hospital. Always an active man Mr. Haxton had attended to his duties regularly at the farm and his passing comes as a shock to many of his friends, who had little knowledge of his illness.

John Haxton was born in Kinross, Scotland, 56 years ago, coming to America in 1902. Since that time he had been continuously in the employ of the Conyngham family and for fourteen years was manager of Hayfield Farms.

He was an outstanding authority on live stock and on live stock breeding, and was well known in the county and State where he acted on numerous occasions as judge at farm shows. On several occasions he was a judge at the Chicago National Fair, the largest live stock and farm exhibition in the world.

In 1926 he was chosen judge of live stock at the Sesqui-Centennial celebration in Philadelphia. Only recently for the fifth consecutive year a litter of hogs raised under Mr. Haxton's supervision, won the blue ribbon from the State Department of Agriculture.

He was active in fraternal organizations and was a member of Caldwell Consistory, Scottish Rite, Mason, Bloomsburg, George M. Dallas Lodge, F. & A. M., Dallas, and Irem Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S. He was also a member of the Caledonians, Fraternal Order of Eagles and was an active member of Shavertown M. E. church, from which church the funeral was held.

The services were in charge of Rev. Harry Henry, who paid tribute to the deceased as one of the first citizens of this community. The profusion of floral tributes and the number of friends who attended, gave evidence of the respect in which Mr. Haxton was held here and at a distance by friends, who could not attend the funeral.

The pall bearers were: John Carter, Lansing, Mich., a member of the University of Michigan; Richard Robinson, New York City; Robert Porteous, Amherst, Massachusetts, a member of the faculty of Massachusetts Agricultural College; William Smart of Cleveland, Ohio; Brody Wallace, superintendent of Prairie Farms, Saginaw, Mich., and Adolph Mayer, manager Naemoor Farm.

Flower carriers were: James Burton, Victor Brown, William Mount, Charles Burton, Scott VanHorn, James Wilson, David Bronson, Thomas Bronson, John Bronson, Edward Anderson and Frank Jones.

Interment was in Fern Knoll cemetery, where Masonic services were conducted. Besides his wife Mr. Haxton leaves two children, Margaret, aged 7, and John, aged 16; his mother and two sisters in Scotland, and one brother, David, of Columbus, Ohio; Andrew and George in Canada; a sister, Annie, of Saginaw, Mich., and sister Jessie, in Canada.

Twp. Gridders Are Ready For Tunkhannock

Local Team in Good Condition—Large Cheering Section Will Attend Game at Wyoming County Seat Today.

Following its splendid showing against Wyoming Seminary Junior varsity, when it was defeated by the narrow margin of a 13 to 6 score, Dallas township football team will journey to Tunkhannock today to meet Coach Crosby's Tunkhannock football warriors, who recently held Dallas borough football team to a tie score.

The township team has been schooled in a new series of plays since its game with Wyoming Seminary and it is expected to hold some thrills in its bag of tricks for the Tunkhannock players and fans.

The following is the line-up Coaches Young and Kester expect to put on the field against Tunkhannock: Jackimowitz, right end; Carey, right tackle; Fowler, right guard; Lauderbach, center; Hislop, left guard; Love left tackle; Grivan, left end; Anderson, quarterback; Butler, right halfback; Tanona, left halfback; Matukitas, fullback.

Matukitas as a line plunger is one of the best players ever developed in the back mountain section and his line-plunging ability is expected to have a telling effect on the Tunkhannock forwards. Tanona, left halfback, is another brilliant player on the township team, and because of the clever plays which evolve about him, is expected to star in the game. After the terrible trouncing taken by the Tunkhannock players at the hands of Montrose high school, the township line, which is heavier than the Tunkhannock forwards, is expected to rip big holes in the Tunkhannock line.

Mrs. A. J. Rogers Buried Today

Former Local Woman Was at One Time a Red Cross Nurse in the United States Army Service—Leaves Four Small Children.

Mrs. Andrew J. Rogers, aged 39, a former resident of Dallas, and for a number of years a Red Cross nurse with the United States Army, died in childbirth Tuesday night at 8:30 at Homeopathic hospital, Wilkes-Barre.

Until a few weeks ago, Mrs. Rogers was a resident of Dallas, living in this Monk house on Lake street, until she moved to Welles street, Kingston.

Mrs. Rogers was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parks, of Idetown, and during her girlhood was educated in the schools of Dallas and at Wyoming Seminary, Kingston. Later she studied nursing at Robert Packer hospital, Sayre. After her graduation from that institution she entered the Red Cross Society as a nurse. Her work took her to Fort Bayrd, New Mexico. It was here she met Andrew J. Rogers, of New Bedford, Mass., who was in the United States service. After their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers lived in Phoenix, Arizona, until they moved to this region about four years ago, where Mr. Rogers was employed with Simon Longs and Sons and A. Weltzenkorn Sons, of Wilkes-Barre.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Rogers leaves three small sons, two of them twins, and an infant daughter and the following brothers and sisters: P. H. Parks and Elizabeth Parks, of Idetown; Mrs. Howard Doty, of Benton, and Mrs. Wilbur Hopkins, of Belleville, N. J. She was preceded in death by her brother, James Parks, who died about two months ago.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her brother's home at Idetown. Services will be in charge of Rev. James Burleigh, of Lehman, assisted by Rev. Joshua Brundie, of Parrish street M. E. church, Wilkes-Barre. Interment will be made in the family plot at Idetown.

$5,000 FOR XMAS

Over $5,000 will be paid out by two local banks in Xmas saving checks. The First National Bank of Dallas and The Tanners Bank of Noxen will mail their checks early in December. This is something for local merchants to look forward to.

Water Company Maps Territory

Delivery of Maps By Engineers Marks First Step in Company's Plans for Developing Local Holdings.

As the first step in its plans for development and improvement of its holdings, Dallas-Shavertown water company has been handed over sixteen general survey maps of this region made by Wintermute-Halsey, Wilkes-Barre engineers.

The maps, which were made at a cost of $2,000, show all of the water company holdings as well as every community and building within an area of thirty square miles and are the result of three months detailed work here by the engineers.

Four sets of blue prints have been made from the original sketches. Two sets will be sent to the New York offices of the water company and two sets will remain in the possession of the local office.

All of the water company mains will be sketched upon these maps. From the sketches engineers in the New York office will plan improvements and extension of service.

Improvements which the company has in mind include the laying of new mains, replacing small mains with larger ones, securing additional water supply and providing increased storage facilities.

Work on the new system will start just as soon as preliminary surveys and plans are completed which will probably not be until spring.

Pioneer Lumberman Is Buried at Noxen

Jacob Huntsinger, Long Associated With the Lumbering Industry in North Mountain Region Dies at Home of Son.

The funeral of James Huntsinger, aged 79, pioneer lumberman on North Mountain tracts and for many years associated with the Stull lumber interests, was held Thursday afternoon from the home of his son, James Huntsinger, of Wyoming, with interment in Orcutt's Grove cemetery at Noxen. The funeral services were in charge of Rev. George Summerton, of Wyoming M. E. church.

Mr. Huntsinger was born at Wyalusing and spent the major part of his life in lumbering, being compelled to retire four years ago by infirmities incident to advanced age. Mr. Huntsinger knew the mountains and hills of the back region perhaps as well as any man now living and his passing thus again those ranks of pioneer citizens who took an active part in the great lumbering industry that once thrived along the region of the Bowman's Creek railroad.

Immediate survivors are: four sons, Earl, of Wyoming; Cecil J., of Trucksville; Cyrus H., of Laurel Run; Leroy H., of Shickshinny, and two brothers, Edward, of Scranton; Fred of Towanda, and one sister, Emma H., of Philadelphia.

Mrs. George Lewis Dies at Lehman

Popular Local Woman Passes Away After Illness of Two Years—Funeral Saturday From Late Home.

The funeral of Mrs. George Lewis, of Lehman, who died Tuesday morning at 7:30, following a lingering illness of complications, will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 from the late home in Lehman. Services at 2 o'clock will be held at Lehman M. E. church with Rev. Samuel McDowell in charge. Burial will be in Maple Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Lewis had been ill the last two years. Her husband had farmed at Buttonwood for twenty years, but for last five years has been engaged in farming and dairying at Lehman. Mrs. Lewis is one of the best known agriculturists in the county and is a brother of Asa E. Lewis, compensation referee.

Mrs. Lewis, the daughter of Daniel and Lydia Snyder Shupp, was born fifty-five years ago at Pike's Creek. Her parents have died within the last two years, her father at the age of 85 and her mother at the age of 80. She had been married to Mr. Lewis for twenty-five years. Mrs. Lewis was widely respected for her many fine traits of character and was a member of Lehman M. E. church.

Surviving, besides her husband, are a step-son, Francis, of Lehman; a brother, Amos Shupp, of Pike's Creek; a sister, Mrs. Ira Davenport, of this city, and one grandchild.

LOCAL MAN ARRESTED

Frank I. Jones, an employee of Hayfield Farms, was arrested when he tried to pass a forged check at E. & J. Taylor's store in Luzerne.

The check for $94.50 having the signature of John Conyngham and drawn on the Liberty Bank of Wilkes-Barre, aroused the suspicion of Mr. Taylor. He called the bank and found that Mr. Conyngham's name had been forged. Chief of Police, Thomas Ford, of Luzerne, was called and Jones was held for forgery.

Popular Pitcher Injured in Mines

"Chet" Culver in Pittston Hospital With Fractured Leg as Result of Mine Car Accident.

"Chet" Culver, popular Dallas base ball pitcher, is in Pittston hospital, recovering, from injuries received when he was seriously injured while at work in the mines of the Pennsylvania Colliery at Pittston.

Besides a fractured leg Culver received other injuries and possible fracture and internal injuries. Monday afternoon, when a mine car loaded with rock toppled over on him, pinning him underneath the wreckage. After the accident it was more than half an hour before help reached him and he was immediately rushed to the hospital.

"Chet," as he is affectionately known to hundreds of back mountain baseball fans, pitched this summer for the Dallas team. Through his good sportsmanship and pleasant disposition he has won a warm place in the heart of all of those who love baseball. He is married and has three children. His home is DeMunds road, Fernbrook.

Young Men Meet to Discuss Club

Kiwanis Club Offers Backing to Group Interested in Social, Civic, Athletic and Dramatic Activities.

A committee of three composed of Phil Anderson, Kenneth Woolbert and James Garey met last night with Mt. Greenwood Kiwanis Club and gave reports on progress made in the establishment of a young men's club for the back mountain region.

Kiwanis Club has given its moral support to such an organization and at its meeting at Colonial Inn last week invited the young men of the region as its guests to discuss the organization of a club for young men to promote social, dramatic, athletic and civic activities. Membership in the club will be limited to young men above eighteen years of age.

On Sunday the young men who attended the Kiwanis meeting had an organization meeting in the Dallas Bank building and formed a temporary organization with Kenneth Woolbert as chairman. At that time twenty-five young men were picked as charter members. These men will attend a dinner meeting tonight at 6:30 in the Meridian restaurant, where there will be speakers and where plans will be formulated for the winter's activities of the club.

Anna Legosh Is Bride of Kingston Man

Couple Leaves on Wedding Trip to Cuba at Conclusion of Reception Following Ceremony in St. John's Church, Kingston.

The wedding of Miss Anna Legosh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Legosh, of Dallas, and Rudolph R. Balut, of Kingston, took place Wednesday afternoon at 3 at St. John's Russian Orthodox church, Kingston.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Mary Nevitsky and the best man was Basil Pelesh. Other attendants were Helen Balut, sister of the bridegroom, and Arline Legosh, sister of the bride. Nellie Noylis and Antoinette Glowa were bridesmaids. Ushers were Mathew Legosh, Raymond Balut, John Blanner and John Ontko.

After the ceremony a reception was held for 150 guests at Hotel Terminal. Mrs. Balut is a charming young woman and has a host of friends among the younger set of the back mountain region. Mr. Balut is an enterprising young business man of Kingston and is associated with his father in Kingston in the fur business.

After a wedding trip to Cuba they will be at home to their friends in Dallas.

GETS IMPORTANT APPOINTMENT

Mrs. G. A. Kuehn, local leader of Republican Women's Council, received the appointment to the Hospitality Committee of State Republican Council at their meeting held in the Penn-Harris Hotel, Harrisburg, Pa., on Wednesday.

ELI PARRISH OBSERVES BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Eli Parrish, of Dallas, who observed his 88th birthday anniversary on Armistice Day, was the guest of honor last Sunday at a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parrish, of Carverton. Other guests were: Jacob Rice, of Trucksville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parrish, of Carverton, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Parrish, of Dallas.

IT'S BUSINESS AND IT'S FUN

Jacob Rau, of Shavertown, says it's business and it's fun to run classified ads in THE DALLAS POST. It's business because classified ads get results, and it's fun because of the eagerness with which people respond to classified ads. Recently Mr. Rau advertised a small heating stove for sale. The first man who inquired about the stove bought it, but think of the other twenty-three persons who answered that ad and were disappointed because it was sold. You can reach these people if you have a stove for sale by advertising in THE POST'S classified column.

Rural Students Invited to See Famous Plays

Famous Players to Present "Julius Caesar" and "Macbeth" at G. A. R. High School, Wilkes-Barre.

Students in the schools of the back mountain region have been invited to attend the two performances of the Shakespeare players of New York City, who will present "Julius Caesar" and "Macbeth" Monday afternoon and evening, November 24, at G. A. R. high school, Wilkes-Barre.

"Julius Caesar" will be presented at 2:15 P. M., and "Macbeth" will be presented at 7:15 in the evening.

SHAKESPEARE PLAYERS TO BRING FINE COMPANY

The company is headed by James Hendrickson and Claire Bruce. Mr. Hendrickson, who is the director of the players, has had a long experience in Shakespearean repertoire having played in the companies both of Fritz Leiber and Robert B. Mantell. Miss Bruce has also had several years of Shakespearean repertoire as well as numerous engagements with New York companies, such as Penella's Spanish opera, "The Wildcat," the Theatre Guild's "Peer Gynt," etc., etc.

John C. Hickey is one of the finest character actors on the American stage and his experience dates back to his beginnings as property boy in the famous company of Frederick Warde and Louis James and Marie Wainwright. Mr. Hickey appeared last season on Broadway in his original role of Salmon P. Chase in the revival of Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln."

Stanley Cobley, Webster Patterson, Mary Glover, Robert Green, Grace Randall and Martin Wells are the other members of the cast. A 25c admission will be charged.

Blind Merchant Has Kept Store Two Score Years

Peter Brong, of Evans Falls, Will Celebrate 82d Birthday Anniversary on Sunday.

Peter Brong, blind merchant of Evans Falls, will celebrate his eighty-second birthday anniversary on Sunday. "Uncle Peter," as he is known to every one for miles around, is enjoying good health and is probably the most cheerful business man to be found in these hectic days of business depression and general slump in business conditions.

For more than forty years "Uncle Peter" has been tending store at Evans Falls, taking care of the daily tasks of a merchant, waiting on trade and stopping now and then to chat with neighbors and city tourists who stop in his store to pass the time of day, buy their daily needs or fill their automobile tanks with gasoline.

"Uncle Peter" can find his way about the store without the slightest difficulty. Whether it's a pound of coffee or something from the top shelves or a bottle of pop that comes from the cellar, "Uncle Peter" can get it and can make change as good as anybody.

Nobody who travels over the Bowman's Creek road to Tunkhannock ever misses having "Uncle Peter's" store pointed out to him, especially if he is traveling with someone who knows the country.

Winter and summer, spring and autumn, "Uncle Peter" has come to be as much a part of the countryside as the hills and streams of the region. Fishermen stop to visit with him, hunters stop to sit beside his cheerful fire and talk over their hunting exploits.

For fifty years "Uncle Peter" has been blind. For forty years he has been a merchant. And in all of that time doing business with the public he still has faith in the honesty of man. Few, indeed, are the customers who take advantage of his blindness. "Uncle Peter's" faith in humanity was shaken.

Late one stormy night an automobile stopped in front of "Uncle Peter's" store. Someone in the car called to him to come down stairs and get them some gasoline so that they could be on their way. "Uncle Peter" accommodated as ever, dressed, opened his store and began pumping gasoline into the automobile tanks. Hardly had he started his task before he was beaten and bound. And the thugs who were in the party ransacked his store stealing horse blankets and whatever they could get their hands on. No one has ever been able to find who the robbers were.

With the exception of this incident, "Uncle Peter" has had little difficulty in running his store. Year in, year out, his customers come and go without giving thought that they are trading in a store run by a blind man, one of the few stores of its kind to be found in the United States.

LEHMAN BOWS TO DALLAS BOROUGH

Lehman high school's unpracticed, fighting football team met defeat at the hands of Dallas Borough on Friday afternoon by the score of 27-0. The score does not indicate how well the Lehman boys played considering the Dallas team's large weight advantage and also, that Lehman has not practiced recently.

The Lehman team journeyed to Dallas minus two varsity back field men and one varsity lineman, which was one of the big factors why they did not win.

Gordon Randall, one of Lehman's fleet-footed backfield men, made some good gains in the game. Near the end of the game he broke loose around right end for a gain of twenty yards. He looked as if he was going to score, but was tackled about fifteen yards from the goal line.

The Lehman team wish to express their sympathy for Robert Elpper, a Dallas backfield man, who was injured near the end of the game.

GIRL SCOUTS BUSY MAKING CHARITY DOLLS

Dallas Girl Scouts, Troop No. 7, met in the H. S. Auditorium, Wednesday afternoon with a very good attendance, only 2 members being absent.

The girls are busy at present dressing dolls for the Kindergarten Association in Wilkes-Barre, in this way doing their part in community service.

They are also working on plans for a cake sale to be held in the near future to raise money to buy Girl Scout uniforms for the girls who are not able to buy them. The troop is anxious to have all girls in uniform by the beginning of the year.

MEETING CHANGED

The meeting of Shavertown M. E. church Foreign Missionary Society which was scheduled for Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Howard Appleton, has been advanced to Monday at the same place.

BOROUGH P. T. A. TO MEET

There will be a meeting of Dallas Parent-Teacher Association Monday night in the borough high school auditorium. The program will include a speaker and entertainment. Refreshments will be served.
