Seen and Heard

I noticed during the week:
That the streams are higher than has been customary for the last eight months or more.
That a foretaste of summer traffic was given last Sunday afternoon.
That the road drags are kept rather busy around the country.
That baseball games were in progress on many lots hereabouts.
That now is a good time to go over your trout lines and rub them down with deer or mutton fat. It is best to keep the high priced lines on a large wooden or aluminum rings. Keeping lines in this manner prevents them from becoming permanently coiled.
That politics are being discussed in various meeting places and a number of new persons have been mentioned as possible candidates.
Our society editor says she guesses the reason she doesn't get along better, is because she never subscribed $25 to have her name entered in "Who's Who in Newspaperdom."
As soon as a man discards the coal shovel, he takes on the wife's salad garden.
The unpleasant noise the politicians hear is the VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.
Scientists declare we mortals utilize about 10 per cent of our brains, which probably includes the birds that come over the top of the hill on the wrong side of the road.
"Hod" Jenkins says the only time he ever shirks duty is when the wife wants a drink of water in the middle of the night and he pretends he is asleep.
"Hod" Jenkins is getting a kick out of research work. He follows the Sheriff around. After the official searches the car, "Hod" searches it again to see if there was any good stuff overlooked.
Jim says that the lamb that follows Mary to school these days has to make it at 50 miles an hour.
For Sale—Fine Jersey cow giving six gallons of milk and butter a day. He is gentle, likes dogs and can be milked by a child. Phone 456-J.
Mrs. George Shaver, who won a garbage dispenser at the firemen's card party last week, has placed it in her husband's barber shop so that the members of the "Spit and Argue Club" can make use of it during their hot debates.

No Bogus Operators' Licenses In State

Keystone Automobile Club States Reports to Be Without Foundation—Difference Due to Use of Numbering Machines

State-wide reports that bogus operators' licenses have been sent to motorists are found by the Keystone Automobile Club to be without foundation.
Benjamin C. Eynon, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, informed the club the apparent difference in cards is due to the use of new numbering machines in the Department of Revenue. These machines use a different style of type and the numbers are printed in black ink. Only part of the State's 2,500,000 drivers' cards were stamped by the new machines, and comparison with the blue-stamped licenses led to the widespread stories of "forged" and "counterfeit" cards.
"We have received hundreds of telephone and personal calls in the last few days," said J. Maxwell Smith, General Manager of the Club, "respecting the genuineness of operators' licenses, and this statement is made to set the minds of car owners at rest. There is no opportunity for fraud in the issuance of licenses in this State and every card sent out from the Department of Revenue is genuine."

-Noxen-

Miss Freda Dendler and Rowland Lilley were united in marriage by Rev. L. W. Ylengst, pastor of German Lutheran Church, Archbald, Pa., at high noon on Saturday, March 28th.
The couple were attended by Bina Dendler and Roy Dendler, sister and brother of the bride. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dendler, of Noxen.
The church was prettily decorated with a display of Easter lilies, tulips, daffodils and hyacinths. The organist played Lohengrin wedding march. The ring ceremony was used.
The bride was attired in a light blue dress with hat to match, while the bridesmaid wore a pink dress and hat to match.

Mrs. Lilley is a graduate of Noxen high school of 1923, and after her graduation, took a course in beauty culture in Binghamton, where she has been engaged in that line of work.
