

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

newspapers have not forgotten the phrases of former days but for the most part those phrases are a lot of applause that comes in handy when reporters want to get behind fire lines, free passes for circuses, baseball games and electrocutions. For example, would you give up your life for the right to vote? Many of your ancestors did. Many people today are interested in voting only as they are paid to vote. The same applies to newspaper's, city papers excepted. As for The Dallas Post, our investment isn't very large and Lord knows how long it has been since we made any profit.—Editor

Dear Editor:
Pennsylvania is foremost of all the States in Sunday School work and other Christian Educational activities. Pennsylvania has the largest number of people enrolled in Sunday Schools 2,198,761. This is more than any other State in the union and more than any other organization in the State. It is more than one-fifth of the entire population of the State.
Every County has an auxiliary organization—all working together regardless of denomination, uniting all Protestants to give every boy and girl and man and woman a knowledge of the Bible and Christian service. Last year, 66,570 people came from the 10-35 Sunday Schools into church membership. This is seventy per cent of all the additions to the church by baptism and confirmation.
On October 14-15-16, 2,500 chosen leaders from this host of Sunday School workers will meet in annual Convention in Altoona. Every County in the State will be represented by an assigned quota. Speakers from all parts of the continent will participate in the three day program. The Secretary of the World's Sunday School Association, the General Secretary of the International Council of Religious Education and the Vice-President of the United Society of Christian Endeavor will deliver the addresses.
The forenoon and evening sessions will be held in Jaffa Mosque which seats 5,000. The Railroads have granted a fare and one-half rate for round trip tickets. Information may be secured from Mrs. G. M. Roat, County Secretary, 60 Main Ave., Kingston. Any religious educational worker may become an accredited delegate.

Dear Editor:
Your last edition of the Post was a jewel and unusually interesting to me. I get a great kick out of your paper, enjoy its errors and admire its spirit.

"Not to Make Life easier, but men stronger" was a splendid editorial well worth reprinting in metropolitan newspapers.

The phrase with which you so aptly headed the editorial, was first spoken by that great Californian the late David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford University. I have often heard Dr. Jordan speak and know much of his philosophy. I am sorry your paper did not carry an account of his death a week or so ago. In most of the city papers than the death caused far less comment than the recent shooting of a gangster, despite David Starr Jordan's great contribution to the world as an educator.
