Headlines Of The Week

A summary of this week's news of international interest, reviewed for Post readers.

SEARCH

One year ago Wednesday, Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., was stolen from his crib. The search for the kidnaper-murderer continues. The Lindbergh home at Hopewell is for sale.

TRIP

Fourteen-year-old Toby Clark's 800-mile trip from Georgia to Washington to witness the inaugural ceremonies on a pony was interrupted this week when an automobile knocked his pony from under him thirty-five miles from Washington. After receiving first aid, Toby continued his trip astride another pony.

INAUGURAL

One hundred eighty radio stations throughout United States and other rebroadcasting units in England, Germany, South America, Africa and Asia will carry the inauguration of President-elect Roosevelt to all corners of the globe on Saturday.

VALLEE

As he did in Fernbrook park last Summer, Rudy Vallee leapt from a stage to engage in fistfights with a heckler in Raleigh, N. C., this week. Because of the similarity of the two incidents, cynics smelled a publicity stunt.

WILL

In her will, Miss Corine Young of New York, who died this week left $2,000 to the Society of Jesus with the request that 2,000 masses be offered for the repose of her soul.

RESIGNS

James A. Farley, campaign manager for President-elect Roosevelt, resigned as chairman of the New York State Athletic commission this week in time to prepare for his new position, that of Postmaster General in the Roosevelt cabinet.

WORDS

There are only 250,000 words in the English language, Professor Ramsey of University of Missouri announced this week. Estimates previously had been placed at as many as two or three million words.

BEST-DRESSED

American men are better dressers than their European brothers, the New York Cutters' Club decided this week. Emphasis is placed on the contention that American tailoring is the best in the world.

INQUIRY

Startled by the alarming maneuvers which were aired during the probe into stock market activities, the Senate this week voted unanimously to extend the inquiry through the first session of the new Congress.

PLOT

Aroused by revelation of an alleged Communist plot to overthrow the Government, President Von Hindenburg of Germany this week signed an emergency degree placing Germany under virtual martial law and making Chancellor Hitler police dictator.

Multer Stresses Rarity Of Event For Democrats

Optimism is a great tonic. The Republican party — so soon after its stinging defeat at the polls in the last election — is even now certain of a quick return to power. There seems to be no doubt in the minds of Republican leaders that the youth of America, upon whose shoulders the future of the nation rests, is solidly behind Republican principles of government, and of course, the Republican party.

William Multer, Chairman of the Luzerne County Republican Committee called The Post today:

"I wish you would, through the columns of your paper, urge all my friends in your locality to attend the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt tomorrow. It will be an event ever to be remembered" — hastily we inquired, "Well, Mr. Multer, why are you, a Republican, urging your friends to attend a Democratic inauguration?" The mystery was cleared up when he replied, "I am not finished yet. I want all my friends out there to attend this event, because it is the last opportunity they will have in their lifetimes to see a Democratic inauguration." We think that is optimism.

GETS BIG LEAGUE TRY-OUT

Frank Rusloski, a member of the league-leading Lehman basketball team, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Rusloski of Huntsville, will be given a try-out with the St. Louis Robins baseball team at its winter training camp in Texas within a few weeks.

Last year Rusloski was a star pitcher with the Polish National team of Wyoming Valley.

Aged Resident Taken By Death

Mrs. M. C. Honeywell Dies Friday Morning Following Lingering Illness

The funeral of Mrs. C. M. Honeywell, aged 72, who died of complications was held Monday afternoon from her late home in Dallas township. Services were conducted by Rev. F. D. Hartsock of Dallas M. E. church.

Mrs. Honeywell was a life long resident of Dallas as were her parents before her who until she was ten years of age conducted the Dallas hotel. Born Emma F. Frantz, she married the late C. M. Honeywell when she was a young woman and for sometime thereafter made her home in Wilkes-Barre. Her husband, who for many years conducted a farm and was later Northeastern Pennsylvania representative for the Reading Chemical Company, preceded her in death about eight years ago. Had Mrs. Honeywell lived until June she would have been 73 years of age.

Mrs. Honeywell was a woman of fine personality and lovely disposition. She was prone to devote much of her attention to her home and family, seldom entering into community affairs. Always cheerful, she was pleasant companion, wise counselor, and true friend. Of late years failing health kept her much at home. Since suffering a stroke last October she was confined to her bed much of the time up to her death. She was a life long member of Dallas M. E. Church.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Robert Hislop, with whom she made her home, she leaves a son Russell, of Binghamton, N. Y., and another son, Fred, of Kunkle. She also leaves nine grandchildren.

Pallbearers were: C. A. Frantz, Sterling Machell, Charles Harris, Nelson Whipp, Sherman Hildebrand, and D. P. Honeywell. Flower carriers were nephews of the deceased. Interment was in the family vault in Woodlawn cemetery.

Local Men Will See Inaugural Ceremonies

Among those who are attending the inaugural ceremonies in Washington this week are John Sullivan, local Democratic booster and Squire Harry Anderson.

They left early Thursday morning and will stay at the Hotel Ambassador while in the capital city. Accompanying them on their trip will be several friends from Scranton.

In an effort to check up on local persons who will be in Washington, Saturday, a Post representative was unable yesterday to learn of any other persons from this region who will be present. Apparently this rock ribbed Republican region is suffering enough chagrin without going to Washington for further humiliation at the hands of the Democrats.

Broken Valve On Plane Prevents Visit Here

A broken valve that was not on the program of a six-day flight over the eastern part of the United States Monday prevented First Lieutenant John P. Kirkendall from visiting his father, George T. Kirkendall of Dallas.

Lieut. Kirkendall and a brother officer are on a trip from Fort Sill, Okla., to Chicago, Detroit, Dayton, Mitchell Field, Washington, Fort Bragg, S. C., Pensacola, Shreveport and Fort Sill. The flight is to take six days.

They planned to stop at Fort Fort Airport Monday morning and spend a few minutes with Lieut. Kirkendall's brother and father.

A valve that broke while they were flying over Stroudsburg necessitated a sudden change of plans and they were forced to go on to Umontown where the motor was repaired. A telephone call to Dallas explained the situation and the postponement of the visit.

Volunteer Labor Greatly Improves Church Facilities

New Assembly Room Will Give Dallas M. E. Church More Opportunity For Community Service

Church To Be Painted

Through the volunteer services of men of the community in cooperation with services granted by borough council including the use of the street department truck, Dallas M. E. church is undergoing a number of marked changes.

For the past several months volunteer workers have been excavating the cellar of the church to make way for a new assembly room, kitchen, and furnace room. To date more than six hundred loads of dirt have been taken from underneath the church. Each load being about one and one-half cubic yards. When excavation is completed the floor space of the church will have been increased with the additions of a basement assembly room eighty by thirty feet in size with an L. thirty by thirty feet. The new furnace room will be about thirty-six by twelve feet.

The rooms will have a nine foot height and will be concrete along the side walls for about three feet. The rest of the distance to the ceiling will be lathed and plastered. The ceiling will probably be of metal although this has not been definitely decided.

The main assembly room will have two exits. There will be a stairway leading to the church proper and there will also be toilet facilities.

To furnish light for the main room, windows will be cut through the stone walls of the church at intervals of six feet.

The kitchen which will be about sixteen by thirty-four feet will be modern and complete in every detail.

Estimates for the work by an excavation contractor sometime ago placed the cost of the work at well over $1,800. Needless to say the fine cooperative spirit shown by men of the community in contributing their work gratis has cut this cost almost a sixth of this amount.

Much of the soil taken from underneath the church has been used as fill on borough streets. A considerable amount will also be used in regrading the church grounds.

Work on the exterior of the church building and grounds will include grading and construction of a cess-pool twelve by twelve feet in dimension. In the spring the church will be given two coats of paint by volunteer painters, the board of trustees furnishing the paint. A new roof will also be put on the parsonage.

During the time the work has been in progress between seventy-five and one hundred men gave their services. There is hardly a day that less than twenty men have been at work.

The work is under the supervision of the board of trustees of the church with the assistance of the Ladies' Aid society.

Russell G. Roberts

Russell G. Roberts, 83, a lifelong resident of Lake Township, Hunlock Creek section, died Monday morning at 2 at the family home. Mr. Roberts was born in Lake Township and had resided there all his life. He was a devout member of Maple Grove M. E. Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mary A. Roberts; a son, Walter E. Roberts, of Barington, N. J., and a daughter, Addie H. Cobleigh of Luzerne.

Funeral services were held at Maple Grove M. E. Church on Thursday afternoon at 2. Interment was in Maple Grove Cemetery.

No Dumping Ground

Dallas borough council will hold its monthly meeting in the borough building next Tuesday night. Members of council have advised citizens that the borough dumping ground in the vicinity of Fernbrook has been discontinued for the present, so that local persons will have to seek other places to dump garbage and ashes until new arrangements can be made by council to take care of this material.

Ask For Furniture

Members of the new American Legion Post in Luzerne are asking ex-soldiers and others who have furniture suitable for use in the club rooms and which has been discarded to notify The Post. The furniture will be repaired and renovated for use in the new house on Union street, Luzerne.

Dallas Defeats Beaumont To Tie For First Place

Great Battle Expected When League Leaders Meet Here To Break Tie

Stemming a desperate second-half rally, Dallas borough High School basketball team vanquished Beaumont 28 to 18, Friday night at the borough gymnasium.

It was all Dallas' game the first half, but for the rest of the game it was a different story. Coach Austin's war talk between halves worked wonders with his team and it came back on the floor determined to win. Beaumont held Dallas to two foul goals during the whole third quarter. Unable to sustain the terrific pace however, Beaumont's let-up allowed Dallas to run away with the game.

The borough team was erratic in its shooting: bombarding the hoop with the ball and making only a small percentage of its tries.

McMillen, of Beaumont, showed the fans just how the ball should be handled. He is shifty, and clever with the ball and has no peer in the Conference as far as dribbling is concerned. He was Beaumont's greatest threat and it was only Lavelle's excellent defensive work that held him in check.

Dallas exhibited a brand of teamwork that will make it difficult going for any of its future opponents.

Beaumont Victor Over Dallas Girls

Failing to come out of their lethargy, Dallas borough girls again lost, this time to the Beaumont quintet 15 to 8. Fedor was out of the Dallas line-up. Had she been in Dallas probably would have pulled out on the long end of the score.

Borough Meets Township Tonight

This is the game that many local fans have been waiting for. Both schools always have been bitter rivals and although the township team is not exactly up to par this year, it isn't to be taken lightly as Laketon can testify. The Kester boys have been pointing for this game and they would like nothing better than to humble the Conference co-leaders, and the chances are that they may.

Accommodations have been made for the large crowd that is expected to witness the battle; it is more than likely that most of the vantage points will be taken long before the game starts.

Teachers Salaries Held Up

Many teachers in Wyoming county are wondering when the State appropriations will come to the districts of their county so that back salaries can be paid. Wyoming county because of alphabetic order is one of the last counties on the State appropriation list to receive its funds from the State. While many of the districts have been able to pay their teachers out of current funds, other districts of the county have been handicapped. This is especially so of the smaller districts. Monroe township, in which Beaumont high school is located, has been unable to meet its salary requirements to both bus drivers and teachers for the past two months.

Milton Zacharias Dies

Milton Zacharias, 65, well known farmer of Beaumont, died at his home on Thursday morning, of carcinoma of his stomach. He is survived by his wife, two sons, George at home and Harry of Beaumont; also by seven grandchildren and the following brothers and sisters: Arthur in the West, Bert of Scranton, Walter of Johnson City, N. Y., Mrs. Anna Kels and Mrs. Leonore Meister, both of Avoca, and Mrs. Ida Thomas of Mildred. The funeral was held Monday afternoon. Interment was in Kitchen Cemetery, Alderson.

Reckless Driver Fined

At a hearing before Justice of the Peace John Yapple on Monday night the driver of the Woodlawn Farm Dairy truck in this territory was fined $12. for reckless driving.

There is considerable reckless driving in both the borough and the township and police officers of both communities have announced that a determined drive will be made to break up the practice. Local and out-of-town drivers are warned that driving endangering the lives of pedestrians and other motorists will no longer be tolerated.

Z. F. Schooley Mourned Here

Was Successful Farmer and Former President of Luzerne Bank

The funeral of Z. F. Schooley, one of the most substantial and best loved men of the rural region was held Wednesday afternoon from the late home on Harris Hill, Trucksville. Funeral services were in charge of Rev. J. Rolland Crompton of Trucksville M. E. Church. Interment was in the Trucksville cemetery. Profusion of floral tributes and the large number of neighbors and friends from Wyoming Valley attested to the high esteem in which Mr. Schooley was held both here and in Wyoming Valley where he had business relations.

Directors of Merchants and Miners Bank of Luzerne where Mr. Schooley served as president until its consolidation with Luzerne National Bank sometime ago, attended the funeral in a body. Services at the grave were in charge of George M. Dallas Lodge of Masons.

Pall bearers were: A. C. Dymond, Fred Anderson, Edwin Hay, Corey Gordon, Harold Pringle and Archie Woolbert.

Honorary pallbearers were: W. J. Robins, E. M. Rosser, Morris Judkovic, Myer Greenwald, P. J. Finn, Fred Bittenbender, Jacob Winters and Arthur Gay.

Ziba Schooley one of Luzerne County's most successful farmers and a resident of Trucksville his entire life, died on Sunday night in General hospital following an operation for gallstones. He had been a patient there for 10 days. Mr. Schooley was president of Merchants and Miners Bank of Luzerne before it was merged with Luzerne National Bank.

He was born on the farm, on which he lived all his life, on January 9, 1859, the only son of the late Joseph and Lydia Frantz Schooley. His ancestors on both sides were among the earliest settlers of this vicinity, Capt. David Schooley having been an uncle.

Mr. Schooley's early education was obtained in the local schools. Throughout his entire life he followed the farming vocation and was numbered among the most successful in this region. His talents were recognized and since its inception he was a prominent member of the Farm Bureau and later of Luzerne County Agricultural Extension Association, being on the executive committee at his death.

For many years he played an important part in the community life of Kingston Township. When the Harris Hill section was part of the Carverton M. E. charge he was Sunday School superintendent for many years. He served two terms as tax collector and two terms as school director in Kingston township and for the past several years had been one of the trustees for the Proprietors' Fund of Kingston Township.

He was a director and president of Merchants and Miners Bank of Luzerne for the four years preceding its merger with Luzerne National Bank.

Of a genial disposition and a kindly nature Mr. Schooley won a wide circle of friends and a deserved popularity. At the time of his death he was a member of Trucksville M. E. Church and George M. Dallas Lodge, F. & A. M.

Surviving are the following children: Joseph B. Schooley, Mrs. Karl F. Stock and Mrs. Ralph L. Hazeltine, all of Trucksville, and Dr. Sherman R.

Mary Elizabeth Dodgens

Mary Elizabeth Dodgens, 68, a well known and highly respected resident of Trucksville, died Sunday at her home on Main street, that place, following several weeks illness.

Surviving are the following children Mrs. R. W. Little and Clarence at home; Lewis of Mt. Greenwood and Frederick of Houston, Texas. Four grandchildren also survive.

The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 from the home at Trucksville and was private. Rev. J. Rolland Crompton officiated and interment was in Trucksville cemetery.

Mrs. Myrtle Shales Garris

Funeral services for Mrs. Myrtle Shales Garris were held Monday afternoon from the family home at Bunker Hill, Kingston township. Rev. James Bryden, pastor of First Baptist Church, Kingston, officiated.

Flowers were carried by Helen Doyer, Florence Prudhoe, Melva Griffith and Mary Barnes. Bearers were Clarence Barnes, Miles Shales, John Griffith, William Major, Paul Lattimer and Irvin Hendershot. Interment was in Carverton Cemetery.

Fine Cast Chosen For Circus Solly

Musical Comedy Will Be Presented Thursday Night In School Auditorium

Working with an energy that is bound to be crowned with success next Thursday night when it presents its musical comedy, "Circus Solly," in Dallas borough high school auditorium, members of Dr. Henry M. Laing fire company this week started the ball rolling for the biggest community event that has been scheduled in years.

Miss Potter, director of the production, arrived Monday to take over rehearsals and since that time there have been practice sessions every night in the borough school building.

More than one hundred persons will take part in the production. Costumes and scenery will be shipped here from New York.

Members of the cast are: Jane Brown, Mrs. Harold Rood; Circus Solly, Philip Anderson; Betty Wood, Mrs. G. K. Swartz; Bud Berry, William Thomas; McGinty, Arthur Franklin; Widow Willow, Lettie Lee; Hickory Bender, Ralph Rood; Simon Rotosky, Leslie Warhola; Annie, Margaret Thomas; Tina, Marie Woolbert; Barker, James Gentsel, Elizabeth Love, pianist. Girls of Dallas township high school will make up the chorus.

Committees appointed by the fire company are as follows: General chairman; A. C. Woolbert, Warden Kunkle; Program committee, Fred Bauer, Robert Hislop, Harry Garrahan; Advertising committee, John Yapple, Arthur Newman, Milford Shaver; Ticket committee, Robert Allen, Warden Kunkle, Leslie Warhola, Timothy La-Bar, Charles Reigle, Clarence Gay, Grover Jones; Talent committee, A. C. Woolbert, John Yapple, Warden Kunkle.

Fire Destroys Lake Property

High Winds And Quick Spread Of Flames Hamper Fire Companies

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Monastery of Congregation of Sacred Heart of Jesus, Harvey's Lake on Monday night. Dr. Henry M. Laing Fire company responded to the alarm at about 6 p. m., assisting Harvey's Lake fire company in preventing spread of the flames to nearby buildings.

High winds and the nature of the fire in the monastery prevented the companies from doing much to save the monastery which was well on its way to destruction when the alarm was sounded.

The fire was supposed to have had its origin on an overheated kitchen stove, although firemen expressed some doubt to that explanation. Last December the firemen were also called to the monastery to help extinguish flames when a part of the structure was destroyed. Since that time the wrecked portion of the building had not been rebuilt. The total fire loss is believed to have been about $30,000.

Lakeside Inn, the hotel at Warden Place, Harvey's Lake was in danger for a time when sparks from the monastery set fire to the roof. Before a high wind shifted toward the lake nearby cottages of John Zorzi of Wilkes-Barre and J. Russell Taylor chief of police, had been menaced.

Rev. L. S. Brigmanus, Superior of Congregation of Sacred Heart of Jesus, is seriously ill in Mercy hospital and was not informed of the fire.

Rev. Father Brigmanus lived in several rooms in the large building following the first fire but ten days ago suffered a heart condition and was stricken with acute rheumatism.

Three-Story Structure
The large three-story structure was located on a hill about 300 feet back from where the road makes a sharp curve on the way from Warden Place to Alderson.

Several priests were in the monastery when the fire broke out in December. This fire burned between partitions and floors and damaged much of the interior including the furniture and the library.

Since Rev. Father Brigmanus was removed to the hospital, William Bower, chauffeur for the priests, remained at the monastery as caretaker.
