NEW FARM BILL
Effects On The City Man
Q. How much will the living costs of the average city family be increased by this plan?
A. A specific answer cannot be made until commodity hearings are held. The adjustment benefit should raise the cost of living only slightly — not enough to offset the increased city incomes which may go along with it. At most, it will add no more than a cent to the price of a loaf of bread, and no more than a nickel to the price of a cotton shirt.

Q. What good will it do the city man to increase the buying power of a section of the population that in the best of times buys only one-fourth of the industrial products of the country?
A. Nearly half of the population lives in rural communities or on farms. Furthermore, a given increase of purchasing power in farmers' hands is more effective than in the hands of others, since farmers will spend largely for equipment and machinery that leads to expanding circles of employment. A rise in farm income and in farm prices leads also to a strengthening of the entire credit and financial structure — the necessary bases for industrial revival.

Q. Will this measure give the farmer a bigger share of the money that is spent to feed the unemployed?
A. Products sold for distribution to unemployed are exempt from the processing tax.

Processing Tax
Q. Why do you call it a "processing" tax?
A. Because it is based on the bushels of wheat processed (manufactured) into flour, or bales of cotton spun (i. e., processed) into yarn or thread.
Q. What does "first processing" mean in connection with milk, peanuts, corn, oats, wheat, tobacco, pork?
A. That means milling wheat, slaughtering hogs, or spinning cotton. Oats and peanuts are not in the Act. For milk and tobacco, it has to be determined separately for each product — butter, for example, would be when churned.

Q. How will you decide how much tax to levy on each commodity?
A. First, in public hearings or conferences find how much of a crop we want to grow; second, determine how much must be paid to achieve the necessary reduction; and adjust the taxes accordingly.

Q. Who will be your principal advisors in fixing taxes?
A. Responsible representatives of the groups engaged in the production, processing, and distribution of each product.

Q. Does a farmer have to pay the processing tax on garden stuff he raises for his own table? On the hog he butchers for his own family?
A. No.

Distribution Costs
Q. Won't the packers and miller and bakers and storekeepers tack on the amount of the processing tax every time it passes through another pair of hands, and won't the tax be doubled and tripled before the consumer has to pay it?
A. The Secretary of Agriculture can use the licensing feature of the Act to prevent profiteering. The consumer must not be gouged.

Q. If competition among food dealers on a buyer's market hasn't kept down distributing costs, how will Government "partnership" in trade agreements cut those costs?
A. By eliminating wasteful and costly competition.

Administrative Details
Q. Will the farmer be expected to keep the acreage he retires from cultivation bare?
A. That remains to be determined, for each crop and in each area. If crops are removed this will be done as early in the growing season as possible, and the basic crop will, so far as possible, be replaced by a non-competing cover crop, such as grass. So to replace part of a sowing which promise to prove unprofitable has long been recognized as sound farming practice.

Q. How many men will you hire to enforce the acreage cuts?
A. Just as few as possible. No great force should be needed. Most of the local administration will be through committees of representative farmers.

RURAL TEACHERS
of teachers required by the State, great progress has been made in recent years. During the School year 1920-1921, only 57.5 per cent of the teachers in smaller districts in this county were equipped with at least two years preparation beyond the high school. During the present school year, 98.8 per cent of these teachers have this amount of preparation, or more. The state average for this group is 96.5 per cent. At present only a few counties in the State surpass Luzerne in the per cent of the teachers of this classification who have two or more years preparation for teaching.

"While teachers in these districts of Luzerne County rank high in relation to all the teachers of the State, they are yet far from an ideal professional standard in the matter of their preparation. Only one-fourth of them hold four-year college certificates. Another fourth of them don't have a two-year normal certificate, the lowest form of professional credential now generally considered acceptable.

"Just as people now refuse to entrust the physical welfare of their children to any but the most thoroughly trained physicians, so will they refuse ere long to entrust the intellectual welfare of these children to any but the most thoroughly prepared public school teachers. Undoubtedly many teachers now equipped with a minimum of preparation required by law are rendering excellent service, yet their efficiency could be notably enhanced by the addition of the upper two years of education represented by the possession of a college certificate.

"The glimmer of a return to normal economic conditions will unquestionably bring with it an elevation of the standards for all the teachers to a four-year college level."

The Story of NATURE'S BEST FOOD
Ryman's Raw Milk

The best food known to scientists who have made a study of foods is Milk. And the best Milk is Raw Milk. Nature intended it to be that way. Nature made no allowance for anything to be taken away from the Milk provided for us—when that is done, it is no longer Nature's Best Food. Ryman's have made it possible for you to have fresh, pure Raw Milk, with everything in it that Nature intended us to have.

To begin with, the cows are selected with the greatest care — the finest, healthiest cows, from a strain which produces the world's best milk. Every one of these cows is kept under the close supervision of Ryman's, for Ryman's sell no Milk except that from their own cows, in their own modern dairy. Ryman's know where every quart of milk comes from, and know that it is produced according to their own very rigid requirements. So it is every step of the way: no stone is left unturned through the entire routine of care of the cows, milking, bottling and delivery to make certain that the milk comes to you fresh, pure and wholesome, just as Nature intended.

The best Doctors have shown beyond doubt that there is more health in Raw Milk. Babies grow faster on a smaller quantity of it — and you can't fool a Baby when it comes to the matter of Milk. Children who have not cared for Milk can usually be counted upon to change their minds, when this different Milk is provided for them. Fresher, creamier, more wholesome Milk will make a big difference with your family, too.

Ryman's Raw Milk is the Milk which has been carefully produced purposely to afford you Nature's Best Food — at its Best. Don't delay any longer. Call Ryman's and have one creamy quart of Raw Milk delivered to your home. We'll leave it to you after a trial — but we are quite sure that you'll join those other hundreds who are enjoying Nature's Best Food regularly.
