

Headlines Of The Week

A summary of this week's news of international interest, reviewed for Post readers.

WET
Counted on by Prohibitionists to stop the steady march of states toward repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, Indiana voted overwhelmingly for repeal this week. It was the tenth consecutive state to turn thumbs down on Prohibition. Battle front in the wet-dry campaign shifted to the South as traditionally dry states prepared to vote.

BASEBALL
The violent tactics which have marked disputes between the New York Yankees and Washington Senators this year were copied by the St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds this week. When the teams differed, bottles and fists flew, two players were ejected.

DAM
This week first concrete was poured in the arched wall, 730 feet high, 1-150 feet wide, that will hold back and control the waters of the Colorado at Boulder Dam. It will take two years to pour the five million, five hundred thousands barrels of concrete.

LEAGUE
Measures which would result in the exclusion of Manchukuo from international conventions were set forth in a report adopted by the Advisory Committee on the Far Eastern question of the League of Nations.

SWEAT
Called before a special legislative commission, alleged sweat shop proprietors this week said long hours are demanded by the girls, who fear someone else will get what little work there is if they do not complete their jobs in the limited time.

RING
Playing golf on Irem Temple Country Club course last Sunday afternoon, Carl Miller, Kingston, lost a diamond ring value at $1,500. For safe keeping, Miller had placed the ring in the hip pocket of his trousers, pulled out his handkerchief, evidently pulled out the ring, also.

FUNERAL
Though he asked for no flowers, no music, no honorary pallbearers, William Muldoon, beloved New York boxing commissioner was buried this week at an elaborate funeral at which hundreds of prominent sport figures paid tribute, including Gene Tunney, Jack Dempsey and Jack Sharkey.

BEST-DRESSED
Asked to list 12 of the world's best-dressed women Lillian Tashman and Constance Bennett agreed only on four: Ina Clair, Mrs. Harrison Williams, Norma Shearer and Joan Crawford.

VESUVIUS
Tensely, inhabitants of towns at the foot of Mount Vesuvius watched an ominous wall of smoking lava push relentlessly toward to rim over which it might cascade into the Valley of Inferno bringing destruction with it. Wealthy residents fled, poorer persons hoped scientific observers were correct when they said the flow of the lava would not reach dangerous proportions.

LOVE
On exhibition in New York City this week were placed a collection of letters, poems, etc., written by famous men to their sweethearts. Included are original ardent epistles from the pens of Robert Burns, Benjamin Franklin, Andrew Jackson, Nathaniel Hawthorne, W. M. Thackeray, Charles Dickens and Edgar Allen Poe.

REBEL
Through Congress, until now willing to follow President Roosevelt's lead, swept a wave of insurgency, as Representatives and Senators rebelled against the President's cuts on compensation to war veterans, even after the President had modified his economy measure to permit payment of $60,000,000 more to veterans than he had planned originally.

ADJOURNMENT
Although President Roosevelt has suggested that Congress adjourn on June 10, opinion was expressed by leaders this week that "plans for early adjournment of Congress have all gone blooey" and the special session will not end until July 1.

JAIL
In jail for failure to pay a judgment, Mayor Lionel Hays of Grand Haven, Mich., confided the affairs of his office from his cell this week, even holding the City Council meetings there.

GLOBE
Hurting around the globe in his Red, White and Blue plane, Smiling Jimmy Mattern, Texas barnstormer, was slashing hours from the record made last year by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty.

BEAUTY
Chosen by the French to represent that country in the competition for queen of the Chicago World's Fair, Mlle. Lyette Tejas, 23, Paris, died in a Chicago hospital this week. She had had only 2 days of the festivities for the 51 winners in the international contest.

ANOTHER FAMOUS AMERICAN DAM

Coolidge Dam, near Globe Arizona, one of the biggest of America's famous dams. Dedicated in 1930 it was the first of the multiple type and is considered an unusually fine piece of engineering.

Dallas High To Graduate 16 Seniors Next Wednesday Night

Class Day Program Monday Night At 8 In School Auditorium

Unique Features In Stone Chalet

Sixteen seniors, the largest class in the history of Dallas high school will be graduated at the annual Commencement exercises next Wednesday night in Dallas high school auditorium.

In announcing the Senior week program which starts with the Baccalaureate sermon on Sunday night in Dallas M. E. church, the faculty of the high school has also announced the list of honor students and scholarship winners as follows: scholastic honors, Doris Roberts, Mary Fedor, Lol Pittman; College Misericordia four-year tuition scholarship, awarded to the girl in the Senior class attaining the greatest degree of excellence in her studies, Doris Roberts. Parent-Teacher prize of $2.50 awarded to the member of the Senior class attaining the greatest degree of excellence in all studies during the four-year high school course, Doris Roberts.

Members of the Senior class who will receive their diplomas are announced by the faculty as follows: Doris Roberts, Mary Fedor, Lol Pittman, Anna Mae Sullivan, Hilda Rogers, Alice Johnston, Harry Rook, Evelyn Shook, Theta Mead, James Keiper, Edith Race, Robert Rogers, Eleanor Machell, Joseph Swartz, Charles Storey, and Harold Habblett.

Class Night
Class day exercises will be held Monday evening at 8 in the high school auditorium. The program will be divided into two parts being concluded with a one-act play entitled "Girls Are Like That."

The exercises will open with a selection by the school orchestra, followed by the Key Oration which will be given by Evelyn Shook. The Junior Response will be delivered by Robert Lewis, Hilda and Robert Rodgers will give the Class Will which is to be followed by a vocal solo by Lol Pittman. The Class Phrophecy will be given by Theta Mead. Presentations are by Eleanor Machell and Harold Habblett. Closing features of the first part of the program will be the Class songs by members of the Class of 1934 and another selection by the school orchestra.

Those taking part in the Class play are: Harry Rook, Alice Johnston, Evelyn Shook, Lol Pittman, Eleanor Machell, Charles Storey, Joseph Swartz, James Keiper and Harold Habblett.

Commencement
Commencement will be held Wednesday evening, June 14 at 8 in the high school auditorium. Dr. Carroll D. Champlin, professor of Education, Pennsylvania State College, will be the speaker, using the subject, "Things to Mend."

The program will open with selections by the high school orchestra. Invocation will be by Rev. Mr. H. Meade, of Dallas M. E. church. The valedictory address, "Responsibility of the Home to the School" will be given by Doris Roberts, followed by selections from the orchestra. "The responsibility of the school to the Home" will be the subject of an address by Mary Fedor, salutatorian. Anne Mae Sullivan will speak on the subject, "What the School has done to make me a worthy home member." Presentation of Diplomas will be by D. A. Waters, member of the Board of Education. Rev. Mr. Freeman will give the Benediction.

Storm Does Damage

High winds accompanied by a severe electrical storm did considerable damage throughout the countryside Wednesday afternoon. Large branches were blown from trees on many properties in the borough and considerable damage to orchards on nearby farms was reported.

A plate glass window in a door at Hislop's Witch-Kitch Inn was broken when a gust of wind caught it and slammed the door closed. For sometime electric lights and power were shut off in the borough and were intermittently shut off during severe electrical disturbances.

Hundreds Win Diplomas From Local Schools

Seniors In Spotlight As Annual Commencement Events Begin

SPLENDID PROGRAMS

Commencement programs of local schools began this week and will continue for several days next week as graduates are feted by schoolmates and faculties and welcomed to the alumni of their respective schools.

Outstanding speakers will address students at Baccalaureate sermons tomorrow and at the various Commencement programs scheduled. In a number of the schools in this section the graduating classes are larger than in previous years.

Dallas Borough
The Commencement program for Dallas Borough high school began on Wednesday night when members of the Senior class were guests at a dinner-dance sponsored by the Junior class.

Dallas Township
Dallas Township high school graduating class was honored last Monday night at a dinner given by the Alumni at Castle Inn. Addresses were given by Robert Bipper, president of the Alumni, and Melvin Mosier, president of the graduating class. Donald Kester, assistant principal, was toastmaster.

Class Night exercises of Dallas township were held on Wednesday evening in Himmeler theatre. The program: Captain's welcome, Melvin Mosier, president; Christening of the Ship, Anne Cobleigh; Graduation Day, Elizabeth Girvan; Itinerary, Jean Bogert; Reading of Passports, Robert Girvan; Ship's Log, Arthur Keifer; Bon Voyage Gifts, Ruth May Hazel, Philip Knell; Ship's Entertainment, Monologue, Margaret Lancia; poem, Leamon Mintzer; Monologue, Edward Hooper; Reading of Stars, Ziba Martin; Will, George Shultz; Sailing Directions for Other Classes, Elizabeth Girvan; Farewell to Shore, Evelyn Ryman; Junior Response, Walter Lewis; Song, Senior class.

Lindley H. Dennis delivered the address at the Commencement exercises of Dallas Township Vocational high school last night in Himmeler theatre. Invocation and benediction were given by Rev. G. E. Ruff of Shavertown. Jean Bogert was Salutatorian and Evelyn Ryman was Valedictorian. Diplomas were awarded by Adam P. Kiefer, president of the board.

Members of the graduating class are: Jean Bogert, Anne Cobleigh, Elizabeth Girvan, Robert Girvan, Ruth May Hazel, Edward Hooper, Arthur Keifer, Philip Knell, Margaret Lancia, Ziba Martin, Leamon Mintzer, Melvin Mosier, Evelyn Ryman, George Schultz.

Kingston Township
The class to be graduated at Kingston township is one of those in this section which are the largest in the history of their high school.

Class Night exercises were held Wednesday night, with the following program:

Prologue - Marguerite Patton and Lee Philo; class poem, Lois Rogers; class history, Mary Jean Laycock, Leah Richards, Jean Billings and Emma Lewis; class solo, Charlotte Parsons; class recitation, Betty Cole; Pirates, boys, Willard Woolbert, James Baker, Al Camp, James Gabel, Lee Philo, Glen Case, Richard Cease, Fred Finney, Gordon Laycock, Cleo Piatt, John Jackson and Stacey Smith; sailor's dance, Ann Miller, Jean Keithline, Marguerite Patton, Margaret Belford, Eleanor Cortright, Emma Lewis, Mildred Rowe, Ruth Hoover, Minerva Perkins, Mildred Oberst; giffortians, Eleanor Cortright and Willard Woolbert; girl's quartet, Mary Jean Laycock, Dorothy Jones, Charlotte Parsons, Naomi Besteder; tap dance, Ann Miller; class song, composed by Marguerite Patton; class phrophecy, Fred Finney and Al Camp.

Commencement exercises will be held tonight with H. S. Jones, superintendent of Plymouth Borough School District, as speaker. Herbert Hill will present the diplomas. Other parts of the program will include selections by the orchestra, invocation by Rev. J. Roland Crompton; Salutatory, Frances Heft; Valedictory, Mary Jean Laycock; selections by the gleu club chorus and benediction by Rev. Joshua Brundie.

Members of the graduating class are: Mary Jean Laycock, Frances Heft, Lois M. Rogers, Frederick D. Finney, Emma P. Lewis, Jean E. Billings, Eleanor G. Cortright, Dorothy A. Jones, John F. Jackson, Stacey D. Smith, Lee Philo, Richard W. Cease, James H. Gable, Alfred M. Camp, Thelma A. Adams, Marion C. Griffith, Leah Sara Richards, Edyth A. Griffith. (Continued on Page 4.)

Forest Corps At Mehoopany Creek

200 Unemployed At Work In Reforestation Camps Near Here

BL FRANK J. NIGHT

More than 200 men of the Citizen's Conservation Corps are now encamped at Kassen Brook, on Mehoopany creek, in Forkston township, Wyoming county, where they are taking up work of eliminating forest fire hazards, building roads and fire lines.

The men of the corps, with the exception of officers, are all from the vicinity of Easton, Allentown and Bethlehem, and will remain in camp until about December 1.

The base of operations is in one of the great forest reserve sections of the State, the Pennsylvania Game Commission owning thousands of acres of land in that region.

The camp, known as No. 102, is in charge of Lieut. F. J. Tate of the U. S. Artillery; Lieut. Farrar, Medical Corps of the U. S. Navy, is camp physician, and Lieut. N. A. Neal, U. S. Infantry, is second in command. Four enlisted men of the U. S. Army and 198 Citizens' Conservation Corps young men make up the camp.

The detachment arrived from Camp Meade, Maryland at 5 a. m., Monday and had their camp in good order before dark.

This camp is the nearest one located in a pleasant Sunday drive through beautiful mountain region from Dallas.

Nation Has 6 Times More Weeklies Than Dailies

BY FRANK J. NIGHT
Sales Manager, King Features Syndicate

(Reprinted from NEWSWOM)
Believe it or not this country has approximately six times as many weekly newspapers as dailies.

And the type of reader the weekly serves is not greatly different from that reached by the daily. Modern transportation and communication have done much to eliminate provincialism and create a national uniformity of interest.

The weekly newspaper retains tremendous power over public opinion. It has this advantage over the daily—it has, on the whole, continued to exemplify what used to be known as "personal journalism," a thing that has nearly always contributed to the power of the press. This has practically disappeared from the daily field. These things being true—the great numerical superiority of the weekly, the similarity of its reader's interests to those of the daily's readers, and the extent of its retained power to influence opinion, these things being true, should any organization concerned with the newspaper business neglect such an important field as that of the weekly newspaper? I think not.

Firemen To Decide On Truck Repairs Tonight

Entire Membership Urged To Attend Important Meeting

TO STUDY PROBLEMS

One of the most important meetings of the year will be held tonight in the borough building by Dr. Henry M. Laving fire company when plans for renovation of the fire truck are brought up for discussion.

In announcing the meeting, Warden Kunkle, president of the company, asks that all members from Dallas and Dallas township be present to discuss this important matter which must be settled definitely, as the time limit on the offer of the Mack truck company expires on June 16. "This matter," says Mr. Kunkle, "deserves the serious consideration of every member of the company as well as citizens of both Dallas borough and township. Members of the company who live in the township should be especially interested as improvement of the truck has much to do with the speed with which the firemen will be able to respond to fire alarms in outlying sections of the township."

The original cost of the fire truck six years ago was $8,865. At that time the equipment was modern in every detail and on a par with the best equipment to be found anywhere. It adequately supplied the needs of the community within a small radius. Since the organization and purchase of the truck, however, there has been a great demand for the use of the truck in outlying districts, and in fully seventy-five percent of the cases quick action of the firemen has prevented serious losses.

Because of the number of calls coming from outlying territory and in order to respond to them in the shortest possible time, there has been a proposal offered to bring the truck completely up-to-date, increasing the speed from 22 miles an hour to 55 miles an hour, and also increase the pumping capacity. To do this requires the installation of a new 104-horse power six-cylinder pump fed motor in place of the present four cylinder 60-horse power splash fed motor. Other changes would include, starter, clutch transmission, etc. The Mack company has offered to do this work for $1,200 at the present time, the offer holding good until June 16.

This offer is $1,300 below the usual rate offered by the Mack company for similar work. The company offers to completely renovate the truck at factory cost because the local firemen have always been dissatisfied with the truck's power on hills. Since much of the nearby territory is of a hilly nature lack of power on the hills is a distinct handicap. If the work is done to the truck it will bring it up to the class of a new $10,000 pumper of 1933 design.

It is argued by many in favor of the plan that the depreciation on any piece of automotive equipment is far in excess of this amount for the six years the truck has been in operation. If the present truck were traded in on new equipment the spread in value would be greater than the $1,200 asked by the Mack company to make the present equipment modern in every detail.

The officers and trustees of the company feel that the entire membership should decide on the question and therefore ask that every member be present at tonight's meeting. Tomorrow night the company will hold a Ban Supper at Adam Kiefer's old red barn at Shrine View. A special program has been arranged and it is expected that the attendance will exceed that of other years. Serving will start at six and continue until a late hour.

Local Men Receive Degrees At State
Seven hundred and forty-nine seniors received bachelor degrees from the Pennsylvania State College on Monday and 106 graduate students received advanced degrees. Seven of the higher degrees were doctorates, nine were in engineering, and the remainder were masters degrees.

Among the local graduates were: Paul H. Bertram, 153 Shaver Avenue, Shavertown, electrical engineering. He is a member of Pi Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics fraternity, and attended Drexel Institute for a year and a half before entering Penn State. Charles F. Hess, Dallas, R. F. D., agricultural education. He is a member of Alpha Tau Alpha, honorary agricultural fraternity, the Penn State Grange, Block and Bridle Club, agricultural Student Council, and Alpha Gamma Rho, professional agricultural fraternity.

Inspectors Pay Visit To Dallas
Inspectors were in Dallas Wednesday afternoon checking up on places where beer is for sale, ascertaining whether licenses had been granted and generally inspecting bar rooms, restaurants, stores and eating houses to see if they had the required seating capacity and if bars were visible from the street as required by law.

In a number of instances they found that these requirements were not fulfilled and beer is, therefore, not now on sale in many of the places where it has heretofore been sold. Just what the effect of the law will have on the general distribution of beer is not yet known.

Throughout the State there are a number of test court cases in preparation to be carried to the State higher courts, the contention being that beer is not intoxicating according to the Federal constitution and that such regulations as are now in effect are invalid.

In Dallas a number of places have discontinued the sale of beer, while road houses and barrooms in surrounding townships have met all of the requirements and are doing a good business.

Fireworks Display At Harvey's Lake
A program featuring many special events during the summer season has been planned by the management of Harvey's Lake picnic grounds. The first of these events will be Sunday evening at 9:30 when an unusual display of fireworks will be given. Last year the park made a considerable reputation for its attractive displays of fireworks and this year the management plans to make the exhibitions even more attractive than they were last year. Special events are being planned for the Sundays that follow throughout the season, and it is understood that a number of band concerts have been arranged among the other features of the season.

SMITH-NULTON
Miss E. Fay Nulton and John J. Smith, both of Beaumont were married on Tuesday night by Rev. I. J. Button at his home at Ferguson avenue, Shavertown.