School Board Meeting. Kingston township school board will meet tonight at the high school building at Trucksville, the meeting was postponed from Tuesday night because several of the members being away.

Ever since the outbreak of the Johnson-Carle flareup of several weeks ago the local populace has been talking about just what may happen at the next meeting. However, while most of the keen observers are arguing the possibilities, the directors are keeping silent on all questions and do not seem perturbed.

In reliable quarters, though it was hinted that if Thomas Carle is present at the next meeting the school directors may take time out to show that his salary has been paid in full to date. Carle has made the statement that the district owes him two month's salary.

From all reports, Carle expects to be at the meeting and have a final settlement of the differences. Then, along with Carle's side of the issue, comes the report that Mrs. Pearl Johnson intends being present at the meeting to ask pertinent questions about her Misericordia College scholarship. School Director Newhart said he hopes to have a scholarship from the college in time for the next meeting.

There is a possibility, that School Director Hay may take occasion to answer the charges made by Carle that he, Hay, was responsible for the college students being refused permission to teach in the local high school. Nothing has been heard from the school director in this regard but it was rumored that if Carle is present at the meeting Director Hay may make an explanation of the issue involved.
