Move To Force Collection Of Past-Due Taxes

Borough Council To Obtain List Of Delinquents From Court House

LOAN AUTHORIZED

Dallas Borough Council, at its meeting on Tuesday night, took a step toward instituting legal action against delinquent taxpayers in the borough when it authorized its finance committee to obtain from the County Treasurer a list of taxes due on the 1932 duplicate, preparatory to pressing collection.

Members of the finance committee are Elmer Parrish, Harry Garrahan, and Peter Clark. The move is a part of the campaign to collect the large amount of past-due taxes due the borough and the school board on properties, many of which are owned by persons not residents of the borough.

A short term loan amounting to $300 from First National Bank of Dallas was authorized by the council to pay current expenses until taxes are received. A $4,600 note due on April 17 was renewed for three months and bills totalling $321.69 were approved for payment.

Mr. Parrish reported an application has been filed with the Civil Works Administration for assistance in completing repairs to Davenport Avenue. He also reported that arrangements have been made with Thomas Bunney of Fernbrook for the use of a part of his land for a public dumping ground at a rental of $35 a year.

Marion Hoover, 17, Lehman Township, missing for three days, was located this week in Cleveland, Ohio, and returned to her home by her parents. Description of the girl had been broadcast in five states by teletype from the Wyoming barracks.

The young woman, police said, left her home on Friday, driving her father's automobile. She abandoned the car on South River Street, Wilkes-Barre, and withdrew her savings from Second National Bank. When her parents became suspicious they communicated with police. The car was found in Wilkes-Barre on Saturday night.

On Monday afternoon Wilkes-Barre police headquarters received a telegram from Sergeant Helen Hollmer of the Women's Bureau, Cleveland, Ohio, saying the young woman had been found in that city. Sergeant Frank Redington received the telegram and referred it to State policemen, who communicated with the parents. They made immediate arrangements to go to Cleveland to return their daughter.

Lehman Team Receives Cup Symbolic Of League Championship

FINE ADDRESSES

The keynote of good fellowship that characterizes Rural League sports was sounded at the First Annual League Dinner Tuesday night at the Suburban Inn, Dallas. Present were the members of the basketball teams of the League, managers, referees, and guests of the League. It was also the occasion of the presentation of the League trophy to Lehman who won the League championship.

Mr. Calvin McHose, principal of Dallas High School, was toastmaster. His natural wit, puns and quips kept the assemblage in constant good humor. Jack Roberts, manager of the Dallas team, led the singing, and William Williams was the pianist of the evening.

The program opened with the singing of a number of "get together" and "banquet" songs. After dinner the toastmaster warmed to his task with a few jokes which evoked laughter and more laughter. "Red" Schwartz who has been president of the Rural League four of the five years of its existence started the speaking program of the evening with a few well-chosen remarks. "Red" thanked the managers and team members for their fine spirit and ready co-operation that was shown throughout the season. In concluding, Mr. Schwartz stated that this year was the most successful that the League has so far experienced. Edward Kochi, Dallas Post sports writer, commented briefly on the play of the Rural League this season.

Edward Donohoe, Times-Leader sports writer, was called upon and discoursed interestingly upon the value and benefits of athletic competition. Discipline and order, Mr. Donohoe said, are the two main benefits derived from organized sports. He lauded Mr. Schwartz for his splendid work in striving to maintain the League on a high level. The fact was cited that during "Red's" tenure in office, he has had only one protest, and even that was withdrawn.

In closing, "Eddie" facetiously advised some of the fellows to get together and shanghai the Lehman players, who have had a virtual monopoly on the League flag, winning it three out of five times.

The eye of the master of ceremonies then fell on William Loftus, sports editor of the Evening News. Mr. Loftus spoke of the fine spirit that participation in sports engenders. Athletics, he averred, is a convenient and facile method of developing young men physically, morally, and mentally. He disclaimed the idea that a record of no protests necessarily means a successful and live organization. It may mean that no enthusiasm exists. "Where there are protests, there is enthusiasm," said Mr. Loftus, "and enthusiasm is the very lifeblood of sports."

The speaker congratulated those present for the spirit that they had evinced throughout the past year. He called them "pioneers of sport," and ended his address with the hope that some day the Rural League will be the foster-parent of a thorough and varied athletic program for this section.

Mr. William Davis, of Wilkes-Barre, was the main speaker of the evening. He prefaced his talk with a few rare bits of humor which were very well received.

Inter-community athletics, according to Mr. Davis, should be encouraged and developed because it creates loyalty to community, it occupies young men's time to good advantage, and it develops the elements of sportsmanship, perseverance, temperance, and co-operation.

LOCAL COMMUNITIES TO OBSERVE CLEAN-UP WEEK, APRIL 23 TO 28

Health authorities throughout the Back Mountain Region, supported by the State Department of Health, Forests and Waters, and the Bureau of Fire Protection, and State Police, have designated next week as Clean-up Week.

The annual custom has always resulted in developing an interest in sanitation and the removal of nuisances and fire hazards throughout this section. Each community will exercise its own judgment regarding a program. Authorities have suggested the following program as a general guide:

Do not burn brush, leaves, or other debris in or near the forests on dry, windy days. Select a damp, rainy day on which to burn, and do not leave the fire unguarded until it is entirely extinguished.

Wednesday, April 25—Fly and Mosquito Day: All cesspools should be cleaned and lined. Out-houses should be made fly-proof and stable yards, pig pens, and chicken coops cleaned. Water holes should be filled, spouting mended, and garbage cans thoroughly cleaned and scoured.

Thursday, April 26—Junk Day: The accumulation of junk and trash, particularly in attics and cellars, consisting of old books, papers, clothes, rags, bottles, cans and ashes should be removed. In addition, cellars should be cleaned thoroughly and whitewashed.

Police Launch Drive To Curb Speeders Here

Arrests Made In Crusade To End Reckless Speeding Through Dallas

WARNING BY O'KANE

A determined effort to end speeding through Dallas Borough was launched this week by Chief of Police Leonard O'Kane and a number of arrests were reported as a result of the speed trap established by local officers on Main Street.

The drive began in earnest on Tuesday night and continued Wednesday and yesterday as officers checked automobiles passing through town and arrested all persons guilty of exceeding the twenty-mile-per-hour limit.

The crusade was started in response to a great number of complaints that motorists are travelling through the town at speeds hazardous to pedestrians and to persons pulling out into the lane of traffic from parking places. The strict enforcement of the speed limit early in the season will do a great deal, it is believed, to control the speed of automobiles later when heavy summer traffic begins.

In accordance with laws governing enforcement of the speed laws, signs notifying motorists of the 20-mile limit were posted throughout the town this week. Speed traps, as recognized by the State Department of Highways, were established as follows:

A 660-foot length of telephone wire is used to measure off the stretch to be included in the trap. One policeman is stationed at each end of the trap. When an automobile passes the first point the policeman clicks his stop watch and signals by telephone to the man at the second point. A special chart of distances covered at different speeds tells the second policeman, he has clicked his watch, how fast the car travelled over the measured strip. If the car under observation has exceeded the speed limit, the policeman at the end of the trap signals to a third policeman to halt the speeding car.

Chief O'Kane is being assisted by the three other members of the police department, Joseph Jewell, Jimmie Gansel, and Robert Marshall. The State Highway Patrol also is cooperating. The trap will be moved from time to time but it will be confined to the town proper. The fine for violators will be $10 and costs.

M. E. Clergymen At Annual Conference

Many Local Persons Attend Sessions At Forty Fort Church

Methodist Episcopal clergymen from churches throughout this section are attending sessions of the annual Wyoming Conference being held in Forty Fort M. E. church this week. A number of visiting clergymen will be present at local services on Sunday, some as guest preachers.

The conference convened formally on Wednesday night, after several days of meetings attended by Bishop E. G. Richardson and district superintendents. It will continue over the week-end and end early in the week with announcement of pastoral appointments. There were large representations of local people at the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society dinner yesterday afternoon and many more plan to attend the Epworth League anniversary meetings tomorrow afternoon.

Rev. J. R. Crompton of Trucks-ville was a member of the examination board which met on Wednesday afternoon.

The problem of selecting a superintendent for the Wilkes-Barre district, of which Dallas and vicinity are a part, was discussed at some of the early meetings. Among the clergymen who are mentioned for the position were several who had served formerly in Dallas and Noxen. The term of Dr. Fred E. Lott, present superintendent, will expire this week.

Possibility that this district may be merged with the Scranton district and the Binghamton and Oneonta districts united was expressed during the early conference sessions. If such a plan should be carried out, Rev. Clarence R. Hickok, superintendent of Scranton district and formerly pastor of Dorrancton M. E. Church, probably would be selected as head of the united district in which this section would be included.
