Cross, Love's Necessity

love to the cross, are like the stars that illumine our nights of discouragement, and to prove our love by sacrificial service will be our precious joy. Noble love satisfactorily demonstrated is our greatest privilege. Newer mind life's money and things, love is all that really counts. Though innocent and helpless love offers me the opportunity of emulating the example of my Lord, upon Whose cross His love nailed my sins.

Wyoming Valley Motor Club
Reminds Back Mountain Motorists

Motorists have only until midnight, Sunday, March 31, in which to have their cars officially inspected in accordance with the State law under penalty of a $10 fine and costs, President P. G. Rimmer of Wyoming Valley Motor Club, emphasized today.

"With just about two weeks remaining in which to comply with the State regulations, the Motor club is calling attention to its members and other automobilists of the importance of presenting their cars without fail for inspection," said the club executive.

"Aside from the fact that the driver who doesn't comply with the law risks payment of a fine of $10 and costs, there is a personal element involved that should not be overlooked. Carrying on the windshield one of the little red and blue official test approval key-stone means that faulty brakes, imperfect lights and the many other defects of motor operation have been checked and remedied if necessary, an important consideration not only for the automobilist and his family but for the other fellow and his family who may be on the road.

"Wyoming Valley Motor club cannot emphasize too strongly, therefore, the importance of presenting your car for inspection, and, doing so, now."

One night he had a stroke. After a few days he could see visitors and his friends—other cops, reporters, people who had given him Christmas presents every year, a few school children—came to see him. He grew stronger and as soon as he was able he took walks, lengthening them until finally he could get as far as the police station. Shortly after that accomplishment he had another stroke. He has not left the house since.

Today, he is a broken man. His tremendous strength is gone. There is a hurt, bewildered look in his eyes. Fewer people come to see him. He has difficulty in talking.

But every day when the weather permits he puts on his police uniform, he tells me, and sits on the front porch. Some day, he thinks, he'll be able to walk right down off the porch and back to the police desk where he sat so many nights, dispatching cops, answering complaints, writing reports.

He probably won't see this, but if he could he'd like him to know that to us he always has been and always will be a hero.

If you have a pond back of your house you can go after some of the $500 or one of the twenty silver loving cups which the More Game Birds In America Corporation will award to winners in the 1935 National Waterfowl Refuge Contest.

The idea, it seems, is that there is an alarming depletion of several species of wild duck and the United States Bureau of Biological Survey wants everyone to help in a movement to provide homes for America's migratory waterfowl.

To start a refuge you provide food, cover, and live decoys to lure the waterfowl to your pond and you protect the birds while they are visiting.

If you're interested More Game Birds In America, 500 Fifth Avenue, New York City, N. Y., will go into it with you in detail.
