Dear Editor:

During the past ten years I have driven over many of the roads of the United States and Canada on hunting trips that have taken me into the most desolate back country. Nowhere do I remember driving over a more dis-graceful piece of road than the one you call a "highway" from Tunkhannock to Dallas.

You may be able to offer some ex-

$15 a season, to have the Tunkhannock road with concrete forty feet wide. I understand Pennsylvania is making a practice of shifting its highway funds into relief coffers. Why not turn some of the non-residents'
hunting license fees into the highway funds not only so that sportsmen can get back in the mountains to hunt, but so that the farmers who have to get their products to market and the moturn some of the non-residents'

A childhood spent in this environment is truly a glorious one.

This is the first of a series of articles Mrs. Spry will write for The Post, stressing the necesity for a greater appreciation of garden culture Questions or suggestions for Mrs. Spry may be addressed to her, care of The Post, or to Box 214, Shavertown.

Where these lines meet

INFERIOR, temporary highway surfaces clamor for more and more maintenance and reconstruction year after year. Eventually, any new roads are out of the question. All the annual road money goes for upkeep! Then, "the end of the road" has been reached, both literally and figuratively.

But Here's Big News!

Taxpayers save from $114 to $469 per mile per year in the cost of surface maintenance on concrete bighways compared with other types of pavement.

This statement is based on the actual reports of surface maintenance costs on 100,000 miles of pavement in 18 states—every state that publishes these records.

Concrete is the standard by which all roads are judged . . . insuring maximum safety, comfort and economy for motorists. Easily visible at night . . easy on tires, gas, oil and repairs.
