Lehman Seniors Are Top-Notch Salesmen

Record Of Class Shows Unique Ability At Raising Money

By VERA WHITSELL

The Seniors proved themselves excellent salesmen when they so rapidly disposed of the Christmas cards which they were selling. Maybe this was partly due to the success that they achieved other years. Last year, when they gave their Junior drama, the class all co-operated so well in selling their tickets that the auditorium was filled.

If they heard of any new or novel idea, the class always tried it out. During their Junior year, they decided to sell "Banana Surprises," which were a surprise, since they had never been sold in this section before. This year, they showed remarkable ability in selling "Kanning Kits," another new idea that no other class had ever tried.

Since the class has been so proficient in their attempts so far, we are sure they will attack the battle of life with more spirit.

The Senior members missed one of their classmates, Donald Brandon, who recently quit school and is now engaged in the Grocery business. We are glad to welcome one new member, Lester Piske, who formerly attended school at Dallas Borough High School.

The cast has been chosen for the Senior drama, "Thru The Keyhole," a comedy in three acts. The following were selected: Grandma Tierney, Jean Zimmerman; William, the Butler, James Whitesell; Joan, the French Maid, Eleanor Rinke; Genevieve VanCamp, a friend of the Tierneys, Esther Barnes; Archie VanCamp, her brother, Ralph Miers; Mary Tierney, June Shaw; Jim Tierney, her brother, Roger Williams; George Allen, friend of Jim Tierney, Allen Kittle.

Franklin was a highway instead of a Hemingway?

Ray: "Isn't this a splendid dance floor?"
Alice: "You don't mean to tell me you step down on it now and then?"
"Roads"
If you can't be a highway
Then just be a trail
If you can't be the sun
Be a star
It isn't by the size that
You win or fall
But be the best of whatever
You are.
