

"Dainty" Vies With "Comic" Vogue For Parties on Valentine's Day

Valentine parties, as the radio comedian opines, "are going to be different" this year. Weary of too many bright-red hearts, too much gilt and ribbon, and tired of too much "heart-y" food for February 14th, smart hostesses have originated two new kinds of parties for our St. Valentine festivities.

One is the "dainty" party suitable for your dinner or luncheon or bridge; and the other is the "comic" party, for a large get-together.

THE "DAINTY" PARTY

The "daintiness" faction harks back for its inspiration to the era when romance was a thing of scented handkerchiefs and billetedoux sealed with doves. Here's a typical setting for this type of party that will give you the key-note; use your lace table cloth or a delicate embroidered one. Let Dresden figures (even your china clock!) be your centerpiece. Place cards or favors may be a single old-fashioned flower wrapped round in a bit of lace-paper dolly or a tiny lace valentine. Use pastel colors in candles, flowers or linens.

Let the food be dainty too—which doesn't mean it must be skimpy. But the bread must be sliced very thin, the cakes tiny, though plentiful, the viands luxurious.

THE COMIC KIND

"Comic" parties take their inspiration from the comic valentines that provide decoration and entertainment. (do have a Valentine box). Rough linen or gingham paper clothes, wooden or paper plates, a general manner of slap-dash pervades this kind of party, and food must be sturdy and filling.

Of course, if neither type suits you—have the one you like; but we want you to have some especially good new-for-Valentine's-Day recipes. They are here:

FARM CALENDAR

FOR THE COW STABLE

Superphosphate can be used in the cow stable. It absorbs ammonia and other stable odors. The greatest value of using superphosphate in the stable, however, is that it supplements the manure with needed plant food, making it much more valuable on the land.

CHEAP LIME AVAILABLE

One of the remarkable improvements in the agricultural lime situation of the state has come with the increase of local sources of low-price lime. Small kilns and stack burnings have made lime available at low cost.

MAINTAIN EGG QUALITY

Eggs should never be held in the kitchen for the temperature is too high and the humidity too low for maintaining egg quality. Eggs will not freeze unless the temperature goes below 29 degrees F, but the ideal temperature for holding eggs is between 40 and 55 degrees.

CROWN GALL IS SEVERE

One of the severest diseases of raspberries in Pennsylvania is crown gall. To avoid it only disease-free plants should be used. They should be obtained from patches absolutely free from the crown gall organism.

PLAN FAMILY GARDEN

In planning the home garden, four groups of vegetables should be included to have a balanced garden. These include edible seeds, root crops, greens and salad plants, and the vegetable fruits, such as tomatoes, cucumbers, and melons.

PROTECT FRUIT TREES

Tree trunks will escape damage from rabbits if some of the succulent terminal branches are cut off and dropped to the ground for their diet, say Penn State fruit specialists.

KEEP FARM ACCOUNTS

More and more farmers are learning that account books help them to know which operations are paying and which are losing money. Someone has said that a farm without records is like a clock without hands.

LEARN POULTRY DRESSING

Club members are learning to dress the poultry grown in their projects, thus increasing the returns obtained when the birds are marketed.

Reuf Demonstrates Tree Care Methods

State College Expert Here To Explain Pruning To Growers

A number of local farmers attended special demonstrations at Arthur Newman's farm here yesterday morning and at Isaac Coursen's farm at Carverton in the afternoon to see John Reuf of the Horticultural Extension Department of Pennsylvania State College show modern methods of pruning. Mr. Reuf stressed that in order to grow good-sized, clean fruit farmers must use pruning aids as a stimulus, because it permits better spraying and aids in better color and size of fruit.

Two more meetings will be held today, one at 9 a. m., at E. B. Voslers at Muhlenburg and another at 1:30 p. m. at Roy Reisenweaver's at Nuremberg. Mr. Reuf came here through the efforts of the Luzerne County Agricultural Extension Association.

Lehman PTA To Hold Meeting Monday Feb. 10

The regular monthly meeting of the Lehman Parent Teacher Association will be held in the high school building, Monday evening, February 10, at 8 o'clock. Since there is no speaker, the evening will be given over to old and new business.

BLUE RIBBONERS ACT ON PLEAS FOR SECOND LOCAL AMATEUR SHOW

In response to requests for Blue Ribbon Club of Dallas M. E. Church to conduct a second amateur show, similar to its affair last Thursday night, the club this week started plans for another contest.

The second show will be confined exclusively to the rural district, and winners at the first amateur night will not be permitted to compete.

Applications may be sent to the Blue Ribbon Club, Box 328, Dallas. Cash prizes will be awarded.

Miss Dorrance Speaks On Winter Gardening

"The Joys of Winter Gardening" was the subject of Miss Anne Dorrance's broadcast Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when she appeared on the Radio Garden Club semi-weekly program entitled "Gardening for the Amateur" over station WOR. These talks are sponsored by the New Jersey College of Agriculture, the New Jersey Federation of Garden Clubs, and the New York Federation of Garden Clubs.

Miss Dorrance based her talk on her recently published book, "Gardening in the Green House."

COASTING ACCIDENT

Attempting to avoid a collision with a boy who was coming down the hill on a sled, Lewis Jones of Evergreen Street, Shavertown, swung his car into the Shavertown grade school fence on Sunday afternoon and, by his quick thinking, probably saved the boy serious injury. The sled struck the machine and was badly wrecked, but the boy escaped injury.

TO BE HOST

Robert Bachman will be host to members of the Epworth League at a fellowship hour to be held at his home after the evening service of the Trucksville M. E. Church.

Will Pay Teachers From General Fund

Dallas Borough Grants Unemployed Permission To Use Building

Since the teachers' fund is exhausted Dallas Borough School Board will pay instructors by using part of district's general fund, it was decided at a meeting on Monday night. A $3,698 appropriation from the State due this month will ease the financial strain on the board.

No action will be taken on the white collar projects for a while. The Secretary, Daniel Waters, entered his bond for $2,000. He was instructed to prepare a new filing system for school records and to advertise for bids to purchase 100 tons of buckwheat coal and 20 tons of stove coal.

Dallas Borough and Township Unemployed League was granted the use of a room to hold meetings twice each month.

TRUCK UPSETS

One Of Cobleigh Brothers' Trucks Turns Turns; Coal Scattered Over Highways

Coal was scattered across the highway near Fernbrook Corners last Saturday night when a loaded truck, owned by Cobleigh Bros. and driven by William Smith, upset. The truck was badly damaged.

David Joseph of Trucksville escaped injuries when he figured in an automobile accident in Wilkes-Barre last Saturday night.

Edward Preston of Dallas was injured when his car was damaged last Saturday night in a collision with a truck driven by Thomas Bunney, Jr. of Fernbrook.

COMMUNION

Rev. Francis Freeman has announced the Sanctum of the Lord's Supper at his Sunday morning service.
