"I turned the way I signaled," said the lady, indignantly, after the crash.

"I know it," retorted the man. "That's what fooled me."

A Dallas Township farmer came into town the other day riding an old mule.

"How much for the mule?" asked a bystander.

"Just a hundred dollars," answered the rider.

"I'll give you five dollars," said the other.

The rider stopped short, as if in amazement and then slowly dismounted. "Stranger," said he, "I ain't agoin' to let a little matter of ninety-five dollars stand between me and a mule trade. The mule's yours."

Insurance Agent: "What did your grandparents die of?"

Ezra Hoskins: "I don't rightly recollect; but twarn't nothin' serious."

Two gangsters were escorting a member of a rival gang across a lonely field on a dark and rainy night.

"What rats you are," grumbled the doomed one. "Make me walk through a rain like this."

"How about us?" growled one of the escorts, "we've got to walk back."

"Did you make the debating team?"

"N-n-no. They s-s-said I w-w-wasn't t-t-tall enough."
