AFTERNOON COSTUME

A sketch of a new afternoon costume Mrs. Wallis Simpson ordered from Paris. It is of brown wool, with a blue angora blouse to "match her eyes".

MRS. SIMPSON'S EYES

Indicate Personality Color

Captivating American Makes History As Creator Of New Fashion

The first indication of the personal tastes and preferences which caused Mrs. Simpson's spectacular success in London society came with a United Press release about the new winter wardrobe recently created for her in Paris.

It seems that the fascinating Baltimorean matches the smartness of her costumes to the sophistication of her wit. She favors gowns of extreme classic simplicity at a time when the fashion world is bedecking itself with frills and furbelows. Perhaps this is in deference to the recent King's own taste, for he is noted for his preference for tailored chic in the costumes of his women friends.

"Her eyes are her personality."

At any rate, it points the way toward high "coronation" fashions in which cut and color predominate as style features.

Speaking in detail, the United Press correspondent describes an afternoon costume of brown wool, with a straight, short skirt worn with a tailored fitted jacket of the same material, and a blue angora blouse which is tailored and fitted on the same lines as the jacket and "matches her eyes".

Wallis Simpson is noted for her vivid blue eyes. Though her distinctive taste may lead her to set a new pace for winter clothes, in choosing colors to flatter her most fascinating feature, she is in line with a trend that both couturiers and cosmeticians have been promoting with increasing enthusiasm. This trend is based on the belief that the color of a woman's eyes—the color nature gave her—is her true personality color, and to it she should key her clothes and cosmetics.

The new so-called "coronation colors" are off-shades that are difficult to wear. To look well in them, a woman's makeup must not only be faultlessly becoming, but she must be clever enough to set off a difficult shade with some harmonizing tint that is flattering to her own coloring.

Mrs. Simpson, for instance, with her black hair and bright blue eyes, would look far less glamorous in her chic, brown suit if she had not ordered a blue blouse to bring the whole ensemble into focus with her own particular type and personality.

Mrs. G. W. Reynolds entertained the Missionary Society of Trucksville M. E. Church on Thursday at an all day meeting at her home on Mount Greenwood Road.

Miss Elma Harter of Orangeville spent the week end as the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harter of Hillside.

Word is received by friends of Mrs. W. C. Johnson of Trucksville, that she is well and settled at Tampa, Fla., for the winter months.

Mrs. William Gabrille of Hillside has left with friends from Kingston to spend the remainder of the winter in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Egeleston and son, Alva, of Vernon, and Mrs. Ada Austin left Sunday for St. Petersburg.

Among local people who attended the formal dance of the Sophomore Class of College Misericordia last Friday night were Sally Wagner, Marion Scott, Elizabeth Auvil, Helen Himmeler, Genevieve Munley, Claudia P. Jones, H. C. Wood, Alva Egeleston, Fred Eck, John Caspar and Joseph M. Hand.

The needle arts have come into wide popularity. This series of 12 articles offers ingenious tips and instructions on various items which women will find both economical and fashionable.

VI—A Coat Lining Ceases To Function Normally

DIAGNOSIS: The normal inconspicuous but useful function of a coat lining becomes impaired by weak threads causing a general letdown of the inner portion of the wrap. Case requires deft handling of needle so no stitches will show.

Prescription: 1 spool Sewing Silk matching coat rather than lining. 1 Needle No. 6.

Method of Treatment: Pin lining in place with pins at right angles to edge. Slip the needle along in the fold edge of lining about 1/4-inch. Bring it through. Take a tiny stitch of not more than two threads of the coat material. Bring the needle through, and slip it along again in the fold edge of the lining. Continue in this way until lining is neatly sewed in place.
