CHRISTMAS

A snowy pinioned angel bright,
Cheered Judah's Shepherd one glad night,
With news of the Messiah's birth;
Glad tidings to a needy earth.

Then while the trembling shepherds feared
A shining Heavenly choir appeared,
Singing "Glory to God on High"
While radiance lit the earth and sky.

The shepherds heard them telling then
Of "Peace on earth, good will to men";
And of the new-born Christ divine
In swaddling clothes, beside the kine.

A-down the ages rolls with cheer
The carols which we love to hear;
And earthly choirs today repeat
The angels' song, so true and sweet.

'Tis treasured as in days of yore
And as we sing it o'er and o'er,
Our waiting hearts again are thrilled
And with God's lasting peace are filled.

Herbert Smith, the new Burgess, would be pleased with a more impressive looking courtroom in which to hold hearings after the first of the year. The nicest thing you could give Fred Eck would be more people who can keep their check books in balance.

Give Cosgrove, the baker, plenty of wind to toot that big bass horn in the West Pittston band. C. A. Frantz would be pleased with a flock of new depositors for the First National Bank. And you can give Pete Clark a chance to sing his Scotch songs for Major Bowes.

Everybody knows how James Ayre guards the borough treasury, so you'll make no mistake in giving him a few budgets to balance. Dan Waters deserves shorter minutes to read for the school board. Both John Durbin and Mike Kuchta would appreciate a better break for utilities from the government. And Wes Daddow would be thrilled with more brick houses, to stimulate business for the Dutch Mountain Clay Products Co.

As to the societies, The Junior Women's Club wants plenty of opportunities to be of service in 1938. The Shavertown firemen could use a little community support to help them pay off their debt. Bring the American Legion and its commander, Paul Shaver, some brand new quarters for their meetings.

As for the churches, if you could bring them a few sizable donations from the parishioners who are imbued by the spirit of Christmas you would be doing a good job.

Samuel J. Hess Is Dead At Age Of 73

Samuel J. Hess, 73, Kunkle, died on Monday morning at Nesbitt Memorial Hospital. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 from the home at Kunkle. Interment was in Woodlawn cemetery. Rev. W. S. York and Rev. Guy A. Leinthal officiated.

Surviving are these children: Mrs. Seth Howell, Fernbrook; Miss Francis Hess, Mrs. Russell Honeywell, Ralph Hess, Leroy Hess of Kunkle; and Wheeler Hess of Noxen; also one sister, Mrs. Jennie Norton of Elkland, and nine grandchildren.

That's all except that we'd like you to bring Chief of Police Leonard O'Kane something especially nice because he helped us to make up this list. He's too modest to ask for anything, but I know what he'd like.

You see it gets pretty cold in the winter on Main street, and Leonard still shivers, despite two or three pairs of underwear and five or six pairs of gloves. Now you use that red suit only once every year. Why not be a sport? When you're finished with it tonight, why not give the suit to Leonard? That ought to keep him warm and it certainly would be a very pretty sight on Main street.

As for me, if you can't bring me something to get rid of this cold, just bring me some good items for 1938. Regards to Donner and Blitzen.
