

THIS WEEK

International . . .

STERN

On the heels of war-torn China's Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's plea for positive assistance from friendly powers came stern storm warnings from the U. S. Department of State against the Japanese and international indignation at ferocious Jap bombing in Canton.

CZECHS

Stalemated in Czechoslovakian voting were pro-government and Czech Nazi Konrad Henlein's Sudeten forces. Said Rudolph Hess, Hitler's general representative: "Czechoslovakia is in a condition . . . practically akin to war . . . A menace to the peace of Europe". Said der Fuehrer: "Germany's future rests on twin pillars, the army and the Nazi party . . . etc. . .".

EARTHQUAKE

Dizzy last Saturday was all of central Europe when twin earthquake shocks demolished buildings in Belgium and disturbed the equilibrium of staid Londoners. Unshaken, however, were Hitler's twin pillars.

REBELS

With the capture of Castellon de la Plana and its Port of Grao, Insurgent forces opened a broad coastal plan for offensive measures, prepared to advance on Valencia, next focal point of the war in shell-shocked Spain.

EXCHANGE

In the "danger zone" chartered by Japanese advancing from fallen Nanking were U. S. and British ships. Warned the U. S.: "We do not intend to restrict activities of American warships on the Yangtze."

National . . .

PROFIT

Recovered last week near Miami, Fla., were the tiny dead body of kidnapped James Cash, Jr., alleged kidnapper Franklin Pierce McCall, and $12,000 in ransom bills, less $5 profit for McCall, by J. Edgar Hoover et al.

OPINION

Cheered and booed at Cooper Union commencement, J. Pierpont Morgan shook hands with 208 graduates, said his opinion on business and politics isn't "worth a damn".

STRIKE

SWOCalled strike at the Penn Iron and Steel Company's Creighton plant, caused by activities of a grossly over-worked puddler who turned out four heats of metal instead of the customary three one day October last, came to an end early this week.

REDS

Excepting only CIOacle John L. Lewis, tempestuous Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City declared his intentions of showing that the CIO "is governed by the Communists of the country and that the movement is Communistic."

DECLARATION

House Minority leader Bertrand H. Snell termed current congressional session as "brazen, shameless playing of politics". Said Representative Snell: "The tactics, of Boss Tweed and Tammany Hall have been brought inside the doors of the U. S. capitol." Further accused Hamilton Fish: "Relief funds are being used to prime primary and election pumps."

State . . .

KEYNOTE

Keynoting the general election campaign, Republican Candidate for Governor, Judge Arthur H. James dedicated himself to the prototypical "task of restoring to our commonwealth the prosperity and happiness, the liberties and the opportunities which have always been our birthright."

SUPPORT

U. S. Senator Joseph Guffey pledged himself and his followers to the support of Democratic nominees in the general election, asked his henchmen to keep intact the organization which bucked the Democratic State Committee in the primary.

ACCUSED

Governor George H. Earle, named with members of his cabinet in a petition for a grand jury investigation of primary campaign charges of graft and coercion, demanded his own arrest and that of others involved, defied Shelley to prove his charges.

County . . .

ABANDONED

Abandoned is the north Wilkes-Barre roundhouse of Lehigh Valley Railroad, by an executive order shifting nine employees to the Coxton yards, numerous officials to other points. Scheduled to be abandoned was the engine terminal, but the Citizen's Committee of the Chamber of Commerce caused the order to be postponed, is conferring with Lehigh Valley officers on the railroad's "retrenchment program".

PLEA

A petition to be presented before the State Pardon Board to change Good Friday bomber Michael Fugmann's sentence from death to life imprisonment is being prepared, disclosed District Attorney Leon Schwartz.

Miscellany . . .

FIREMEN

Dead is the newborn baby of Mr. and Mrs. William Sisko of Wilkes-Barre, despite valiant attempts of Fire Chief Ambrose Saricks, city firemen, Dr. J. R. Burns, and the city's pulmotor. Baby developed breathing trouble soon after birth, firemen and pulmotor were called in.

Announce Special Services At Noxen

Rev. Brown, pastor of the A. M. E. Church of West Pittston will bring the message at the Gospel Tabernacle at Noxen on Sunday night, June 19, at 7:30. Rev. Mr. Brown is a highly-educated man of sterling qualities and his sermons have brought him wide reputation. Evangelist Mickey Walsh, noted Irish preacher will be at the tabernacle from June 27 through July 3. Services will be held every evening. All are invited to attend these services.

The Old Scrap Book

Greetings:

Our sincerest congratulations to the Class of '38 for their work and also for their splendid Commencement program last Thursday.

"Rather Faithful than Famous". Truly this is a great motto for any class or individual. When all men seem to be clamoring for fame, let us be faithful. Faithful to God who created us in His image, and who, after man lost it, sent His own Son to redeem us back to Him; faithful to Him who said, "Come unto Me, and I will give you rest". Faithful to Him who can give peace amidst strife, calm amidst storm, and a happy haven in heaven when the storms are past. If we have all this, then why should we want to be famous?

I have written the following lines and respectfully dedicate them to our own Dallas High graduates of 1938.

YOU MUST FILL THAT SPACE

Teachers, pencils, books and rules, Everything that goes with school Is gone—and in its place— You're the one to fill that space.

Formulas, and problems too, All the work you did so true Are no more—and in their place— You're the one to fill that space.

As you leave your school so dear, Go through life from year to year You may be honored or disgraced— You're the one to fill that space.

When you want a job to do, Remember someone's needing you To help them in life's weary race— You're the one to fill that space.

Graduation! From what? Schoolbooks, schoolrooms, school teachers, from school itself. Mingled emotions fill the student's heart as for the last time he lays down the books from which he received his training for life. Into the world he goes, not knowing what lies before him.

Remember: Receiving a scholarship here depends on what you do; receiving a scholarship to heaven depends on what you do with what God has done for you.

Your friend,
Bob Sutton.

W. P. A. First Aid Course Held Here

A general course in first aid rudiments, open to laborers and sewing project workers, will be conducted by accredited supervisors at the WPA center in Dallas. The course is being held in conjunction with a program outlined by County Administrator Harry J. Williams.
