Delay On Repairs Irks Local Folks

Center Street Residents Criticize Methods Of WPA

Residents of Shavertown are complaining about the slow progress being made on the resurfacing of Center Street. WPA has been working on the road for the past two years.

Center Street, extending from Shavertown M. E. Church to Stanley Henning's Place, is one of the most traveled streets in the township, and has been in bad condition for several months.

Greatest need for repair is in the section between the M. E. Church and the Lehigh Valley crossing near Shavertown Lumber Company yards. WPA work is being carried on at the far end of the street. Stone and gravel used is being hauled over a roundabout route from Trucksville almost back to its point of origin to be placed on the road. Most observers are of the opinion that it will be one or two years before the WPA works its way down to where the road really needs repair.

BRITISH VISITOR FINDS AMERICA HIDING BEAUTY WITH SIGNBOARDS

ENGLISH AGRICULTURIST VISITS SISTER-IN-LAW

"America is far too commercialized," remarked John Sproston of Macclesfield, Cheshire, England, who, with his wife, visited Professor and Mrs. Ernest Wood and family of Ridge street last week. Mrs. Sproston is the former Elizabeth Wood, sister of Prof. Wood.

"One can't see America for the sign boards, or hear American radio programs for the advertising," Mr. Sproston went on.

Mr. Sproston is an expert agriculturist who alternately manages his large dairy farm and serves as chairman of the government agriculture board of Macclesfield. The agriculture board in England is to farming what the Interstate Commerce Commission is to transportation and industry in the United States. The board fixes rates for farm and dairy produce, supervises cultivation, and regularly inspects cattle and farm buildings to insure sanitary conditions.

"America is a safer place to live than England. War is rather remote in the United States, but in England there is a shortage of agricultural workers because so much labor is put to work in the munitions factories and the army," said Mr. Sproston.

Mr. Sproston and his wife, who leave for England this weekend on the Cythia of the Cunard lines have been in America for over three weeks. After visiting farms in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Ohio, the couple spent more than a week as guests of Prof. and Mrs. Wood. Last week Mr. Sproston spoke at the Wilkes-Barre Exchange Club, comparing English and American agriculture.

"England," he stated, "is America in miniature as far as farming goes. English farmers are just as modern and up-to-date, but operate on a generally smaller scale, for the island is quite congested. All available farm land is under some stage of cultivation, for in order to be successful, the English farmer must make use of all of his land."

Sunday the Woods entertained a large group of people at a dinner in honor of Mr. Sproston and his wife. In addition to the guests of honor, the Woods, and Mrs. David Jenkins, mother of Mrs. Wood, the following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Allen Cooke of Karney, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wane and children, Dorothy, Harold, Malcolm and Nancy, of Pittston, and Miss Helena Bartlett of Pittston.

Professor Wood, who came to America twenty-seven years ago, formerly lived in Lancashire, England.

WILL FLY TO BUFFALO

Mrs. Reynolds Host At Family Dinner Before Leaving To Spend Summer With Sister

Mrs. George Reynolds of Mt. Greenwood was hostess at a lovely family dinner on Monday night at which the guests were her sister, Miss Rosa E. Santee of Ocean Grove, N. J., her brother, W. J. Santee and daughters, Betty and Ruth, and sons, Richard and Jack of San Francisco. Mrs. George J. Reynolds and daughter, Betsy, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Conrad and son, Frederick and Miss Betty Boyer of Lodi, N. Y.

It was Mrs. Santee's family which Mrs. Reynolds visited in California this year. The Santees left the West Coast on July 1 and made their first Eastern stop in Buffalo to visit Mr. Santee's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hobart. From Buffalo the tourists came on to Pittsburgh, Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Ocean Grove, where they visited Miss Santee, who then came on with them to visit Mrs. Reynolds. The Santees left Tuesday for Buffalo, stopping at Penn State, Mr. Santee's alma mater. Mr. Santee is associated with Marsh and McLennan, nationally-known insurance brokers, and has been with that firm for 25 years.

Mrs. Reynolds, who returned about a month ago after a seven-month stay in California, will fly to Buffalo within a few days to spend the rest of the summer as the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. H. Hobart. Mrs. Reynolds went to California and returned by American Airlines planes.

The Old Scrap Book

Greetings from Montrose:

As you read this, yours truly is enjoying a week of rest, vacation, and spiritual uplift. Drinking deeply the messages of God's men, and enjoying the fellowship of many of His ministers. The various conferences continue until August 14. Why not take a spin up here and enjoy a day in the mountains, with wonderful times. You'll come back refreshed and revived.

Jesus said, "Come ye apart and rest awhile". Many follow that advice, but do they take Him with them? The human body demands that we let up sometime and relax. But how much better when we do it with God's strength and His power. By all means, take a vacation this year; but remember, don't leave Christ at home.

In going through an old song-book, I found the following little hymn:

LET THE WEARY WORLD ROLL ON

Other folks may not approve me, What is that to me? 'Til life is done I will try to please my Savior And let the weary world roll on.

Let their evil tongue assail me, From the early morn 'til day is past; I will take it all to Jesus, And let the weary world roll on.

I will do as Jesus bids me, I'll forgive them all as He has done; Let Him only smile upon me, I'll let the weary world roll on.

TRUCK SINKS IN MUD

Henry M. Laing Fire Truck Tied Up For Several Hours After Flushing Creek

The fire truck of Henry M. Laing Fire Co. was out of commission for several hours on Tuesday when it sank into the mud while being used to flush Toby's Creek.

After the truck had returned from its call to Penn-Fern gasoline station, where it had been called to extinguish a small fire, it was driven to the bank of the creek. Water was pumped from Ira Cooke's spring and directed at the banks of the creek in an effort to clean the banks of matter which has been throwing off odors none to sweet these hot days. The truck sunk almost to the running board and it took a volunteer crew several hours of hard work before the big machine was freed.

tions to be added to the standpipe and is contemplating speeding up its pumping facilities. The new sections have not arrived, but will be installed as soon as they reach here. The company believes the improvement will relieve the situation on Parrish Heights, where service has been interrupted frequently recently.

I am walking the narrow way; I care not what the world may say, And with Him I'll brave old Jordan's tide And let the weary world roll on.

The official board was urging the new preacher to be tactful in his preaching. "Don't say much about liquor," said one. "Our largest contributor is a brewer." "Don't say anything about graft," advised another. "Two of our trustees are aldermen." A third said, "The soprano is a grass widow, so lay off divorce." "What shall I preach about?" said the minister with calm. "Pitch into the Mormons," said one. "There isn't a one in town!"

See you next week, Bob Sutton.
