JANE CASE, FERNBROOK, RECEIVES HIGHEST AWARD IN GIRL SCOUTING

Service Stripes Awarded To Local Women Active In Scouting

LEADERS HAVE TEA

Miss Jane Case, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Case of Fernbrook, received the Golden Eaglet, the highest award in Girl Scouting, at a tea given by the Dallas District Executive Board on Saturday afternoon in Dallas M. E. Church.

Miss Case has been a Girl Scout for nearly eight years. She joined Troop 16, Fernbrook, in 1931. She received her second class badge in 1934 and her first class badge in 1937. She has earned merit badges in athletics, cooking, dressmaking, gardening, handy-woman, home nursing, homemaking, housekeeping, junior citizen, minstrelsy, photography, swimming, world knowledge, scholarship, child nursing, dancing, first aid, garden flower finding, health, modesty, journalism, laundry, needlework, sailing and wild flower finding. She is also entitled to wear the Girl Scout Aide and Girl Scout Observer group badges.

She has received special awards of five gold stars for perfect attendance at all troop meetings during the year and one silver star for the one year when she missed one meeting. In 1937 she received a silver service stripe for five continuous years in scouting. She is also entitled to wear the badges of the Girl Scout Aide and the Girl Scout Observer. She has been a patrol leader and treasurer and is now scribe in the Fernbrook troop and secretary in the Senior troop of which she is a member.

Miss Case camped three years at Onawandah and has accompanied her own troop on camping trips. With nine other experienced campers she enjoyed a Youth Hostel Trip through New England in 1938. She is a Junior at Dallas Township High School and attends Glen View Primitive Methodist Church and Sunday School, where she is secretary of the school. She is also president of the Wyoming Valley Girl Scout Press Club and president of the Pi Mu Sorority in Dallas.

At the tea Mrs. E. J. Conrad, director of Wyoming Valley Council, Girl Scouts, presented gold stripes for ten years of service to Mrs. A. S. Culbert and Martha Russ. Five-year service stripes were given to Mrs. David Spry, Mrs. Jacob Beline, Mrs. Haydn Williams and Mrs. Al Krachenfels.

Proceeding the Gold Eaglet award the following program was offered: Readings, Edmund Whitty; solos, Eddie Adolph, accompanied by his mother; solos, Mrs. Grace Moore, accompanied by Mrs. Maude Baker. Mrs. Martin Porter reviewed the scout record of Miss Case. Mrs. Edgar Adolph, chairman of the Fernbrook troop, presented Jane to Mrs. S. R. Schooley, who made the award.

Mary Jones, Mabel Rogers, Dorothy Weaver and Mildred Kitchen were members of the color guard and Frances Pierce, Margaret Gerlach and Minnie Crispell, all Golden Eaglets, made up the guard of honor. Russell Houser sounded taps and Gordon May sounded the echo.

Weekly Business Review

Dallas Inn Serves Sea-Food For Lent

Lent means, among other things, an open season on sea-food to a good many of us. And that brings us to the Dallas Inn and Herm Vancampen—Herman S. Vancampen, to be exact—who knows a good thing when he sees it.

For years the Dallas Inn has been known for its fine sea-food menu, quite aside from the balance of its excellent restaurant fare, good bar service and entertainment features. And the reputation of the Dallas Inn reflects the good business judgment of Mr. Vancampen, who took over the management of the Huntsville road restaurant last November.

A business man in this section for over 20 years, Mr. Vancampen gave up selling groceries to satisfied customers in Shavertown to make people happy at the Inn. He has a dandy place for banquets and parties and on Saturday nights features the popular Charlie Locke and his four-piece Crooning Strings.
