

SPORTS REVIEW

THE ONLY WAY anybody can find out anything about Malcolm McCulloch, former football coach at Lehman High School, is by reading the newspapers. Modest Mal, who was appointed to a physical education teaching post in Wilkes-Barre schools the middle of this winter, won't tell on himself. But his latest escapade speaks louder than words.

After it was all over, the silent Scot probably just went home and went to bed without a second thought. But newspapermen dashed for their typewriters. For Mal McCulloch, who plays pro basketball for the Pittston Pirates of the NYP League, put on one of the greatest individual exhibitions ever recorded in NYP books in a payoff game with Elmira last Thursday night.

The genial sportsman, who has been more steady than colorful during the basketball season, embarked on a scoring spree the like of which has never been seen in NYP championship playoffs and tossed in 20 counters as Pittston walloped Elmira, 39-32, in the second game of the crucial title series.

ALTHOUGH WELL down the list of NYP scoring stars and blanketed in the first game of the three-way series at Elmira, Mal took the opposition guards in his six foot two inch stride that Thursday night and tallied nine field goals and two fouls, giving his team mates sufficient margin for their 7-point victory.

Perhaps he was just as surprised as everyone else at his opportune brilliance, or maybe he just didn't want to disappoint the loyal Pittston rooters, who packed Assembly Hall in spite of the odds against the Pirates. But it's a sure bet that after the final whistle blew he just scratched his head, smiled a little ruefully and said, "What's everybody so excited about?"

While he was stationed at Lehman, Mal was without a doubt the most taciturn of the local coaches. It took a lot of digging to get anything out of him at all, especially about himself. One week last November he just didn't know anything at all. And it wasn't until several days later that we discovered he had just been married. "But why would anybody want to know about that?"

A LOT OF YOUNG fellows around Dallas are going to turn up at the Dallas "night club" tomorrow when the new boxing club gets under way. Earl Kinsman, who had a brilliant record among the lightweights in Dixie, will doubtless have a lot to do with the training of the hopefuls.

But Kinsman is just a bright young fellow compared to such seasoned veterans as Johnnie Hayden, owner of the night club, and Pete Oberst, who cuts hair just a stone's throw away.

Pete may have passed his heyday, but he's mighty certain he could give Johnnie, who was a potent professional more years ago than he likes to think about, a pretty good battle.

Pete wasn't in a very threatening mood the day we talked to him, so we're doing his challenging for him. Of course, he may need a little help in the clinches from his barbering mate, George Hofmeister.

But the battle ought to go at least three rounds. By then Johnnie should be too tired to do anything even if he could catch up with Pete and the pair could settle their differences over a bottle of beer. What's good enough for Tony Galento is good enough for us . . . and everyone knows that fights these days don't go over three rounds, anyhow.

Reynolds Cow Completes New Official Record

A new record, exceeding the average of the Guernsey breed for her age and class has just been completed by a three-year-old cow Goodleigh Royal Helga 456603 of Dallas, tested and owned by Dorrance Reynolds. Her official record, supervised by the Pennsylvania State College and announced by The American Guernsey Cattle Club, is 12624.0 pounds of milk and 601.0 pounds of butter fat in class EE.

Dallas Team Seeks Community Aid

1938 Baseball Champions Organize For New Season

A drive for public support for the Dallas Arrows, crack local baseball team which won the league championship last year and which is now organizing for the 1939 season, was launched this week with the aid of a number of civic-minded residents of the community.

Primarily, the campaign is to raise funds to buy uniforms for the local nine. J. H. MacVeigh of Center Hill Road has been elected business manager and Don Grose has been elected manager and secretary-treasurer. Already a number of prominent citizens, impressed by the team's record last year, have lent their support to the movement.

A meeting of the league will be held soon to enter teams and prepare a schedule.

Revered Native Dies At Centremoreland

James VanTuyle, 72, Buried In Fitch Cemetery Monday; Taught Bible Class

Centremoreland people mourned this week the passing of James VanTuyle, 72, beloved Sunday School teacher at Centremoreland M. E. Church, who died last Friday of complications at his home.

Largely attended funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 from the home with services in charge of Rev. Thomas Klein of Centremoreland M. E. Church. Interment was in the family plot in Fitch Cemetery.

Born February 9, 1868, in Centremoreland, son of the late Newman and Lydia Montanye VanTuyle, he spent his life in that section. Described by friends as "one of the finest citizens of Centremoreland," Mr. Van Tuyle was a successful farmer and a member of the Grange. He was active in church affairs and for many years taught the Men's Bible Class at Centremoreland M. E. Church.

He is survived by his wife, Edith Eggleston VanTuyle, and one brother, Corey, of Centremoreland.

Huntsville Folks Honor Mrs. Prutzman For Service

Mrs. Celeste Prutzman, one of the oldest residents of Huntsville, was honored for her services to the Huntsville M. E. Church recently by a group of friends meeting at the home of Mrs. S. H. Sturdevant.

The group enjoyed music from a new radio which they presented to Mrs. Prutzman after the party. Games were played and lunch was served to Mr. and Mrs. George Learn, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Prutzman, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Van Orden, Walter Harris, Alfred Rogers, Mrs. Paul Johnson, Mrs. Harry Edwards, Mrs. S. P. Frantz, Mrs. Marlin Wagner, Mrs. Celeste Prutzman, Mrs. J. A. Rogers, Mrs. Flora Wilcox, Mrs. George Castenbauder, Mrs. A. J. Cadwalter, Mrs. T. Stickell, Mrs. S. H. Sturdevant, and Miss Ruth Bertram.

Dallas Boxers To Organize

Over 30 youthful boxing enthusiasts will be on the lists of the Dallas Boxing Club according to John Hayden, former professional boxer, who is fathering the organization.

The Main floor of Mr. Hayden's establishment will be turned over to the boxers, who will train and work out under supervision. Application for membership may be made with Mr. Hayden.

DEMS TO SOUND BATTLE-CRY AT JEFFERSON DAY DINNER

The anniversary of Jefferson Day will be fittingly celebrated by Luzerne County Democrats with a banquet at Hotel Sterling on the night of Thursday, April 13. Places reserved up to yesterday numbered well above the 700 mark and the indications are that the entire dining hall and ballroom service of the mezzanine floor will be required to accommodate the attendance.

Of outstanding importance to the occasion is the announcement that Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America and recently retired from the office of lieutenant-governor in Pennsylvania, will deliver the chief message of the night in the form of a prepared address upon which Mr. Kennedy has been working for the past six weeks. County Chairman James J. Law is in charge of general arrangements for the banquet and is aided by committees of Democrats in every section of Luzerne County. Recent developments at Harrisburg forecast a fighting Democracy in the present year. Since Luzerne County has been the very pivot on which Jeffersonian affairs have turned there is additional significance attached to the anniversary dinner on the night of April 13 and the assurance is that men high in the Roosevelt councils will be among the guests from out-of-town.

In contradiction to the prices set during the high tide of Democratic prosperity in Luzerne County the ticket admission for Jefferson Day is at an economy level, the desire being that the rank and file of the untried shall have the bulk of representation at the festive boards. Discussions that will be had around the tables, pointed by suggestions from the floor, are expected to bring forward the definite announcements of men who will make the campaign for offices to be filled this year by Luzerne County voters. There are eleven chief posts open with hundreds of dependent appointments.

Will Substitute Buses When Tracks Are Moved

Transportation between Dallas and Wilkes-Barre will be improved considerably this spring when three new buses take the place of street cars on the Dallas line.

Bus service will be instituted when work on the upper end of the Luzerne by-pass necessitates the removal of street car tracks on Main Street, Luzerne, Edwin A. Hoffman, superintendent of the Wilkes-Barre Railway Corporation, said this week.

The conveyances will be of the same type soon to be used on the West Side when Wyoming Avenue is rebuilt into a modern concrete highway. Built by the Wyoming Valley Autobus Company, the buses will be able to accommodate 31 passengers comfortably and will be faster and quieter than those now running between Wilkes-Barre and Kingston.

The three new buses will run on a schedule similar to that of the Dallas street cars and will operate under the control of the Wilkes-Barre Railway Corporation. Active motormen will be converted into bus drivers to avoid any unemployment problem which might be occasioned by the discontinuing of street car service, according to Mr. Hoffman.

Lancasters Are Conducting Services At Noxen

A two-week Gospel campaign is being conducted in Noxen Gospel Tabernacle by the Lancaster evangelistic party. Evangelist Robert Lancaster gives timely Biblical messages in an interesting manner which holds the attention of his audience. Each message is preceded by a "Live Wire" song service, directed by Arden Lancaster, chorister and soloist, and Bob Sutton, pianist. Meetings are held every week-night except Monday, at 7:45 and on Sunday afternoons at 3. The campaign will end Sunday, April 9. The Lancaster party may also be heard each morning at 9:30 from Tuesday to Saturday over WGBI, Scranton.

The removal of street car tracks on the West Side will improve travel conditions to a very great extent. In Luzerne particularly, the relatively slow street cars have held up traffic on narrow Main Street and the tracks have been a hazard during wet and icy weather.

PURINA-LAYENA

EGGS . . . . .

Through modern controlled methods of feeding chickens you control the eggs. The use of Purina's Pellet and Mash, balanced ration, with consumption control assures

1. Uniform yolks and whites
  2. Vitamin values.
  3. Proper nourishment to assure healthy embryo chicks.
- Fertility of such eggs is 10 to 15% higher than the U. S. Government average. That is only one reason why it pays to feed Purina. You can see the difference Purina makes.

Here's Local Proof

Dick Puterbaugh and Clarence Hilbert of Beaumont are hatching 89% consistently from Purina Embryo Fed Eggs.
