Emery Harris Celebrates His 79th Birthday Anniversary On Sunday

Emery Harris celebrated his 79th birthday anniversary at his home in Carverton with open house for his friends and family Sunday afternoon and evening.

Mr. Harris was born July 6, 1861, on Harris Hill on the farm now owned by Dr. G. L. Howell. His mother was Cordelia Frantz who died in 1901 and his father Elias Harris who lived until the grand old age of 81 and was then killed by a trolley car that ran into his horse and buggy back in 1912.

When Emery was only 4 the family moved to Carverton in the very house where Mr. Harris now does his own housekeeping. There are two other children living, Mrs. Amy DeWolfe of Dallas and Charlie, who is such a familiar figure at the Dallas bank and whom we have a nice visit with at the postoffice every morning.

In March 25, 1885, Mr. Harris married Etta Rice at her home in Lehman and became the father of four children: Mrs. Bessie Casterlin of Manchester, Conn., Mrs. Bertha Kraus of Wyalusing, Hiram Harris of Mt. Zion and Mrs. Sarah Rogers of Bloomsburg. He now has 17 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren. The Harris were fortunate for they enjoyed 52 years together, Mrs. Harris dying only three years ago, in 1937.

Generally so contented alone, reading and pottering around the house, Mr. Harris seemed delighted when the Krauses and the Harris and a good many of the grandchildren brought their dinners out to the farm and spent Sunday with him. Not a birthday cake but a tremendous luscious shortcake helped him celebrate.
