

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENT

Notice—Audrey Marlene Lyons has filed her petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Luzerne County to No. 1549 October Term, 1940, to change her name to Audrey Marlene Belles.

E. F. McGOVERN, Attorney for Petitioner.

SHERIFF'S SALE FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1940, AT 10 A. M.

By virtue of a writ of Levari Facias sur Mortgage No. 113, October Term, 1940, issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Luzerne County, to me directed, there will be exposed to public sale by vendue to the highest and best bidders, for cash, in Court Room No. 2, Court House, in the City of Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania, on Friday, the 6th day of September, 1940, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of the said day, all the right, title and interest of the defendants in and to the following described lots, pieces or parcels of land, viz:

All the following described pieces and parcels of land situate in Jackson Township, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

THE FIRST THEREOF: Beginning in the road where line of lots Nos. 36 and 38 crosses road leading from Huntsville to Plymouth; thence along said road, South 1 1/2 degrees East thirty (30) perches to a corner; thence North 78 1/2 degrees East eleven and one-half (11 1/2) perches to a corner; thence by lots Nos. 36 and 38, North 34 degrees West thirty-two (32) perches to the beginning. Containing one (1) acre of land. Being part of Lot No. 38, Certified Plymouth, now Jackson Township, 2nd Tier, 5th Division.

THE SECOND THEREOF: Beginning at a corner of land of Wesley Lameroux; thence by the same, North 57 1/2 degrees East thirty-one (31) perches to a stake and stones; thence North 31 1/2 degrees West thirty-eight and three-tenths (38.3) perches to land of J. J. Rogers; thence South 32 1/2 degrees East forty-three and six-tenths (43.6) perches to the beginning.

THE THIRD THEREOF: Being a part of Lots Nos. 38 and 40, beginning at a post; thence by lands of Wesley Lameroux, South 58 degrees West fifty-eight and eight-tenths (58.8) perches to a post; thence North 21 1/2 degrees West thirty-two (32) perches to a post; thence North seventy-five degrees East fifty-five and three tenths (55.3) perches to a post; thence South 32 degrees East fourteen and one-half (14 1/2) perches to the place of beginning.

All of the said three (3) pieces of land contain seventeen (17) acres and thirty-one (31) perches. BEING the same land conveyed to Phoebe A. Waters, widow, by Elizabeth Hudson by deed dated September 4, 1888, and recorded in the Recorder's Office in and for Luzerne County in Deed Book No. 279, page 518.

IMPROVED with a farm house, outbuildings, fruit trees, fences, etc. Seized and taken into execution at the suit of Sarah P. Miller, assignee, vs. Estate of Phoebe A. Waters, Louis J. Waters, executor, Hattie S. Wilcox, Louis J. Waters, devisees, with notice to Coray H. Miller, terre tenant, and will be sold by DALLAS C. SHOBERT, Sheriff. Patrick J. O'Connor, Atty.

SHERIFF'S SALE

By virtue of writ of Fieri Facias, issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Luzerne County, I will expose for public sale by cash at Court Room No. 2, Court House, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., on Friday, September 6, 1940, at 10 o'clock, A. M., E. S. T., the following described real estate: All that piece of land in the Borough of Ashley, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania, situate on the westerly side of Main Street, being 40 feet in width, and about 123 feet, more or less, in depth, as described in deed to Joseph Biesada and Sophie Biesada, his wife, recorded in Deed Book No. 581, page 510. Improved with a three story brick veneer apartment house and store rooms with garage in rear and known as Nos. 113-115 North Main Street, Ashley Borough, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania. Sold as the premises of Joseph Biesada or Biesada, his wife.

DALLAS C. SHOBERT, Sheriff. George L. Fenner, Sr., George L. Fenner, Jr., Attorneys.

SHERIFF'S SALE FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1940, AT 10 A. M.

By virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias No. 85, October Term, 1940, issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Luzerne County, to me directed, there will be exposed to public sale by vendue to the highest and best bidders, for cash, in Court Room No. 2, Court House, in the City of Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania, on Friday, the 6th day of September, 1940, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of the said day, all the right, title and interest of the defendant, in and to the following described lot, piece or parcel of land, viz:

The surface and right of soil of that piece of land situate in Kingston Borough, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania, described as follows:

BEGINNING on the Southwesterly corner of Pierce and Warren Streets;

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENT

Thence running South 30 degrees 11 minutes East, 40 feet to the corner of lot No. 34; Thence South 59 degrees 56 1/2 minutes West, between Lots 33 and 34, 145 feet to lot No. 63; thence North 30 degrees 11 minutes West, along Lot No. 63, 40 feet to Warren Street; thence North 59 degrees 56 1/2 minutes East, along Warren Street, 145 feet to Pierce Street, the place of beginning.

Being all of Lot 33 on the plot of lots of Lawrence Myers Estate, recorded in Map Book No. 2, page 66. Being improved with a two story stucco building with four apartments and a three-car frame garage.

Sold as the property of Anna C. Stapleton and Helen E. Stapleton. DALLAS C. SHOBERT, Sheriff. E. F. McGovern, Attorney.

SHERIFF'S SALE

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1940, AT 10 A. M.

By virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias No. 31, October Term, 1940, issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Luzerne County, to me directed, there will be exposed to public sale by vendue to the highest and best bidders, for cash, in Court Room No. 2, Court House, in the City of Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania, on Friday, the 6th day of September, 1940, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of the said day, all the right, title and interest of the defendants, in and to the following described lots, pieces or parcels of land, viz:

All the surface of those two lots situate in the Borough of Kingston, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows:

1. Beginning at a corner on the northwesterly side of Chestnut Street; thence along lot sold to J. B. Smith north thirty two degrees (32 degrees) West two hundred (200) feet to a corner; thence along other lands of the grantor herein, north fifty eight (58 degrees) degrees twenty seven (27) feet to a corner; thence along land conveyed to W. H. Webber South thirty two (32 degrees) degrees East two hundred (200) feet to Chestnut Street; thence along said Chestnut Street South fifty eight (58 degrees) degrees West twenty seven (27) feet to the place of beginning and containing five thousand four hundred (5,400) square feet of surface or soil.

Being the same land more particularly described in deed of record in the Recorder of Deeds Office of Luzerne County in Deed Book 703, page 406.

Improved with a two story frame single dwelling designated as No. 284 Chestnut Street.

2. Beginning at a corner on Market Street (formerly known Railroad Street) and land of Luther C. Darte; thence in a northerly direction along land of said Darte one hundred fifty (150) feet to a corner of land "now or late" of Mrs. Elizabeth H. Hoyt; thence in a westerly direction along land of said Hoyt thirty four (34) feet to a corner in line of land now or late of Sarah M. Nesbitt; thence in a southerly direction along land of said Nesbitt one hundred fifty (150) feet to a corner on said Market Street; thence in an easterly direction along said Market Street thirty four (34) feet to the place of beginning. Containing five thousand one hundred (5,100) square feet of land be the same more or less.

Being the same land more particularly described in deed of record in the Recorder of Deeds Office of Luzerne County in Deed Book 407, page 214.

Improved with a three story frame building used as a store-room, and apartments above; also a frame shed; also a one story concrete building used as a garage, designated as No. 867-869 Market Street.

Coal and minerals reserved as in chain of title. Seized and taken into execution at the suit of The Kingston National Bank vs. Willard I. Jones, administrator, Willard I. Jones, Gertrude Jones Lilley and Paul R. Jones, heirs at law of the estate of Isaac Jones, deceased, and will be sold by DALLAS C. SHOBERT, Sheriff. Felix W. Bolowicz, Fred B. Davis, Attorneys.

LEGAL NOTICE

In the Court of Common Pleas of Luzerne County, No. 1618, May Term, 1940. Libel in divorce a vinculo matrimonii, Joseph Placek, Libellant, v. Valeria Placek, respondent above named; Take Notice that an alias subpoena in divorce in the above entitled case having been returned by the Sheriff of Luzerne County that you, Valeria Placek, cannot be found in Luzerne County, you are hereby notified and directed to appear before said Court on Monday, September 30, 1940, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to answer the complaint filed in the above case. DALLAS C. SHOBERT, Sheriff. Joseph Serling, Attorney for Libellant.

SHERIFF'S SALE

By virtue of a writ of fieri facias, issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Luzerne County, No. 106, October Term, 1940, against M. S. Jordan, the sheriff will sell at public sale at Court Room No. 2, Court House, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., September 6th, 1940, certain premises situate 522 North Main Street, in the City of Pittston, Luzerne County,

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENT

Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a corner on the Westerly side of Main Street; thence along an alley North 86 1/2 degrees West 150 feet to a corner; thence North 3 1/2 degrees East 41 1/2 feet to a corner; thence South 86 1/2 degrees East 140 feet to corner on Main Street; thence along Main Street South 3 1/2 degrees West 41 1/2 feet to place of beginning. Improved with a two-story frame dwelling house, fruit trees and other outbuildings.

DALLAS C. SHOBERT, Sheriff. Jenkins, Turner & Jenkins, Attorneys.

SHERIFF'S SALE

Friday, September 6, 1940, ten o'clock, A. M., Court Room No. 2, Court House, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Levari Facias from Court of Common Pleas of Luzerne County, Pa., Real Estate of J. B. Frantz Estate, Wilson R. Garinger, et al, situate in the 12th Ward, City of Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne County, Pa. Bounded on the North by Academy Street; on the East by Magnolia Avenue; on the South by property of Peter Golden; on the West by property of Peter Golden and Sarah Newith, having a frontage on Academy Street of 62 feet and a depth of 80 feet, known as Nos. 164-166 Academy Street. Improved with a 2 1/2 story double frame building.

DALLAS C. SHOBERT, Sheriff. Edwin B. Morgan, Attorney.

SHERIFF'S SALE

On Friday, September 6, 1940, at 10 o'clock A. M., in Court Room No. 2, Court House, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., by virtue of Fi. Fa. No. 69, October Term, 1940, issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Luzerne County against Mary P. Ricketts, will be sold all that certain piece of land in the City of Wilkes-Barre, County of Luzerne, Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the Northerly side of West South Street 158.2 feet Easterly from the East side of South Franklin Street; thence along an 8.2 feet alley in a Northerly direction at right angles to South Street 215.6 feet to a corner of a 20 foot alley; thence along the same in an Easterly direction and parallel to South Street 18.8 feet to a corner in line of Lot No. 2; thence along said lot to South Street and passing through the center of a party wall 215.6 feet to West South Street; thence in a Westerly direction along West South Street 19.1 feet to the place of beginning. Being Lot No. 1 of the division of the Langfield Block made by Smith & Welles, June, 1920. Together with all party wall rights and all rights in and to the alleys running along the Northwesterly side line and the rear of the above described premises. Also together with all fixtures in the building on the described premises. Being the premises of Mary P. Ricketts, owner. Improved with a three-story brick (plaster covered) dwelling and a two-car garage. Known as No. 29 West South Street.

DALLAS C. SHOBERT, Sheriff. Collins & Collins, Attorneys.

Space Backs Request For Better Milk Prices C. W. Space of Dallas and other officers of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Milk Producers' Association conferred on Tuesday and discussed plans to ask the Milk Control Board at its hearing next Wednesday morning to increase the price the farmer is receiving for milk. Representatives of the Producers' Association will submit a new plan to the Milk Control Board to support their request for a change in the present rule which permits dealers to classify milk and reimburse the farmer on the basis of that classification.

DALLAS C. SHOBERT, Sheriff.

Space Backs Request For Better Milk Prices

C. W. Space of Dallas and other officers of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Milk Producers' Association conferred on Tuesday and discussed plans to ask the Milk Control Board at its hearing next Wednesday morning to increase the price the farmer is receiving for milk. Representatives of the Producers' Association will submit a new plan to the Milk Control Board to support their request for a change in the present rule which permits dealers to classify milk and reimburse the farmer on the basis of that classification.

Logan went to the door—gave the baron one last look. "No doubt about it," He paused. "And when I fought—I wasn't fighting for gents like you."

He left the cottage. The baron stared after him, his face an unemotional mask for his thoughts.

Logan got into his plane without seeing Linda again. Wemba cranked the ship, flew him back to M'Pola. Jock McPhail, who recognized the plane as soon as it came into sight over the seaport town, hurried down the main street. Fay Thorne saw him, ran to him.

"Mr. McPhail! Mr. McPhail!" she called. "I saw a plane!" "Somethings gone wrong."

He brought Logan into Mondehah's Simba Cafe as soon as the hunter crawled out of the ship. Dr. Phillips, the port physician, repaired the torn muscles. Then he gave an injection of anti-tetanus serum. Mondehah told Logan, cheerfully: "My friend, Francois—he had only a monkey scotch from a very little monkey. But the poison, she spread all through him. He turns first very red, then very white, like marble. Then he go blue all over and die. Very patriotic. Red, white and blue! I always say he die for France—but in my heart I know it was only a monkey."

"You're a tactful man. Mondehah," Jim grinned at him. "If my arm drops off, I'll send it to you." McPhail asked Logan what had happened.

"I tried to tickle a lion's ribs, but he wouldn't play," Logan gave him a careless smile.

"What about Linda? Are they safe?" Fay demanded. "They'll be back in a day or so," Logan's smile faded. "They're coming on the river boat. Yes, they're all right."

The doctor put away his instruments. "Better take it easy for a couple of days, Jim. Give that serum a chance to work."

"Thanks, doc." As soon as the physician had turned his back he signalled for Mondehah to pour him a drink. Jock McPhail looked at him impatiently as he downed it.

"Come on, Jim—" he demanded. "What happened?" Logan grinned again. "The lion wasn't ticklish," he said.

McPhail pestered him for information for the rest of the day. The hunter said nothing. Finally, over the cribbage game in McPhail's store that night, the Scot demanded:

SYNOPSIS

Linda Stewart, beautiful blonde guest of the multi-millionaire, Baron Charles de Courland, on a big game hunting safari, decides to win a proposal from him by pretending to be interested in handsome Jim Logan, the hunter and guide de Courland has hired. Far in Africa's interior she persuades Logan to take her on a game scouting trip in his airplane, delays him so they are forced to remain in the brush all night. De Courland, mad with jealousy, deliberately wounds a lion and Logan goes in after it. Linda screams wildly and gives her feeling for Logan away to de Courland.

CHAPTER IX

After the hideous and terrifying roar from the lion, Linda and de Courland heard the sound of a shot. A moment later Logan staggered out into the clearing, his left arm dangling lifelessly. Blood was streaming down the arm, soaking his jacket. Linda swayed as she stared at the wound.

"The boys will bring the lion in," he snapped. "That'll be your last lion, de Courland."

"Your arm—" Linda gasped. "Don't worry about that," Logan replied. "We'll go back to camp."

Although he was suffering, Logan led the way back to the compound. Wemba ran to meet him, then got medical supplies ready in the main building. In a short time, he had the wound dressed. Linda and de Courland came in. Wemba told them:

"Muscle—him torn." He looked at Logan. "You need see doctor man in M'Pola."

"Is there anything I can do?" asked Linda.

Logan told her there wasn't. The baron took her arm.

"He's right," the baron agreed, eagerly. He led her toward the door. "Come, my dear."

Logan rose, started pulling on his shirt.

"And, incidentally—goodbye," he said. "Wemba will fly me back to M'Pola. My fee didn't include losing an arm through infection. My boys'll take you back to the boat."

The baron was half out the door when Logan reached his side.

"Before you go," he told him, "I'd like to have a word with you."

He watched Linda walk on ahead, then added: "That was an easy shot you missed."

"I was tired—nervous—" "My life isn't worth much. But I don't like to see it wasted because of your spleen. You missed that kill purposely!"

"You weren't forced to go in after the lion." The baron smiled coldly.

"Oh, don't worry!" Logan replied. "You won't have to send for your lawyers. But why didn't you shoot me in the back? Wasn't missing the lion a complicated way to do it?"

De Courland gazed steadily at Logan for a moment, then shrugged his shoulders. Logan turned, picked up his jacket, ready to go. "Well—the party's over now." He started for the door. "It's just as well. One of us would probably get killed if it lasted any longer."

The baron nodded complacently. "As you say—very probably," he declared.

Logan went to the door—gave the baron one last look. "No doubt about it," He paused. "And when I fought—I wasn't fighting for gents like you."

He left the cottage. The baron stared after him, his face an unemotional mask for his thoughts.

Logan got into his plane without seeing Linda again. Wemba cranked the ship, flew him back to M'Pola. Jock McPhail, who recognized the plane as soon as it came into sight over the seaport town, hurried down the main street. Fay Thorne saw him, ran to him.

"Mr. McPhail! Mr. McPhail!" she called. "I saw a plane!" "Somethings gone wrong."

He brought Logan into Mondehah's Simba Cafe as soon as the hunter crawled out of the ship. Dr. Phillips, the port physician, repaired the torn muscles. Then he gave an injection of anti-tetanus serum. Mondehah told Logan, cheerfully:

"My friend, Francois—he had only a monkey scotch from a very little monkey. But the poison, she spread all through him. He turns first very red, then very white, like marble. Then he go blue all over and die. Very patriotic. Red, white and blue! I always say he die for France—but in my heart I know it was only a monkey."

"You're a tactful man. Mondehah," Jim grinned at him. "If my arm drops off, I'll send it to you." McPhail asked Logan what had happened.

"I tried to tickle a lion's ribs, but he wouldn't play," Logan gave him a careless smile.

"What about Linda? Are they safe?" Fay demanded.

"They'll be back in a day or so," Logan's smile faded. "They're coming on the river boat. Yes, they're all right."

The doctor put away his instruments. "Better take it easy for a couple of days, Jim. Give that serum a chance to work."

"Thanks, doc." As soon as the physician had turned his back he signalled for Mondehah to pour him a drink. Jock McPhail looked at him impatiently as he downed it.

"Come on, Jim—" he demanded. "What happened?"

Logan grinned again. "The lion wasn't ticklish," he said.

McPhail pestered him for information for the rest of the day. The hunter said nothing. Finally, over the cribbage game in McPhail's store that night, the Scot demanded:

"Where was yer mind, lad?"

Logan looked up from his cards for the first time, said very seriously:

"I was worried, Jock."

"Aye, lad?"

Logan played again.

"About the four bucks you owed me from the last time we played cribbage." He smiled again at the look of disgust he got from McPhail. "And if you don't watch your game and stop thinking about other things, it'll be a lot more."

McPhail studied his cards. Then he looked up at his friend.

"Aye," said McPhail, a very wise light in his small eyes. "Ye know, the lass was bonnie enough to be Scottish."

(To be continued)

"Now, as ye were sayin', laddie—" "I wasn't sayin'," Logan countered.

"Ye been a hunter for many a year and ye've seen many a shot missed, aye?"

"Eight," replied Logan, examining his cards.

"But, when there's been a shot missed, ye've always made 'er kill wi'out damage to yersel'—"

"Twenty-five," said Logan playing a card.

He brought Logan into Mondehah's Simba Cafe as soon as the hunter crawled out of the ship. Dr. Phillips, the port physician, repaired the torn muscles. Then he gave an injection of anti-tetanus serum. Mondehah told Logan, cheerfully:

"My friend, Francois—he had only a monkey scotch from a very little monkey. But the poison, she spread all through him. He turns first very red, then very white, like marble. Then he go blue all over and die. Very patriotic. Red, white and blue! I always say he die for France—but in my heart I know it was only a monkey."

"You're a tactful man. Mondehah," Jim grinned at him. "If my arm drops off, I'll send it to you." McPhail asked Logan what had happened.

"I tried to tickle a lion's ribs, but he wouldn't play," Logan gave him a careless smile.

"What about Linda? Are they safe?" Fay demanded.

"They'll be back in a day or so," Logan's smile faded. "They're coming on the river boat. Yes, they're all right."

The doctor put away his instruments. "Better take it easy for a couple of days, Jim. Give that serum a chance to work."

"Thanks, doc." As soon as the physician had turned his back he signalled for Mondehah to pour him a drink. Jock McPhail looked at him impatiently as he downed it.

"Come on, Jim—" he demanded. "What happened?"

Logan grinned again. "The lion wasn't ticklish," he said.

McPhail pestered him for information for the rest of the day. The hunter said nothing. Finally, over the cribbage game in McPhail's store that night, the Scot demanded:

"Where was yer mind, lad?"

Logan looked up from his cards for the first time, said very seriously:

"I was worried, Jock."

"Aye, lad?"

Logan played again.

"About the four bucks you owed me from the last time we played cribbage." He smiled again at the look of disgust he got from McPhail. "And if you don't watch your game and stop thinking about other things, it'll be a lot more."

McPhail studied his cards. Then he looked up at his friend.

"Aye," said McPhail, a very wise light in his small eyes. "Ye know, the lass was bonnie enough to be Scottish."

(To be continued)

Machell's Heifer Dies

Leonard Machell lost a registered heifer Monday. She had been in the field for sometime and when Mr. Machell went to find her he found that she was ill. He called Dr. Chandler who administered treatment but was unable to save the cow. He did, however, save the calf.

Just Pack Up and Go on that vacation—We'll Do the Laundry

Enjoy complete vacation freedom. Our laundry service is priced for every purse and you'll get added pleasure from its quality.

O'Malia Laundry Service advertisement with logo and contact information.

Advertisement for Edward Eyerma & Son, General Contractors, featuring a house illustration and text: 'For Your Home In The Dallas Area... SEE... EDWARD EYERMA & SON General Contractors 53 BENNETT BUILDING WILKES-BARRE, PA. BUILDERS OF QUALITY HOMES OF LASTING BEAUTY'

Advertisement for a set of teeth: 'A SET OF TEETH FOR ONLY $1.00 DOWN PAY WHILE WEARING'.

Advertisement for Dr. E. R. Kemp, Dentist: 'Just $1.00 Down And You Receive Possession Of Your Plate. Pay Balance $1.00 Weekly While Wearing. All Branches Of DENTISTRY On Generous Credit Plan USE YOUR CREDIT Teeth extracted asleep or awake. Broken plates repaired promptly. Dr. E. R. KEMP DENTIST 74 Public Square, Wilkes-Barre'.

Advertisement for Firestone Standard tires: 'Firestone STANDARD Saves YOU MONEY ALL THE WAY AS LOW AS $5.90 AND YOUR OLD TIRE * Gum-Dipped Cord Body * Scientific Safety Tread * Lifetime Guarantee'.

Advertisement for Roberts Oil Company: 'ROBERTS OIL COMPANY The Big Gulf Station At Hillside Telephone Dallas 9089-R-2'.