

FOUR OF A KIND BORN TO KENTUCKY MOTHER

Pictured in the incubator room of the Louisville, Ky., Hospital are the quadruplets born to Mrs. Porter Lasley, 42-year-old farmer's wife, in Leitchfield, Ky., Hospital. Wrapped in cotton and blankets and surrounded by hot water bottles, the babies made the two-hour trip to Louisville in an ambulance and are reported doing well. There are three girls and a boy, Mildred, Martine, Beulah and John, varying in weight at birth from 5 1/4 pounds to 4 pounds. Mrs. Lasley has had ten other children, eight of whom are living. The eldest is 23 years old.

LOCAL WOMAN FINDS PAINTING CLOTHES RACKS A REMUNERATIVE HOBBY

Mrs. Frances Graves of Franklin Street, Shavertown, has developed a profitable hobby. Inspired by the art work of her mother-in-law, Mrs. C. D. Graves, whose hand-painted ivy bowls and pottery need no introduction to Back Mountain folks, Frances has gone into painting children's clothes racks. These are so attractive that they have been snatched up by Wilkes-Barre department stores where they sell at popular prices. All this is done in addition to taking care of two small daughters and a husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Stock of Shavertown observed their 58th wedding anniversary at their home on Tuesday.

Josiah Santee of Spring Street, Shavertown, is seriously ill at his home.

Miss Katherine Finnen, Spring Street, Shavertown, is confined to her home with illness.

Mrs. Joseph Hemsley and children of Shavertown are spending a few weeks with relatives in Washington, D. C.

Long Island Girl Weds Son of The Dr. Creasys

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Renke, daughter of Mrs. A. L. Renke and the late George T. Renke of Jamaica Estates, L. I., and Byron H. Creasy, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Byron H. Creasy of Pioneer Avenue, Shavertown, took place at the home of the bride February 22. Rev. John C. Wiley, pastor of First Baptist Church of Jamaica performed the ceremony. Attendants were Mrs. Edward W. Wassman of Lancaster, sister of the bride, and Dr. Creasy, father of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Creasy is a graduate of Jamaica High School and the Drake School of Business and is manager of the Gift Shop in Hotel New Yorker. Mr. Creasy was graduated from Meyers High School, Wilkes-Barre, attended State College and is employed at Hotel Lexington in New York.

The couple will make their home at Jamaica Heights, L. I.

Dallas Junior Woman's Club Closes Eighth Year Of Service

Organized just eight and a half years ago with 29 charter members, Dallas Junior Woman's Club completed one of its fullest and most productive years of service for the Back Mountain area in March. Present officers of the club: Mrs. Herbert Lundy, president; Mrs. Wesley Moore, first vice-president; Mrs. Ross Lewin, second vice-president; Mrs. Fred Eck, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas Robinson, treasurer.

Club publicity, housing for all social affairs, reservations for all club activities, care of club furnishings have been ably handled by chairmen Mrs. Charles Whitesell, W. H. De-rolf, Harold Shiber and Peyton Lee respectively. Mrs. Ross Lewin did a good job as service chairlady—arranging a Christmas party for needy children and distributing Christmas baskets.

Mrs. Charles Wheaton Lee, finance chairman, shows creditable returns from year's money raising activities: glee club concert, May 21, Charlotte Parsons, chairman; spring dance, June 22, Mary Boyle; garden card party, August 20, at Herbert Lundy home, Mrs. Edward Hartman and Mrs. Malcolm Borthwick, chair-ladies; war relief subscriptions, September, Mrs. Harold Shiber; doughnut sale, October, Mrs. Byron Starr; rummage sale, November, Della Thompson.

In November 29 new members were taken into the club at their dinner meeting at Irem Temple Club. This makes a total of 111 members. Those joining: Mesdames Clarence Adams, Joseph Bailey, Robert Breslin, Henry Busch, Curtis Carr, Glenn Case, Harold Catlin, Fred Davenport, Walter Dean, Carl Dick, Richard Disque, D. H. Fado, J. D. Garreau, Oswald Griffith, John Hazeltine, James Huston, William Jones, G. Z. Keller, Jr., Earl Lamoreaux, Vernon Minnis, Donald Nelson, Edgar Nulton, Lawrence Swank, Austin Snyder, Donald Yeager; Misses Mary Jackson, Maude Jones, Marjorie McKeel and Grace Morris.

Meetings throughout the year have been lively and well attended. A number of novel programs were arranged by Mrs. Wesley Moore, chairman: March, Installation of Officers, Mrs. Charles Jones in charge; April, exchange program with West Pittston; May, mother and daughter tea; June, dinner honoring Rev.

HOW TO BE YOUR OWN DECORATOR

March Furniture Displays Often A Treasure House

March is a nice month of the year to me — It's what I call an anticipation month. There are the great furniture sales where you can find so many good pieces you really do need; the seed catalogues all come, and you can begin to think about the flowers for the summer; if you are on a farm, spring activity is planned, the chickens lay more eggs, and perhaps best of all, warm sunny days come along to cheer you, and the snow drops come up.

But as decorating is the subject in hand, let's discuss this question of furniture sales. If you were to go behind the scenes you would find that from November, plans had been made, new good furniture had been bought, and some fine pieces in stock, perhaps one of a kind, were given a new, lower price tag. The decorating shop which so many of the larger stores have today, has been preparing in the same way, assembling furniture, lamps, rugs, draperies and pictures, in harmonious grouping which can be the greatest help to you, either in new furnishing or in freshening up.

Even if you don't intend to buy, it's very worthwhile to visit your good shops this month to keep abreast of the times in furniture and decorating trends. You may find there is something quite worthwhile for you, which hadn't occurred to you, and you'll surely find in the exhibition rooms, and in the trained decorator who is usually in charge, any help you may need in determining what - to - put - with - what, new arrangements, and new color schemes. Yes and new color schemes and arrangements for lovely old furniture such as Early American, or 18th Century, or what have you. Just for a minute let's consider the value of carrying out a period feeling completely, whether it's Modern or whether it's Early American maple, in a pine paneled room. As I have often said, creating an atmosphere in a room is like making a cake. If you want a chocolate cake you put chocolate in it. If you want a coconut cake, you put coconuts in it. You would be surprised at the women who want an Early American pattern, and only put half enough "Early American" in it. Perhaps they buy or use the furniture and stop there. They are disappointed. Of course, the room needs the icing, the Early American background, rugs, chintz, ornaments.

Early American Feeling is Carried Out in Furniture, Rug, and Drapes

Dining rooms are often neglected so let's visualize one. The same principles would be true in living room or bedroom. Knotty pine panelling is first choice for all or part of the background or wall of room. Next a wall paper or plain straw colored paint. Rug within twelve to eighteen inches from wall in Early American pattern, and curtains in a quaint pattern. Here is where your shop will help you. If you are not familiar with patterns of a given period, ask to see them, and you'll easily find what you want.

Pads for the rush seats of maple chairs made of the materials of the curtains or a harmonizing material, in a pattern or solid color, give a lot of atmosphere as well as comfort, as well as Toby jugs and brass candlesticks on the mantel, a coaching print in a maple frame over it, and old china and pewter on the shelves of the open dresser.
