Marty Walsh Served Under Gen. MacArthur

Marty Walsh, proprietor of Colonial Inn at Fernbrook, is one who follows the exploits of General Douglas MacArthur with a great deal of interest.

Marty reads every biography and sketch of the life of the famous general he can lay his hands on, because he served with the 161st Infantry during the World War at Chateau-Thierry when it was part of the 42nd Division and MacArthur was a Colonel on the staff of the 42nd. Marty never saw MacArthur or heard of him then, but like every good American he is proud of him and even prouder that he once served under such a man.

Marty doesn't talk much about the World War—that's over now and he likes to forget the little part he played, but it will be a long time before he forgets to sing the praises of MacArthur or point with pride to the General's pictures on his wall.

Good Posture Vital To Health

All girls of the Junior High School at Port Washington, New York, belong to the Charm Club, under the direction of Adele G. Columbia. The aim of the club is to teach young girls clean living habits as well as to make the most of their personal appearance.

Commonest fault, the Charm Club has found, is poor posture. They turn thumbs down on the first picture at top, but clap hands when the position is changed with back straightened, chest pulled up. They learn quickly that posture is important for health as well as good looks. A good position for studying is likewise vital. Round shoulders and hollow chest result from persisting in the position at left below. The correct way at right—with feet on floor, back straight, bending forward from the waist—is less tiring and better looking.

Doorbell ringing... easy style

There's nothing mysterious about the way advertising works.

It's like the salesman who goes from house to house looking for customers.

Advertising does the same job on a larger scale.

It's quicker—reaches more people—at a lower cost per call.

In other words, it's a time saver, which means it's a money saver as well.
