Crochet Chair Sets Are Decorative And Useful

Conservation begins at home. Protect your furniture with smart and attractive chair sets which are decorative as well as useful. This crocheted set which you can easily make yourself, features a splash of three vivid colors in a geometric floral design against a neutral background. It is made of pearl cotton in a Cameo stitch. The fringed tassels combine all four colors. Directions for making this chair set may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, specifying design No. 50-15.

Mable Rogers Becomes Bride At Lovely Garden Wedding

Beautiful surroundings and perfect weather made an ideal setting for the wedding of Miss Mabel A. Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dorey Rogers, and Nile Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Hess, of Kunkle. The ceremony was performed in the garden of the bride's parents at Orchard Farm Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, by Rev. Francis Freeman, of Wilkes-Barre, former pastor of the Dallas Methodist Church. Miss Evelyn Knappman, music supervisor at the township high school, played the wedding music.

Miss Dorothy Weaver was maid of honor. She wore an aquamarine gown and veil to match and white accessories. Her bouquet was pink and yellow roses. The flower girl, Wilma Hess, sister of the bridegroom, was dressed in yellow organdie and carried a basket of rose petals. Harold Hess was his brother's best man.

Mrs. Rogers chose an orchid red-tinged dress and black accessories. Mrs. Hess wore a blue summer silk with white accessories. Both wore corsages of yellow roses.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hess are graduates of the Dallas Township High School. Mr. Hess is employed by Bethlehem Steel Company. After a short trip the couple will reside in Harrisburg.
