Mediterranean Air Bombs

ALLIED WARSHIPS CONTINUE to operate in the Mediterranean. They have brought another convoy to Malta. There were grave losses of British warships, but the enemy also suffered losses and the needed supplies reached the sturdy islanders. Other ships of the British Mediterranean Fleet have bombarded the island fortress of Rhodes. These pictures show ships of the previous Malta convoy, a few weeks ago. Above, escorted by a cruiser, two of them see Axis air bombs burst close. Below, an escorting battleship of the "Malaya" class is target for more enemy bombs.

Home-Coming Service At Mehoopany Sunday

A Home-Coming Service at the Union Hill Church and cemetery, Mehoopany, will be held this Sunday, September 27, at 2:30 o'clock. A very interesting program is being planned, with music, historical addresses, remarks and greetings from former pastors and old friends. The service will be concluded with a devotional period in the cemetery amid the graves of the departed.

This service will be under the auspices of the trustees of the church and cemetery and they invite all who are interested to attend the service. Time will be given to greet old friends who may come from afar. All former pastors and old friends are especially invited to attend.

Beaumont Union Church To Have Special Service

The Plew Boys, talented gospel singers, will be heard at the Beaumont Union Church Sunday night at 8 p. m. The feature of the evening will be Howard Sontell, young tenor soloist, who is giving his life for service as chaplain in the U. S. Navy. You won't want to miss this exceptional service.

The Rev. K. Elgena, pastor.
