THE POST, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1943

Dear Servicemen

All 650 of you. You know there's one place we've failed back here at home. We talk among ourselves about what a swell group of men we have in the service, but we never tell you. Most of the boys from the Back Mountain region are in the Air Corps or Military Police, two of the hardest branches of the Army to get into, or the Navy. It keeps me busy changing Pvt. to Pfc., or Cpl. to Sgt. or even Lt., the promotions fly so fast and thick. We're mighty proud of this but we've never told you.

We've had several visitors at the office recently. Last week Earl Williams and Karl Borkowski stopped in to chat with us. Earl is with the Military Police in Georgia, and Karl with the Air Corps in Texas. The day before, Lt. Harold Rood, who lives across the street from the Post, dropped in. That Lt. was a complete surprise to all of us, but a pleasant one. He's now with the Ordnance at Aberdeen, Maryland. Ralph Antrim came in all geared out in his paratroop outfit with its large, flappy, outside pockets and his brown leather boots. He made his graduation jump at Fort Benning on Friday, August 13th, but it certainly was his lucky day, for he passed with "flying colors." Stanley Hoyt, former milkman from Kunkle, was in the office last week, too. He was home for a few days from his duties on the Alcan Highway.

In my last letter, I pitied Bill Baker, Sr., because of the sweat and backaches he had from working in his garden. I don't pity him now. This week, Bill dug one of the most beautiful crops of potatoes I've ever seen,-potatoes as good as any on the market. He's pretty proud, too. Even had Clyde Lapp out looking at them.

Most gardens in town are about finished. We had our first frost Sunday evening and had another on Monday. But the row upon row of York. canned goods in the cellar didn't freeze, so we aren't afraid of going hungry

Well, fellows, we're all behind you here at home. We're putting everything we've got into this war, including our dollars and ourselves. If you from squad leader to platoon serdon't get your paper, let me know and I'll check your address-and join the Script Club.

Best of luck, MARTHA.
