

Mrs. Bertram Is Buried At Chase

Dies Thanksgiving Day In Nesbitt Hospital

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bertram, of Chase, gathered at their home Sunday afternoon to pay final tribute to Mrs. Bertram, who died Thanksgiving Day, in Nesbitt Hospital. In ill health for two years, Mrs. Bertram was admitted to the hospital a week before her death.

The former Rebecca Steever, she was born in Dauphin County, February 17th, sixty-six years ago. Her family moved to Plymouth when she was a small girl, and she attended Plymouth schools. Forty-four years ago, on November 23rd, she married Joseph Bertram, native of Chase, and they made their first home in that village.

Mrs. Bertram was a member of the Huntsville Christian Church, where she was treasurer of the Missionary Society for twenty-four years, ever since its organization. She was active in the Ladies' Aid and one of its most expert quilters. Folks in the community always welcomed a dinner invitation from the Bertrams, for her cooking was famous throughout the town.

Surviving, besides her husband, are two daughters, Mrs. Walter Palmer, of Chase, and Mildred, at home; a granddaughter, and one brother, Thomas Steever, of New Jersey.

Rev. Charles B. Smith, pastor of the Huntsville Christian Church, had charge of the services. Nephews, Josiah and Emory Stevens, Charles, Werington and Roy Holland, and James DeWitt, were pall bearers. Interment was in Fern Knoll Cemetery.

Shoots Buck

Fred Drake, of Lehman avenue, shot a nice 6-point buck on the Forkston Mountain, Monday. Fred and his classmate at Lafayette College, Dick Patterson, came up for the weekend and stayed over for one day's hunting. Allen Montross was also in their party.

building materials, farm improvements. Then came his recent advancement.

Dollar-a-year Man

While achieving success at Ward's, Mr. Stevens' outstanding ability has attracted the attention of various government agencies and as a dollar-a-year man he has contributed valuable services to both the Army and Navy. These services are so satisfactory that vigorous efforts were made to have him devote all his time to the war work.

As adviser to the admiral in charge of yards and docks, Mr. Stevens organized the Navy Procurement Division and set up a central control office in Chicago. He has contributed a great deal of his time as consultant to various procurement departments of both the Army and Navy.

A recent Washington dispatch in the Wall Street Journal, commenting on the work of Mr. Stevens for the U. S. Army, said in part: "In a new four-story office building at Jeffersonville, Ind., the Army does its buying like a mail order house. At this depot are purchased all the Army supplies of 'hard' lines—cooking and serving equipment, stoves and baking ovens, hardware, harness and saddles, canvas, duck and tents, cartridge belts, leggings and cordage. Responsible for this new organization and in large part for enlisting its civilian buyers is Rowland S. Stevens of Montgomery Ward and Company.

Army Work Wins Praise

"Brought to Washington to work in priorities under Mr. Nelson in the Office of Production Management, Mr. Stevens explains that the buying organization of the mail order house has been paralleled in the Army Depot. Now a dollar-a-year man in the WPB, Mr. Stevens may become civilian chief of purchases for the entire Quartermaster Corps in Washington. If he does, it will be his job to supervise the reorgani-

English Native Dies On Holiday

Services Held Sunday For Mrs. Frances Hunt

Mrs. Frances Hunt, 68, of Shavertown, passed away Thanksgiving Day at Mercy Hospital, after a lingering illness. Services were held Sunday afternoon from the Nulton Funeral Home, at Beaumont, with Rev. Felix Zaffiro, of Shavertown Methodist Church, in charge.

Born in Halifax, England, Mrs. Hunt, the former Frances Morrell, came to this country when a young girl. She met and married George Hunt, also an English native, in Philadelphia, and twenty-four years ago they came to Beaumont. Two years ago when her husband, a former State game protector, died, she made her residence with Mrs. Ada Evans, of West Center street, Shavertown, and lived there until the time of her death.

Surviving are two step-children, Mrs. Frances A. Space, of Noxen, and James P. Hunt, of California.

Pall bearers were Charles Smith, Frederick Weiss, Alfred Dymond, Edwin MacDougall, William Austin and Arthur Smith. Burial was in Beaumont Cemetery.

Bags Deer And Red Fox

Tony Hudak, of Overbrook avenue, is convinced that he has his best luck when he hunts alone, for Tuesday he brought back from the mountains, back of Noxen, a 6-point buck and a dandy red fox. There were no others in his party.

75,000 Rabbits Goal For Winter Game Transfer

Seventy-five thousand cottontail rabbits and an undetermined amount of ringneck pheasants and other small game have been set as the goal for the Game Commission's State-wide campaign of live-trapping and transferring game this winter.

Commission officials, in making this announcement, said that this program, which was first undertaken in 1937, is growing not only in popularity but in the amount of fine stock transferred annually. It serves a two-fold purpose, they explained, pointing out that game is removed only from areas where no hunting is allowed, such as city lots and parks, watersheds, institutional grounds, and other places where no shooting is permitted, and where damage is done to trees and victory gardens. The stock so obtained is mostly released on areas within the same county where public shooting is permitted.

The whole success of the program, they averred, depends upon county-wide organization between sportsmen's clubs, Boy Scouts and local Game Protectors who direct it. Last year over 30,000 rabbits and 2,100 pheasants were trapped and transferred under the program.

Trapping agents, consisting of Boy Scouts, interested sportsmen, farmers, and others appointed by the Commission, will be paid at the rate of 50 cents for each rabbit trapped and turned over to a Game Protector if the Commission furnishes the traps and 60 cents if the trapper or organization builds its own traps under special permit.

In no case will the Commission or any of its bona fide agents release rabbits or any other game on lands contrary to the wishes of the owner or tenant, and unless public shooting is permitted.

the school district, rather than upon any organization or organizations. It should not be necessary for any Association to go before the taxpayers individually each year to look for donations to assist the band. This should come out of current taxes.

However, the Band Parents' Association is willing to continue to assist by providing music, repairs to instruments, and if necessary, an occasional additional instrument, also to keep the uniforms in repair.

Below is an itemized list of the equipment provided by the individual parents, and the Band Association, with money secured by solicitation through the town, and by means of advertising and concerts: Fifty complete uniforms, Caps and Capes, $337.50; fifty braided vests, $200.00; pants and skirts, $271.30; three twirlers' hats, $22.50; batons, etc., $15.00; used bass horn, $135.00; used baritone horn, $40.00; instruction for band (since April, 1943), $107.00; drum major's outfit, $25.00; two color guard outfits, $40.00; repairs to instruments (approximately) $50.00; music, $50.00; pins (for graduating band members), $42.00; total, $1,335.30.

Of the above, $277.30 was donated by parents and other interested townsmen, toward the original purchase of capes and caps to start the uniforms. Many of the parents subsequently purchased the remainder of the uniform to complete the individual child's outfit.

Very truly yours, Band Parents' Ass'n., Mary P. Ferry, Sec'y.

basketball team, a member of the baseball team and of the Athletic Association of the school as well as a member of the school orchestra.

Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Humphrey, he leaves two sisters, Margaret, a student nurse at Moses Taylor Hospital, Scranton, and Eleanor, at home.

The largely attended funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home, with services in charge of Rev. George Whitesell.

Pallbearers were: Lawrence Steltz, Benjamin Smith, Walter Wesley, Walter Bronson, Warren Hoover and Myron Williams. F lower carriers were: Mary Delaney Genevieve Gultus, Lois Gray, Helen Szafran, Helen Zosh, Betty Sutton, Dolores Dendler and Sara Harris. Interment was in Trucksville Cemetery.
