Editorially Speaking:

World University

Revolutionary changes in our system of higher education may come because of the tremendous progress made in the development of the airplane.

With every place in the world only a few hours away by air, it is conceivable that, within this generation, countries, their histories and languages, will be studied at first hand instead of merely through books and lectures.

Eventually, according to a provocative article by Paul Schubert in the June issue of Cosmopolitan magazine, we may have a World University, which would have four colleges located in the United States, Europe, Russia and China.

Subjects taught at this suggested World University would be languages, history, economics and religion. The college of the World University in the United States would be for the study of the Americas, in England or France for the study of Europe, in Russia for the study of Asia and in China for the study of the Far East.

"Each of the four colleges would teach these subjects, as seen and lived in each of the four areas," Schubert states. "The Far Eastern College would teach the languages of the Far East, the history of the Far Eastern countries, the economics of the Far East and the religious beliefs of the Far East. Elective courses in literature, music and the graphic arts would be available."

Each class would comprise 4,000 students, 1,000 each from the four areas drawn proportionately according to the populations of countries in those areas. The World University would be co-educational and would offer post-graduate courses open only to holders of a baccalaureate from accepted institutions.

In support of his thesis, Schubert points out that the United States Navy for years maintained a small group of American naval officers as "language students" at our embassy in Tokyo and that their knowledge of Japanese language and customs has played an important part in our war against Japan. He points out that these men were not sent to an American college to learn about Japan but to Japan proper.

Perhaps the gasoline engine, plus twentieth century initiative will make some form of World University possible before many more generations go by," he concludes.

An Australian tried to enlist, but was refused because of bad feet. Next morning, he presented himself again before the doctor. "It's no use. I can't take you, as you couldn't stand marching," said the medico. "But why are you so insistent?"

"Well, Doc," said the man, "I walked 187 miles to get here, and I hate to walk back."—Cablegram.

Howard Johnson On Record B-29 Trip From Guam

Brig. General LaMay Pilots Big Ship To U.S.A. in 36 Hours

T/Sgt. Howard Johnson returned to Washington, D.C., on Wednesday after spending a six-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson of Lehman. Sgt. Johnson is a member of the crew of a giant B-29 Superfortress that arrived in Washington, D.C. from Guam a week ago last Saturday night. The ship, piloted by Major General LaMay made the flight from Guam in 35 hours and 58 minutes flying time.

Speaking of the trip, Sgt. Johnson, a veteran of several B-29 bombing raids over Japan, said: "It was swell. There wasn't a single incident to mar the journey." The Lehman young man had charge of much of the mechanical work on the plane during the flight. He expects to return to Guam shortly with the same ship and same crew.

Commenting on the epic arrival of the plane in Washington, the Washington Star had the following to say:

With Maj. Gen. LaMay at the controls most of the way a Giant B-29 Superfortress Saturday night completed a record non-stop flight here from Hawaii, covering the 4,640 miles in 20 hours and 15 minutes.

LeMay, commanding general of the 21st Superbomber command based on Guam, thus broke his own record of 4,100 non-stop miles from Kharagpur, India, to Guam, which he flew last January 19th.

The epic Hawaii-Washington hop was the last leg of a 8,472 mile flight from Guam. The long trip with one two-hour stop-over at Hawaii was completed in 35 hours and 58 minutes of flying time.

The 38-year-old Lakewood, Ohio, general, who directs the Superfortress attacks against Japan, came here for conferences with army air force officials and was accompanied on the flight by fifteen officers and enlisted men.

Jeter And Eck Are Advanced By First National

Frantz Announces Bank's Assets Exceed Two Million Dollars

Two faithful executives of First National Bank of Dallas were advanced in rank in recognition of their loyal service to the institution at the meeting of the Board of Directors on Wednesday.

W. B. Jeter, cashier, was advanced to executive vice-president in full charge of the administration Executive Vice-President of the bank and clerical force; and Frederick J. Eck, assistant cashier, was advanced to cashier.

W. B. JETER

Cashier

At the same time the Board of Directors announced that assets of the institution have passed the two million dollar mark with saving accounts exceeding one million seven hundred thousand dollars, and total deposits of one and three quarter million dollars. Three years ago in July First National's assets passed the one million dollar mark for the first time.

Commenting on the promotion of Mr. Jeter, C. A. Frantz president of the bank, paid a fine tribute to the new executive vice-president. "The record of Mr. Jeter's executive ability is so good," he said, "that the board of directors feel that he is entitled to a promotion. I think that most people are aware, too, that Doc Jeter is one of the outstanding bankers in this area and that much of the progress of the bank is due to his sound judgment and foresight."

Mr. Eck's promotion is likewise in recognition of his loyalty to the institution and to his immediate superior. He is a young man active in the affairs of his community and is well prepared to assume his new title.

Mr. Frantz further stated that the directors have authorized the purchase of more than $4,000 worth of new office equipment to facilitate the clerical work of the bank. This equipment includes posting machines, transit machines, and loan machine, but does not include several units of safety deposit boxes which have been ordered but not yet released.

SEND IT IN EARLY

In order that our force may have a few days vacation, the Post will be published early next week. Correspondents and friends sending in news can help considerably if they will please put their items in the mail over the weekend. Send in all you can—but send it EARLY.

Modern Community Cannery To Be Dedicated At Lehman

Citizens Give Library Books

Volumes Needed Now For Summer Indexing

Miss Miriam Lathrop, librarian at Back Mountain Memorial Library, has announced that several hundred books have already been donated and scores of others promised by local citizens.

Most of these books are in excellent condition, Miss Lathrop said, and those which aren't, but are useable, will be repaired just as soon as the library staff can get at them.

Miss Lathrop said gifts of all types of books will be welcomed by the library. She pointed out that there is a special need for volumes pertaining to local history, animals, birds, agriculture, mechanics, radio, electricity, antiques, interior decoration, children's books and current best sellers.

Because the summer provides the best time to catalogue these volumes, Miss Lathrop urged all persons who plan to give books to the library to give them now. Hundreds of volumes will have to be catalogued before the library opens this fall and with book publishers running behind schedule on delivery of new volumes it may be several weeks before the library can start work of cataloguing books which will be sent here by the State Library and by book publishers.

Miss Lathrop emphasized that not all of the books donated will be used on the library shelves, but those for which there is a demand will be used and the others will be salvaged to purchase more needed volumes.

Dr. F. Budd Schooley, chairman of the book collection committee, has announced that books may be left at the library or at any one of the following book collection stations. He asked, however, that donors notify him or the librarian at the time books are left at the stations so that they can be collected by one of the library committees.

Stations are: Trucksville, Thomas Sinclair Station; Shavertown, Evans Drug Store, Hughes Brake Service; Dallas, Memorial Library, Kuehn's Drug Store; Idetown, R. B. Shaver Gasoline Station; Harvey's Lake, Daniel C. Roberts Fire House; Beaumont, MacDougall's Gas Station; Noxen, G. A. Shook & Co., Ira Kresge's Store; or at any church in the Back Mountain area.

A Good Summer Tonic

Tom Kehoe has a beautiful display of deep rose, delicate pink and velvety purple lupins on his back terrace at Shrineview. These, framed by white birch trees, are really lovely.

Sgt. Clyde Veitch Circles Dallas In Big B-29 On Sunday Afternoon

Residents of Dallas and the Back Mountain Region were startled and thrilled Sunday afternoon when a giant B-29 circled Dallas twice at low altitude and then flew away serenely in the direction of New York.

Few had ever seen a B-29 before and none were aware that aboard the ship in the capacity of electric aerial gunner was Sgt. Clyde Veitch, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Veitch, Cemetery Street, Dallas.

Neither Mr. or Mrs. Veitch saw the plane for Mrs. Veitch was lying down at the time and despite the fact that the plane circled her house twice was not awakened. Mr. Veitch was working in Wilkes-Barre. Only a week earlier Sgt. Veitch had left Dallas for Pratt, Kansas, after spending a ten-day furlough with his parents, and none of the Veitch family expected him to be back in Dallas again so soon.

Their first knowledge that their son had been home for a flying visit was contained in a letter which he wrote aboard the plane during the trip and which they received on Wednesday evening. The letter:

Recognized as one of the most efficiently equipped and modernly housed canning centers in the State, Lehman Township's new canning center will be dedicated Tuesday, July 10. A luncheon, served cafeteria style in the same manner as the Lehman students will be served throughout the school year, will initiate the dedication at 7 P. M. Musical numbers will be provided by the band during the luncheon period.

H. L. Fetterolf, chief of Agricultural Education for the State of Pennsylvania, will make the dedicatory address. Miss Pauline Sanders, chief of Home Economics Education, will also speak. A. P. Cope, Mrs. Catherine Birth, Howard Newcomer, Charles Nuss, Arthur Ehret and others who have contributed to the successful completion of the enterprise will participate in the program.

Inspection of the equipment and facilities of the cafeteria-canning center will be the feature of the evening. This will be climaxed by actual canning, portraying every step in the canning process. Mrs. Hannah Orr, assisted by the members of the advisory council, will be in charge of this demonstration.

H. L. Hendricks, supervising principal of Lehman Schools, has invited the public to attend the dedication. "With the food situation looming ominously in the coming months," Mr. Hendricks said, "every citizen will do well to exercise to the fullest extent the opportunity to can quantities of food in this new sanitary, efficient kitchen. Just think of it! No fuss, no muss, lots of fun and plenty of delicious canned food for next winter when food will be difficult to purchase even if you have plenty of points.

Mr. Hendricks also said that surplus foods such as tomatoes, corn, etc., will be canned in large No. 10 cans to be used for the school lunch program.

Many questions are being asked concerning the canning center. Catharine Birth, Luzerne County Home Economics adviser, reports that she has had questions asked of her all the way from Hazleton to Scranton. Following are some of the most common questions with official answers as compiled by Mrs. Birth:

1. Who may use the canning center?

The center will be open to the public. Lehman school authorities are anxious that it operate at full capacity. If limitations should have to be made, patrons living within the service area of Lehman Township High School will receive first consideration. It is hoped that with efficient management and advance scheduling, all who wish to use the cannery may do so regardless of their place of residence.

2. Is advance schedule necessary?

Yes, this is very important. If you are planning to use the cannery, call Lehman High School, Dallas. (Continued on Page Eight)

Secretary And Three Borough Teachers Resign

Williammee Becomes Head of Falls-Overfield Vocational School

Adding emphasis to a need for higher teacher salaries in Dallas Borough Schools, resignation of three high school teachers were among a flood of resignations that greeted Dallas Borough School Board at its meeting last Friday night.

Prof. T. A. Williammee, supervising principal for the past seven years, presented his resignation to take place September 1. Prof. Williammee will become head of Falls-Overfield Vocational School in Wyoming County at a substantial increase in salary.

Miss Julia Dolton, head of the Home Economics Department for the past six years, will leave to take a similar position in Rutherford, N. J., schools at a much higher salary.

Miss Mathilda Lask, substitute teacher of History, French and Latin, has been appointed to a permanent position in Huntington Mills schools, also at an increased salary.

Other resignations included those of Daniel Waters, former school director and for the past several years secretary of Dallas Borough School Board, and Walter Covert, truant officer. Mr. Waters gave no reason for his resignation but said that he had contemplated such a move for several months. Mr. Covert, who is also Chief-of-Police of Dallas Borough, asked to be relieved of his extra duties in order to give more attention to his police work.

Professor Williammee declared take part in the worship service, that he was elected by the Falls-Overfield Board on June 9 and signed a contract on June 14. Falls-Overfield Vocational School is one of the oldest vocational schools in this section of the State and is the only vocational school in Wyoming County. Its present building was built in 1937 and Mr. Williammee will have a faculty of seventeen teachers under his direction.

A graduate of Mansfield State Teachers' College and New York University where he took additional work, Prof. Williammee came to Dallas from Liberty, Pa., where he served as assistant county superintendent of Tioga County Schools. He and his family will move to Wyoming County about September first.

Bible School Closes Today

Public Invited To Program Tonight

The Daily Vacation Bible School which has been conducted at Dallas Methodist Church for the past two weeks, with the general theme "Daily Life in Bible Times," closes tonight with a program at 7:30 in the church. Everyone is invited to come and see the work done by the children. The entire school will take part in the worship service, under the supervision of Rev. F. W. Reinfort, pastor of the church and dean of the school.

This morning the children will bring their lunches and stay for a picnic at noon.

Seventy boys and girls from four to fourteen years of age were enrolled in the classes, which met Monday through Friday from 9 to 11 in the morning. The Primary department was the largest, with thirty-two six to eight year olds.

Teachers were: Kindergarten—Mrs. Stanley Davies, Mrs. Alfred Root and Miss Lois Griesing; Primary—Mrs. Edward Stair, Mrs. Clark Hildebrand and Mrs. Harry Belles; Junior-Intermediate—Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. Lewis LeGrand, Mrs. Howard Bailey, Mrs. Peter Clark and Mrs. F. W. Reinfort.

Home From Europe

Completing 4½ years of army service, Pfc. Allen Ockenhouse has been honorably discharged and has returned to be with his family in Dallas.

We'll really have a good trip so far. It is now 7 P.M. and we are just about at Grand Rapids so I'll finish this letter a little later. Well, to start again. It is now (Continued from Page Five)
