Elma Major Honored
Miss Elma Major was guest of honor at a variety shower given by many church friends recently.

Miss Major will establish her home at Bloomsburg this fall where she has accepted a position as training teacher for Special Education at Bloomsburg State Teachers' College. She will begin her work September 5.

Miss Major, a former teacher in Forty Fort Schools, has been very active in church work, not only in Huntsville, but in the whole Back Mountain area and in the County and State. She will be forced to give up many of her duties here and will be sorely missed by those with whom she worked. Her friends are encouraged by the fact that her car still has many good miles left in it and she promises to return often to visit here.

Those attending the shower showed their love and respect for a faithful friend by showering her with gifts for her new home. The whole community wishes her the best of success and happiness in her new work and extend to her their heartiest congratulations.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS...

Well, here it is 1955! And Tom in business for himself—already heading for a real success.

Set himself up with those matured war Bonds we bought back in the 1940's—four dollars for every three we saved originally! Back in 1945, even, we knew it would turn out this way. Buying all the Bonds we could. And saving them! Tom's a wonderful husband. And he deserves all the credit.

Well, almost all!

There was a time—that was back in 1945, too, I guess—when he needed a little help from me. I found he'd let down on his Bond buying. Not only that, he actually almost suggested we cash in a Bond or two to pay for something we wanted...

And that's where I put my foot down!

"YOU LISTEN TO ME, Tom Lapham," I told him. "Don't you know that the biggest difference between a success and a failure is that the success sticks to his plans? I don't want to be married to a man who hasn't the resolution (or maybe I said 'gumption') to slack off on what he knows is right! You're not going to sabotage our future!"

I guess every husband needs a wifely dressing down once in a while! And thank heaven Tom listened to me!

We kept our Bonds—and bought more and more of 'em! First thing we knew, we had enough so we began feeling secure. That gave Tom confidence—helped him get ahead. And this year, enough bonds matured to make our dreams come true!

TOM'S A SUCCESS—yet he might have failed if I hadn't spoken. And, of course, he's forgotten. I wouldn't dream of reminding him—it's a secret between us girls.

MORAL: Think of your future—hang on to your bonds! And keep on buying more!

WAR BONDS...

to have and to hold!
