Council Wars On Gambling Devices

In the matter of routine business, bills amounting to $800.82 were paid. The street committee reported that a new plow at a cost of $312 and a new ash spreader at a cost of $120 have been ordered from the Ross Company with delivery promised in 60 to 90 days. The committee also reported that Louis Cohen & Sons had offered $50 for the old road roller for scrap. Street Commissioner Ralph Eipper announced that Orchard street will be the first street to be oiled on the Borough's street improvement program. Council authorized oiling and surfacing of 200 feet on King street which was hard surfaced by William Williams of Norton avenue at his own expense.

James Beseker, secretary, was instructed to notify owners of two Main street properties to have sidewalks repaired, and another to have a guard rail installed along the walk over Toby's Creek or Council will have the work done and bill them for repairs.

There was considerable discussion of the elimination of parking along the Harvey's Lake Highway in the vicinity of Kuehn's Drug Store and Hislop's Economy Market, but no action was taken, except to have parking lines painted there.

Secretary Beseker read a letter from Back Mountain Memorial Library Association advising Council that renovations had been completed to the library building and inviting Council to hold its meetings there. There was considerable dis-ussion of the library as a community institution and Council decided to visit the library after adjournment and see the room which had been prepared for its use. Councilman Warden Kunkle informed the group that Kingston Borough has a similar arrangement with Hoyt library and pays $15,000 a year toward library maintenance. Solicitor Burt Lewis said Plymouth Borough under a like arrangement pays $2,000 annually toward library support. Council moved to pay $50 a month to Back Mountain Memorial Library until January 1, 1946, when a conference will be held between committees from Dallas Borough School Board and Council to discuss plans for adequate financial aid.

After visiting the library, Councilmen were impressed with the room prepared for their use and were enthusiastic in their approval of the transformation of the Ryman home into a modern library building.

Fire Destroys Maternity Barn

The modern maternity barn owned by Newell Wood at Harvey's Lake was destroyed by fire when struck by lightning last Friday night about 6 o'clock.

Damage is estimated at $30,000. The fire was discovered by George Harding, an employee, who went to call Mr. Wood when he saw smoke coming from an air ventilator. The bolt severed the telephone line connecting the farm with the central office and Mr. Harding drove his car to the fire house in six minutes to turn in the alarm. Other telephone lines were not affected.

The pump responded immediately but there was nothing that could be done to save the structure which apparently had been ignited at several points by the bolt. Modern machinery, stainless glass fixtures and tons of hay and grain were destroyed. All animals were saved.

Beginning on the easterly side of the road leading over the mountain to Jackson Township from Welsh Hill, and at a corner of land owned or occupied by Henry Gregory; thence along the said mountain road northerly 120 feet; thence extending to a point marked in the rear 341 feet; thence southerly 72 feet to a corner; thence to the mountain road 341 feet, to the place of beginning.

RID PULLETS of Large ROUNDWORMS

Large roundworms can upset normal digestion, lower egg production and increase feed cost per dozen eggs. Don't let this happen. Treat the pullets with Chek-R-Ton while they are still out on range.

Use PURINA CHEK-R-TON

- 1 KILLS 93.6% (Official Test)
- 2 SHOCKLESS — Does not upset birds even when laying.
- 3 ECONOMICAL — Costs about 2c per bird.

Get rid of large roundworms before housing the pullets. Feed Chek-R-Ton the last week before housing. Feed six pounds of Chek-R-Ton per 100 birds. Mix it with the amount of mash they will eat in seven days. Does not upset the birds.
