First Test Tube Calf

The two animals in the picture are owned by Hiram Stevens, Jennysville, Wyoming County.

The cow is a grade Holstein, born October 17, 1939. This animal is the oldest daughter of Piebe Gerben Creamelle, one of the sires used at NEPA Artificial Breeding Coop., Tunkhannock, Pa.

The heifer calf was the first test tube calf, or the first artificially bred offspring. It was born October 31, 1945, and was sired by King Arrow Aaggie. This sire is also used at NEPA Artificial Breeding Co-operative.

Lady, barn name of the above cow, has completed four lactations with a total of 48,463 lbs. milk and 1,789.9 lbs. butterfat. In her fifth lactation in the first three months of the D.H.I.A. report, she has pro-duced 214.9 lbs. butterfat and 5,296 lbs. milk. The average cow in the state produces about 200 pounds of butterfat in a year's time. By proper breeding, feeding, and care, this animal has equaled that production in three months' time.

Hiram Stevens and his son, Rich-ard, operate the farm. They have a herd of grade Holsteins. Mr. Stevens has made a practice of using purebred Holstein herd sires for the past ten generations and has developed a high producing herd of cattle.

Durbin Class Box Festival Is Success Socially and Financially

The Durbin Sunday School Class of the Methodist Church held a Valentine Box Social at the church social rooms on Tuesday evening. The social was a money making project of the class, the object being to purchase new lights for the Sanctuary.

Ladies packed lunches that were auctioned off by Mrs. Robert Bodycomb, assisted by Mrs. Lettie Cul-ver. The boxes sold from $1.50 to $3.00. Donations of $19.00, made a total of $72.00.

The highlight of the program was "Dallas most outstanding tenor," Nile M. White singing "Let me call you Sweetheart" to Dallas' most outstanding Sweetheart, Richard Disque. Margaret Brace, Marjorie Wood, Janet Garinger, Nelson Nelson and John Joseph told "Why They Never Got Married." Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shiber gave Edgar Guest's, "Father gives his Version and Mother tells her story."

The courtships of interest were told by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brace, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Varker, Mr. and Mrs. William Cairl, Mr. and Mrs. Robert VanHorn, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Payne and Mr. and Mrs. Ray-mond Kuhnert.

Mrs. Harold Payne rendered several solos accompanied by Mrs. James Huston. Mrs. Robert Van Horn, as "Post Lady" distributed mail to those present. Mrs. Edgar Brace read "Welsh Love Letters," Zel Garinger entertained with jokes. A quiz and games were en-joyed by those present.

Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ray-mond Elston, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brace, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cease, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. James Huston, Mr. and Mrs. William Cairl, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Nile M. Mrs. Florence Hartzell and Mrs. George Lewis are spending a few days in New York City.

Mrs. Hilda Anderson spent Thurs-day evening with Mrs. George Lewis.

Shavertown Teen-Age Center Is One Year Old

Shavertown to help organize and set up a Teen-Age Center. At this meeting a committee was appoint-ed to wait on the school board to petition them for the use of the abandoned grade school annex of the Shavertown school. At a meet-ing a week later an organization was effected, officers elected and a report filed on the prospects of ob-taining a suitable location for the Center. It was not until a month later, however, there was any as-surance of obtaining the desirable site, in the grade school annex and that work could be started on re-novating this abandoned building.

Funds were solicited by the teen-age youth of the community from their parents and friends and a total of approximately $300 was raised by this means. Most of this money was spent in making the building habitable, installing water lines, toilet fixtures, wash basins, and in repairing and painting old furniture, which was donated by parents and friends. A separate power line had to be run to the building and separate service had formerly been run from the main grade school building.

Opened Last Easter

The Center was officially opened on the Wednesday after Easter, and the youth who had not helped with the arduous jobs of renovating the building, and their parents found, to their surprise, a delightful Cen-ter with ping-pong table, pool table, card table, snack-bar, dance floor, juke box and brightly colored chairs and tables.

A youth organization was per-fected, complete with constitution, by-laws, officers and committees. Membership cards were donated by the father of one of the members and approximately 140 members—teen-age boys and girls began to enjoy a clean, healthful recreation center in the heart of their own community, operated under their own rules; financed by their own efforts, and destined to succeed or fail by their own whims and de-sires. The fact that this Center is functioning successfully at the end of its first and perhaps most diffi-cult year, indicates that the youth of this community are interested in clean, healthful recreation if it is made available to them.

The Adult Committee and the officers have on a number of occa-sions left discouraged and at times have wondered if the results were worth the effort; what, with lack of funds to meet necessary bills, nu-merous parents unwilling to act as hosts and hostesses when called upon; refusal of the Community Welfare Federation to assist the project financially, and the specter of other nearby Youth Centers fold-ing up, apparently for the same rea-sons. This Adult Committee, how-ever, is made of sterner stuff and refused to admit defeat. Their ap-peals, locally, for assistance met with more favorable response; the Junior Women's Club is now op-erating the snack bar with one or more of their members on hand each evening the Center is open with the result that the snack bar is beginning to show a profit which together with income from the juke-box is paying for the light and heat.

The several women of the com-munity who have taken on the task of securing hosts and hostesses have done an exceptional job in securing adult supervision for the Center on the evenings when it is open; their job has not been made as easy as it might have been because many parents seem to feel that the re-sponsibility for operating the Cen-ter is not theirs, but is the job of the Adult Committee or anyone else that will do it. Nevertheless, the job has been done and it is the feeling of those responsible that more and more of the parents are beginning to realize that they can and should assume this little duty one evening every several months. There are over one hundred fam-ilies represented in the member-ship of the Shavertown Tee-Age Center; two couples are needed to provide adequate supervision on the evenings the Center is open, and if every mother and father would co-operate by taking their turn they would be called upon once in five months or approximately twice a year.

Install $1,000 Improvements Last fall with the coming of cold weather a heating plant was in-stalled at a cost of $600 to keep the Center comfortable. This was the second and last major expendi-ture needed to make the Center a complete and adequate recreation center for the youth of this com-munity. The total investment in the Center, including the installa-tion of water and toilet facilities, recreation facilities including a full size pool table, two full size ping-pong tables, snack-bar, new card tables, juke-box, well sanded and waxed dance floor, small pool table, and magazine rack had cost the community less than $1,000. Not-withstanding this small expenditure

Navy Veteran Is Appointed

Lt. Norbeck To Assist Farm Agent Hutchison

Luzerne County Agricultural and Extension Association has announc-ed the appointment of Curtis C. Norbeck as full time assistant to county agent James Hutchison.

Mr. Norbeck, whose home is at Sugar Grove, Warren County, was born and reared on a large dairy and poultry farm. The farm also produces 500 gallons of Maple syrup annually.

He graduated from Pennsylvania State College school of Dairy Hus-bandry in the spring of 1943 and since his graduation has been a lieutenant, junior grade, with the U. S. Navy until his discharge on January 3. He is still a member of the Naval Reserve.

While in service he acted as lia-son officer between the Navy and the Army and Marine Corps. He took part in the Normandy invasion with the First Army Division and was wounded during that engage-ment. Later he served with the Sixth Marine Division on Okinawa and directed Naval gunfire against many of the Jap big guns that guarded the airport there. He was in the first group to land with the Fourth Marine Division on Japan. Thence he was sent to China with the Headquarters unit of the Sixth Marine Division. He saw active duty for thirty months.

Mr. Norbeck is married and has a daughter nineteen months of age. His wife is living in Harrisburg with her parents until they can find a home here.

by the Adult Committee in setting up a recreation center which is pro-viding clean sanitary recreational facilities for more than 140 teen-age youth of the community, they find themselves faced with a debt of about $350 which must be met or financed at this time. Many of the parents and friends of the Center met the plea for funds for this project in a most generous manner; some promised but never paid while others, all too many, just ignored the plea. It would certainly make the job of those responsible for what success has been achieved much easier if those of the parents and friends who have not contrib-uted to date would dig down and come up with a few dollars to as-sure the continued success of this worthy undertaking.

Your presence at the meeting on Sunday afternoon; your participa-tion in the election of officers for the next year; your ideas and sug-gestions for improving the Center, and your active support of the of-ficers and committee by taking your place when called upon to help, will assure Shavertown of the best Youth Center possible.

Legion To Hear Insurance Talk

Lt. George Turn Will Be Speaker

George Turn, former lieutenant in the insurance department of the Navy and now member of the Naval Reserve, has been invited by Commander Frank Ferry to speak on government insurance at the meeting of Daddow-Isaacs Post American Legion next Wednesday night in Back Mountain Memorial Library.

Commander Ferry invites all veterans whether members of the Legion or not to attend the meeting and present any questions they may have on veteran's insurance to Mr. Turn.

There will also be a discussion of the Legion's plans for organizing a baseball team this spring and further discussion on the selection of a lot for a new Legion Home. The Legion now has 106 members.

GAY-MURRAY "STORE TALK"

Watch us for Govern-ment surplus items, in the near future. We can't tell you what kind, how much or how many yet, but we can assure you that you'll do well to see them.

Power log saws are here! Come in and see them.

Here's one! Armstrong Die Sets for threading ½ in. to 1 in. pipe. Every farm could use one, and they're a bargain at $9.00. A. S. Avery at Mill City is already a customer.

Art says: $7.95 buys a slick fluorescent lighting fixture for your kitchen. You know why they're pop-ular: More and better light for the same amount of cur-rent—and any one can have them. Who's next?

If you want to see a beau-tiful black eye, see Mrs. Anwy! she says she got it while splitting wood, BUT we are all skeptical; besides see the teapots, can openers and pottery just arrived in her department.

There's no end to the ef-fect of this steel strike on farm supplies, but we still have a stock of steel posts, fencing, turkey wire, and other items. W. F. Wil-marth of Kingsley bought his supply. How about yours?
