TEXAS GREET'S 'ADOPTED' ORPHAN

Expert Thinks Nothing Can Prevent Strikes

By Roger Babson

Babson Park, Fla.—Having served in Washington as Assistant Secretary of Labor during World War I and later as Director-General of Information and Education, many letters are coming to me asking as to what can be done to prevent strikes. I am replying "Nothing can prevent strikes, but Congress can do something to make them less serious." Upon referring to certain notes which I made at the close of World War I, I find the following conclusions. They are 100 per cent equally true today at the close of World War II.

Compulsory Arbitration

Compulsory arbitration, except in the case of railroads, public utilities and other monopolistic enterprises, is both impractical and unjust. To talk compulsory arbitration for competitive industry is foolish. It, however, is practical in the case of non-competitive and monopolistic enterprises. Honest collective bargaining should be encouraged in all cases; but it must be on the basis of supply and demand for labor in a free and non-controlled market. But even this leads to a discussion of the justice of inheritance and whether we can have truly "free-enterprise" along with the inheritance of property.

Voluntary Mediation Boards should materially be strengthened and their use encouraged. These boards should consist of three prominent men all of whom have the public's respect—one selected by the Unions, one by the Companies and one by them jointly. These men should be given sufficient funds to secure all necessary information within a reasonable time and both sides should agree in advance to accept their decisions as final. It may be possible to have Union-Company agreements for "cooling off" periods during the limited time that these Mediation Boards are reaching a decision.

Same Rules Should Apply To All

Both corporations and unions should equally be subject to the same anti-trust laws and the same corporation laws which have come to be recognized as standard practices. In this connection, both labor and management should have equal right to press their views to one another and to the public. Both the unions and companies should gradually consolidate their operations so that the industry as a whole will be negotiating rather than independent companies. This is the English custom and should be adopted in the United States.

It is a mistake for President Truman to get mixed up either with rates of wages or prices of goods. As to inflation,—following World War I, we suffered from inflation but very little was done to prevent it. We have taken a great step forward in these past twenty years in recognizing both the advantages and dangers of inflation. Too much inflation should be fought like a prairie fire; but some inflation now must be necessary in view of our tremendous war debt. Certainly, wages and prices should be considered by the same Mediation Boards if prices are to be fixed for more than a short, temporary period.

Corporation Officials VS Labor Leaders

Letters are coming to me asking if the corporations have as good leadership as the big unions? Many investors feel that too many corporation officials have inherited their jobs, while most union leaders have fought their way to the top through sheer ability. These investors would not object to paying large salaries to the heads of their companies provided they have the needed ability. Too many stockholders now seem to be losing faith in the ability of these company officials whom they mechanically reelect every year by blindly signing absentee proxies.

It is surely up to the stockholders of corporations to get as loyal and able leaders as the union membership gets. Moreover, stockholders must some day insist that their directors and officials get results for them in the form of larger dividends when, as and if the labor leaders get more for their union membership. Stockholders will some day insist upon annual physical examinations and audits concerning the health of company directors and officials the same as they now have annual audits.

Poultry and Dairy Feeds

WE DON'T usually get excited much.

But honestly, the feed products the Double-Diamond people are turning out at their new model mill are something to talk about.

Brand new, scientific equipment—the most modern and efficient production methods in the northeast—are paying off lots of poultry and cattle raisers with improved, high quality protein and high vitamin feeds that help put more profits in feeding.

Just like Double-Diamond's field service, like the Tell-a-tag system of accurate feed selection, all these extras come in every bag at no extra cost.

It will pay you to come in our store and get the improved Double-Diamond poultry and dairy feeds—with 35 years of "know how" behind them!
