Notes on the Show

By Mary Burnside

It was a fine day for the Third Annual Back Mountain Horse Show. The sun was hot, but a fresh breeze kept the spectators comfortable. Clear weather and high visibility set off the really magnificent view of rolling hills and farmland—so typical of the Back Mountain region. The cooperative weather-man set the key-note for a well-run show. Chairman Howard L. Hendricks was well pleased with the smoothness of the operation and the Mrs. Paul Parrish and the hostess. Hendricks was well pleased with the fine spirit of cooperation among the officials and workers responsible. A well-satisfied winner was Dick Ide, who took third place in the Hostess To Ladies Horsemanship class with his Little Sir Echo. Dick has owned the horse
