FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

By Larry
Dallas Township

Five candidates were on hand at Dallas Township to greet mentors Dolbear and Rosser, Monday afternoon; but the slim turnout didn't seem to dim the spirits of the pair. Many potential players, they explained, are working at summer jobs and will be out for the team as soon as school starts. Others, who live a considerable distance from the school, are waiting for bus transportation before reporting. And last, but not least, it was not a representative day.

Turnouts have been poor, averaging less than a full team since practice began last Wednesday. Outlook for the future, while somewhat better, is still not too good. Only a few upper classmen are expected from the Franklin Township consolidation and new recruits from lower grades at Dallas are few.

Barring improbable changes when enrollment at the school is completed, there will be few reserves on the bench during the season. But don't sell the team short. Operating under similar circumstances last season it nevertheless turned in a creditable record.

Lehman Township

The lure of teaching at his Alma Mater plus the opportunity to stay home proved more attractive to Tony Marchakitus than a lucrative offer in the Golden state of Florida. Tony was signed to teach and coach at a high school in the southern state when he received the summons to perform similar duties at Lehman.

Star center and line backer on the 1940 championship team at Lehman, Tony went to East Stroudsburg State Teachers' College on the strength of his playing. A knee injury kept him from seeing much action with the teacher's squad but didn't interrupt his studies, as did the war. Tony spent four years with the Navy and Marines as a medical corpsman and received his discharge in 1946. He finished his schooling in January of this year but stayed at the college for post-graduate courses.

We phoned him Saturday at the Poconos, where he's spending what's left of the summer, to get his comment on his new job. A winner himself Tony expects to make winners at Lehman. Twelve veterans are expected back and Tony says he'll have the material to produce a winning team. "And when we don't win," he added, "we'll put up a good fight."

We asked if he planned using a T-formation, as several schools have indicated they might do, but Tony said he'll stick to a single wing with possibly one or two T plays. When it comes to stopping opponents using the T his remark was a simple "we'll be ready for them."

Chief rival for Lehman in the past has been Dallas Township but that may be changed. Ted Martz, now coaching the Kingston Township squad, was a schoolmate of Tony's, which will probably lead to some personal rivalry. Tony's attitude is that the Katics will be one team the Scoties must beat. With less than five veterans for Coach Martz to count on, the feat may be possible.

Kingston Township

An enthusiastic Kingston Township squad, getting real field practice before either of its Back Mountain opponents, has been hampered by uncooperative weather. Rain has halted practice on several occasions and a blazing sun has been a bother on other days.

Five men, from a field of approximately twenty, are veterans of preceding campaigns. With such stalwarts as Cairns, Lutsey and Joe Youngblood returning the backfield will be a strong item. Prospects for the line, plugged with much green, light material, are not as bright.

Coach Martz was too cagey to make any binding remarks when advised of the attitude at Lehman. Working harder than many of his charges, he came to a brief halt to make the sweeping statement, "May the best team win." Then, glancing at the broiling sun overhead, he remarked, "But my boys have been asking for calisthenics in this kind of weather." If the confidence of the opposing coaches can be transmitted to the teams, the KT-Lehman fray already shapes up as the hottest game in the loop.

Elwood Perry Is With Famed First Cavalry

With the Eighth Army in Tokyo, Japan—Private First Class Elwood W. Perry, son of Mr. Joseph W. Perry, Main street, Dallas, is now serving his country as a trooper in the fighting First Cavalry Division. Embarking in December of last year for Japan, Perry was assigned upon arrival to the Cannon Troop of the famed Seventh Cavalry Regiment in the heart of Tokyo. This Regiment won everlasting fame under the command of General Custer in the Indian Wars of 1807's.

Perry's work is centered around the 105 mm. self-propelled howitzer. This weapon supplies the artillery for the regiment in actual combat, and enables the troops to move more easily and faster. The result of this modern, mechanized warfare is seen in the Division winning the race to Tokyo, being first in Manila and First in Tokyo.

Before entering the service, Pfc. Perry was a truck driver with Connie Hislop.

To Serve On Jury

Three Back Mountain residents were among 160 persons picked to serve for two weeks of Luzerne County Criminal Court beginning September 15.

Drawn for duty the week of September 15 was Morris M. Lloyd, clerk, Kingston Township. Picked to serve for the week of September 22 were Mrs. Lena D. Appleton, housewife, and Mrs. Madeline Baur, clerk, both of Kingston Township.
