

FARM TOPICS

Control Grain Pests—Much of the grain needed for shipment abroad could be provided from savings made in the control of rats, grain weevils, and other insect pests. J. O. Pepper, extension entomologist of the Pennsylvania State College, urges fumigation of grain storages and poisoning of rats.

Clover Seed Scarce—Because red clover seed is scarce, J. B. R. Dickey, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State College, asks that all possible crops of such seed in Pennsylvania be harvested. These may include late-cut clover hay, either first or second cutting, containing enough seed to pay for threshing it.

Store Machinery—Proper care and good storage of farm machinery during the winter will prolong the life and insure better service of such equipment. Drain all parts that contain water to prevent damage from freezing.

Order Ornamentals—Early ordering of desired shrubs and other plants for Spring planting is recommended. Many heavily demanded kinds already are in short supply.

Provide Comfort—Best use of scarce feed can be made on the poultry farm if the layers are kept as comfortable as possible, 3½ to 4 square feet of floor space per layer.

Contest Planned—A log sawing contest will be staged Thursday night, January 15, at the 1948 Pennsylvania Farm Show in Harrisburg. Each county can send two teams of two men each. Entry must be filed with the Farm Show Director by December 20, accompanied by a $2 fee for each team entered.

Control Sheep Ticks—Sheep can go through the winter without ticks if they are treated with DDT before cold weather comes. Get detailed information from the county agricultural office.

Apply Mulches—Newly planted ornamentals can be mulched after the ground is thoroughly frozen.

Fall Milk Needed—Level off milk production by breeding more cows and heifers to freshen in the fall.

On Cruise

Howard W. Garbutt, seaman, first class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Garbutt of Center Hill Road, Route 2, Dallas, is serving aboard the hospital ship USS Consolation, on 2nd Task Fleet maneuvers in the Bermuda and Middle Atlantic seaboard areas.

Served On Cruiser

Serving as Reserve Executive Officer aboard the heavy cruiser USS Rochester during a recent two week Naval reserve training cruise to San Juan, P.R., was Cmdr. Michael Kevolic, USNR, husband of Mrs.

Mary Kevolic of Dallas.

The cruise, in which 477 reserve enlisted men and 33 reserve officers participated, was designed to refresh the reservists' previous training and to acquaint them with the latest developments in Naval equipment.

Plan Bazaar and Supper

Dorcas Bible Class will hold a bazaar and the Ladies Auxiliary of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will serve a cafeteria style baked ham supper, Wednesday night, December 3, at Shavertown Fire Hall.
