Byron Kitchen Needs New Hat

Lutherans Defeat Hontz's All-Stars

(Contributed)

"BY" Kitchen needs a new hat since his St. Paul's Lutheran Church soft ball team defeated Tom Hontz's All Stars on Monday night. "By" showed up with only half his team but the All Stars being good sports loaned him two of their star players.

Larry Newhart and Ralph Heal both had a home run with three men on bases, and Junior Lozo did the same thing trying very hard to hold his place on the Lutheran team as his playing has been below standard for some time.

"By" sure gets a break from the umpires. Dale Zimmerman, who started for the Lutherans, was knocked out of the box in the second inning after allowing eight runs and was replaced by the only one and invincible Charlie Gosart who pitched superb ball for the balance of the game.

The All Stars were handicapped for a pitcher, Tom Hontz had a sore arm, the result of a pitcher's dual last week with Willard Lozo Sr., and had to let Beaver Boyce pitch who wasn't in condition. Taking all things into consideration, the Lutherans were lucky to come out ahead as the score was 21-20.

Next time these two teams play there will be a different story. "By" Kitchen could use a good left fielder for the play off.

Shavertown is developing a good community spirit for softball. There were about 150 fans at Monday night's game. Even the women are talking about getting two teams to play soft ball. Leave your glasses home.

Shavertown has some promising young players in the following youngsters, Bill Oney, who hits once in awhile, Jimmy Owens who is coached by his illustrious bowling father; Conor Brothers who cover a lot of ground; Bobby Edwards who is a coming star, and white head Burnaford who knocks them over the fence; Speedy Lohman, Never-Miss Bolton, Pepsi-Cola Spaciano, and Zib Sutton never miss catcher, last but not least is Gassie Purvin. The next gesture game is tonight, August 13th, High School ground between Gosart's Economizers and Hontz's Fairlawners. Batteries will be Hontz and Earl Willard Lozo Sr. and Willard Lozo Jr.

Approximately one-half the land area of Pennsylvania is forested.

Mrs. Witter Won Nineteen Prizes At Last Year's Alderson Show

The person who won nineteen prizes at the 1947 flower show of Alderson Methodist Church is not worrying about the competition of Mrs. G. Earl Smith's niches, or Frank Jackson's pinekecks which will be exhibited at the Eighth Annual Flower Show, Wednesday, August 25 at the Lake Township High School.

She is Mrs. Morrison Witter, of Alderson.

Mrs. Witter displayed just nineteen different flower arrangements last year and walked off with that many ribbons.

She told a Post reporter yesterday that she is happy about the added interest shown this year in the annual event sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service and will do her bit, as she has in previous years, to make this season's show a success.

Many members of the Alderson Methodist Church and summer visitors have admired her decorations each Sunday in the church, without always knowing that it was she who filled the pulpit with flowers.

"Mrs. Witter can pick a few queen Ann's lace, a couple of blades of long grass and a daisy or two from the fields and make up a bouquet so artistically that it inspires our minister and directs our congregation into reverent channels," stated Mrs. Gilbert Carpenter, chairman of this year's exhibit, "so one can imagine what she can do with cultivated flowers."

"It has gotten so lately," continued Mrs. Carpenter, "that when any one wishes to donate some of their flowers for church decorations, they generally hand them over to Mrs. Witter knowing they will be displayed to their best advantage."

"Mrs. Witter hasn't thought of any special arrangement as yet this year for the flower show, but, as in the past, just one of her flowers placed in a milk bottle may take a first prize," added the chairman.

The Rev. James Hibert, pastor of the church, announces there will be twenty-eight different classifications open for exhibitors and each class will contain dozens of species, so all garden amateurs will have a wide variety to choose from in selecting their favorite display.

The show will open from three to ten P. M., but all exhibitors must have their arrangements placed on the tables prior to noon the day of the display.

Northeastern Guernsey Breeders To Be Guests At Sterling Farms

Guernsey Breeders of Northeastern Pennsylvania will hold their annual summer picnic on Tuesday at A. J. Sordoni's Sterling Farms, Alderson.

The program will start at 11 o'clock with inspection of the herd and farm. This has been the leading herd in Luzerne County Cow Testing Association. With an average of 72 cows milked last year, herd average in Butterfat was 467 pounds. The farm is devoted entirely to grassland farming, in that grass silage, hay and pasture crops are the only crops.

There will be a basket picnic at noon followed by an interesting program. Speakers will be William H. Luzzi, Field Secretary and John F. Blyholder Jr., Northeastern Fieldman, both of the Pennsylvania Guernsey Breeders' Association. There will also be a half-hour devoted to panel discussion of problems relating to dairying. There will be cattle judging contests for both young and old.

All dairymen are invited to attend whether they are Guernsey breeders or not, and Grade animal herd owners are especially invited. In case of rain, ample provision has been made to hold the picnic under cover, announces Ellis Swingle, Superintendent of Sterling Farms.
