Hemmelright Award Winner Announced

Dallas Rotary Club, meeting last night at Irem Temple Country Club, enjoyed a fine program on Fire Prevention Week, under the direction of James Besecker. Prior to the program, a business meeting was held and committee reports given. Charles W. Lee, club president, presided.

It was announced that the Frank L. Hemmelright Memorial Award will be presented to Howard W. Risley, editor and publisher of The Dallas Post, at a joint meeting of all Back Mountain organizations next Thursday evening, October 14, at Irem Temple Country Club.

Presentation will be made by Rev. Frederick W. Reinfort, general chairman of the Memorial Committee.

Dr. Gallizzi has been recognized as an authority on this subject, and he held his audience spellbound as he marshalled fact after fact which gave every member a clear picture of the political problems confronting the world's statesmen today.

Truckville Man Is Crack Shot

Pesevento Started Only Last November

A man who never shot a gun until last November is making a name for himself throughout Pennsylvania as a crack shot. He is Hub Pesevento, Truckville merchant.

Last Saturday at the Roxborough Gun Club clay target shoot in Philadelphia, Pesevento from the 20-yard line in a 25-bird handicap broke straight carrying off the honors. He scored 95 in the 100-bird event. The field of 80 shooters included some of the best in the East.

Earlier at Freeland, Hub scored 48 out of 50 at trap shooting and 24 out of 25 at the 22-yard handicap. At Irem Gun Club he hit a score of 25-straight at the 20-yard handicap and was high for the day. In previous contests he has tied for high man but "just couldn't get the extra bird" to move out ahead.
